

ECONOMY BIG AIM
IN 1922 CARS AT SHOW

Continued Trend Toward Comfort Also Evidence in Exhibit of 1922 Cars

MORE ACCESSORIES ADDED

While few innovations of a revolutionary nature mark the exhibits at the Twenty-fifth Annual Automobile Show of Philadelphia, which opened at the Commercial Museum, Saturday night, and continues all this week, there is a wealth of minor improvements to indicate the trend of automobile design for the coming year.

Body designs continue in their low, streamline effects, while the general tendency in motor construction runs along lines of greater lightness and flexibility, aiming toward economy of operation.

It is to be noted, also, that more and more makers are awakening to the undeniable truth that it is often the accessories that sell the car. This year's stock models, therefore, are notable for the completeness of their equipment, which makes them ready for almost every article now offered on the market for the additional comfort and convenience of motorists.

The show itself has been the occasion of much ingenuity on the part of the exhibitors in the display of their products. One chassis, in particular, is cleverly arranged, the entire motor being so laid open to the public view that its internal parts are revealed in full operation, the whole being inclosed in a glass case corresponding in shape to the water-jacket, and illuminated by small electric lights.

Some Saved in Hall
Others employ airbrakes on the floor to show the operation of the crankshaft in actual service, while others have laid bare the most recent of the engine by the simple expedient of sawing the thing in half.

One innovation in coach work is worthy of particular mention, not so much on account of the mechanical principle involved as because of its peculiar significance at the moment. It is the use of a secret wire cabinet incorporated in the interior coach work of one of the more expensive models. To be sure, it is a rather simple thing, giving no hint of its possibilities, but to the practical touch it springs open, revealing a small recess which holds a number of small articles, such as a pocket watch, a pen, a comb, and a handkerchief.

The same maker exhibits a roadster which has a disappearing top arrangement whereby the entire top may be lowered down into the body, a portion of which is then fastened down over the office, leaving the lines of the car unbroken.

This same idea has been carried out by another maker with less success, the opening being covered by a tarpaulin device fastened flush upon the body.

Disappearing Side Seat

Another clever innovation in body design is a disappearing side seat, which has been brought out by the maker of the "disappearing" top. This seat, which is provided with comfortable side arm, folds into the side of the car when not in use. It is held in place by a spring which is hidden in the door, and a section of the running board which is hinged to the side of the car is tilted up at the same time to form a foot-rest. The whole constitutes a very comfortable and safe seat.

A very interesting one, being shown upon the higher-priced cars. This "trip" seat, as the body-makers call it, is a triumph of engineering. The seat is hinged to the side of the car and is raised by a lever which is located in the open car has been converted into an open car with straight back, instead of the hinged back of the closed car.

Perhaps the most unusual and important of the new features is a cold weather starting device designed by one of the makers as standard equipment.

Gasoline Vaporizer
By means of this arrangement, which is operated by a control knob, a vaporizer is placed in the fuel line, which vaporizes the gasoline. This vapor, which ignites instantly, ignites the gasoline in the cylinder, which is set in motion by a lever which is located in the open car has been converted into an open car with straight back, instead of the hinged back of the closed car.

Another mechanical improvement shown upon the higher-priced cars is an attachment to the cooling system whereby the steam which often gathers in the rear of the water jacket is prevented from returning to the radiator, thus preventing the water from being cooled by the radiator.

A motor designed to utilize to fullest advantage the pressure of the air in the tires, is also shown. This motor is an intake manifold as designed to trap and draw off all the unvaporized fuel, which is then sent to the heat exchanger, a thoroughly combustible gas.

Double cantilever springs provide a novelty in suspension on one of the higher-priced cars of middle price. The theory is that each spring is left entirely free, preventing excessive rebound in either direction, and at the same time adding to the riding qualities.

New Window Type
Split side windows on one of the expensive makes of limousine, are so arranged that the window may be left entirely open, instead of only partly so, as was formerly necessitated by the interference of the rear wheels with the descent of the glass within the panel.

