Nancy Wynne Tells of Many Debutantes Who Will Be Introduced Next Season—She Hears of New Series of Dances This Year

BEFORE this year's parties are even half over we begin to hear what girls are coming out next year. Of course, many have not yet definitely decided, and it seems to me that this year more girls than ever are going to college, whether for a liberal education or a wish for "something to do" remains to be seen.

Louise Dixon, Annette Wright, Alice Salter, Bonnie McHenry, Martha Jennings, and many more have gone to college this year, to be home for parties only in the holidays instead of having a whole season. Next winter, however, not many will follow their example.

Helen Clayton, Mollie Baird and Mary Stout will be a few of the very attractive Main Line debutantes. Lillian Stewart, the Norris twins, Louise and Gina; Helen Allen and Joy Dreyer, will, I think, be some of those who seem as if all Chestnut Hill were coming out next winter, and you will agree with me when you hear the list.

THE Adolph Rosenbergs will give one of those delightful parties at the home of Mrs. W. C. Brown on January 25 for Ellen McMichael, who, you know, the debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. McMichael, and Mrs. E. M. McMichael, who, you know, the debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. McMichael.

HAVE you heard about the new series of dances which are to be given at the home of Mrs. W. C. Brown on January 25 for Ellen McMichael, who, you know, the debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. McMichael.

JOHNNIE is not very obedient. Therefore, it is necessary to make him understand by the tone of voice that he is to obey. When he is disobedient, his mother called him to come in from play to no avail. Then father called. And when the boys protested at his leaving the game and begged him to stay, Johnny was heard to tell them: "Save your flows, I can't not when dad calls in that voice; that means you better had."

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES An interesting June wedding will be that of Miss Helen Volz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Volz, of 1412 Pine street and Mr. and Mrs. William E. Henschel, of Belmont road, Germantown, which will be solemnized at the summer home of the bride's parents, 421 Milford, Pottsville, Pa.

MRS. BROOKS MAY WED GEN. M'ARTHUR

Daughter of Mrs. E. T. Stotesbury and Officer Are Reported Engaged

The engagement of Mrs. Louise Cromwell Brooks, daughter of Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury, and Brigadier-General Douglas MacArthur, U. S. A., is rumored in society circles in Washington.

General MacArthur is superintendent of the United States Military Academy at West Point. Mrs. Brooks was formerly the wife of Walter D. Brooks, Jr., of Baltimore and Green Spring Valley. She obtained a divorce in 1919.

On Tuesday of this week a laconic War Department bulletin announced that General MacArthur had been granted two months' leave with pay to go abroad.

MATERIALISM IS CALLED

RATER, Evangelist, Urges People to Change Ideals

Paul Rader, evangelist, speaking today at the second session of a four-day conference of the fifth Winter Vicarious Light Conference, criticized those who uphold materialistic things in life and fail to appreciate the workings of God.

Several hundred laymen and clergymen from all parts of the country are here for the meetings.