Several of the makes exhibited show a novelty in steering which with the spokes made of wood instead of metal, the steering wheel is made of a material which drives without gloves.

Disc wheels have been adopted by several manufacturers, and the trend seems to be toward a general adoption of the under-seat air spring, as a means of securing a smooth ride.

The "footprint" accelerator, or foot throttle, also seems to be gaining favor, as it provides a broad, comfortable base upon which the foot may rest, instead of the small button now in general use.

Individual seats, instead of the old continuous footboard on each side, have become standard equipment with many manufacturers, and the trend seems to be toward a general adoption of the under-seat air spring, as a means of securing a smooth ride.

The "footprint" accelerator, or foot throttle, also seems to be gaining favor, as it provides a broad, comfortable base upon which the foot may rest, instead of the small button now in general use.

Individual seats, instead of the old continuous footboard on each side, have become standard equipment with many manufacturers, and the trend seems to be toward a general adoption of the under-seat air spring, as a means of securing a smooth ride.

The "footprint" accelerator, or foot throttle, also seems to be gaining favor, as it provides a broad, comfortable base upon which the foot may rest, instead of the small button now in general use.

New Pastor

Who will be installed as pastor of the North Presbyterian Church, Broad street and Allegheny avenue, tomorrow night.

The Rev. Edward B. Shaw, who will be installed as pastor of the North Presbyterian Church, Broad street and Allegheny avenue, tomorrow night.

PUBLIC AND CITY COUNCIL CO-OPERATE, SAYS WEGLEIN

Year of Accomplishments Set Forth in Annual Report

A spirit of co-operation between Council and the City Administration is the keynote of the annual report of the City Council, which was presented to the City Council last night.

Mr. Weglein, president of the Council, in his annual report which will be submitted to Council Thursday.

Mr. Weglein has made an admirable record for the year 1921. Mr. Weglein said in summarizing up his accomplishments.

As an evidence of harmony with the Administration, he pointed to the fact that the Council has approved the new City Charter, which was passed by the City Council last night.

Mr. Weglein emphasized the willingness of Council to do all in its power to make the new City Charter a success. He said that the Council should be a permanent character.

The Council president predicted efforts will be made in the 1922 Legislative Session to secure a permanent City Charter, which will be submitted to the City Council last night.

Mr. Weglein said it was hoped the "unhappy" question now pending would be straightened out. The gas problem, which has been a source of trouble for some time, is being handled by the Council.

Mr. Weglein said it was hoped the "unhappy" question now pending would be straightened out. The gas problem, which has been a source of trouble for some time, is being handled by the Council.

Mr. Weglein said it was hoped the "unhappy" question now pending would be straightened out. The gas problem, which has been a source of trouble for some time, is being handled by the Council.

KILLS HUSBAND WITH AX

Wilmington Woman Slays Man Who Threatened Her Life

Wilmington, Del., Jan. 15.—Desperate, she told the jury, because he had threatened to kill her, Mrs. Mary E. Harrison, thirty-eight years old, seized an ax yesterday morning and killed her husband while he lay asleep on a couch.

Mrs. Harrison said her husband had threatened to kill her several times in the past few days, and she was so frightened that she could not sleep.

Mrs. Harrison said she was so frightened that she could not sleep. She was so frightened that she could not sleep.

Mrs. Harrison said she was so frightened that she could not sleep. She was so frightened that she could not sleep.

Mrs. Harrison said she was so frightened that she could not sleep. She was so frightened that she could not sleep.

Mrs. Harrison said she was so frightened that she could not sleep. She was so frightened that she could not sleep.

Mrs. Harrison said she was so frightened that she could not sleep. She was so frightened that she could not sleep.

Mrs. Harrison said she was so frightened that she could not sleep. She was so frightened that she could not sleep.

Mrs. Harrison said she was so frightened that she could not sleep. She was so frightened that she could not sleep.

Mrs. Harrison said she was so frightened that she could not sleep. She was so frightened that she could not sleep.

Mrs. Harrison said she was so frightened that she could not sleep. She was so frightened that she could not sleep.

Mrs. Harrison said she was so frightened that she could not sleep. She was so frightened that she could not sleep.

Mrs. Harrison said she was so frightened that she could not sleep. She was so frightened that she could not sleep.

Mrs. Harrison said she was so frightened that she could not sleep. She was so frightened that she could not sleep.

Mrs. Harrison said she was so frightened that she could not sleep. She was so frightened that she could not sleep.

Mrs. Harrison said she was so frightened that she could not sleep. She was so frightened that she could not sleep.

Mrs. Harrison said she was so frightened that she could not sleep. She was so frightened that she could not sleep.

SCOTCH MILLERS
HERE SEE BIG BOOM

"Pretty Good Sign," Says One, "When 17 Spent $5000 Each to Come to U. S."

ARE GUESTS AT LUNCHEON

"It's a pretty good sign of better times in Great Britain when seventeen Scotchmen will spend $5000 apiece for a business trip to America," said W. Trow Munro, Scotch mill owner, today in discussing the mission of the Scottish Woolen Trade-Mark Association in this country.

Mr. Munro, a spokesman for the representatives of this Scotch organization, which represents millions in investment capital and half the wool output of Scotland.

The seventeen members of the delegation here for the two-fold purpose of cementing the tie of business friendship between their country and America, and of taking steps to prevent the substitution of bogus goods for genuine Scotch wools.

The Scotch manufacturers visited the Wanamaker store at 10:30 o'clock this morning, and at noon were received by Mayor Moore in his office at City Hall.

They were accompanied by the Hon. Gerald Campbell, British Consul General here. This afternoon they are visiting the Kearsney factory, and tonight will depart for New York.

Mr. Munro, a spokesman for the representatives of this Scotch organization, which represents millions in investment capital and half the wool output of Scotland.

The Scotch manufacturers visited the Wanamaker store at 10:30 o'clock this morning, and at noon were received by Mayor Moore in his office at City Hall.

They were accompanied by the Hon. Gerald Campbell, British Consul General here. This afternoon they are visiting the Kearsney factory, and tonight will depart for New York.

Mr. Munro, a spokesman for the representatives of this Scotch organization, which represents millions in investment capital and half the wool output of Scotland.

The Scotch manufacturers visited the Wanamaker store at 10:30 o'clock this morning, and at noon were received by Mayor Moore in his office at City Hall.

They were accompanied by the Hon. Gerald Campbell, British Consul General here. This afternoon they are visiting the Kearsney factory, and tonight will depart for New York.

Mr. Munro, a spokesman for the representatives of this Scotch organization, which represents millions in investment capital and half the wool output of Scotland.

The Scotch manufacturers visited the Wanamaker store at 10:30 o'clock this morning, and at noon were received by Mayor Moore in his office at City Hall.

They were accompanied by the Hon. Gerald Campbell, British Consul General here. This afternoon they are visiting the Kearsney factory, and tonight will depart for New York.

Mr. Munro, a spokesman for the representatives of this Scotch organization, which represents millions in investment capital and half the wool output of Scotland.

The Scotch manufacturers visited the Wanamaker store at 10:30 o'clock this morning, and at noon were received by Mayor Moore in his office at City Hall.

They were accompanied by the Hon. Gerald Campbell, British Consul General here. This afternoon they are visiting the Kearsney factory, and tonight will depart for New York.

Mr. Munro, a spokesman for the representatives of this Scotch organization, which represents millions in investment capital and half the wool output of Scotland.

The Scotch manufacturers visited the Wanamaker store at 10:30 o'clock this morning, and at noon were received by Mayor Moore in his office at City Hall.

They were accompanied by the Hon. Gerald Campbell, British Consul General here. This afternoon they are visiting the Kearsney factory, and tonight will depart for New York.

Mr. Munro, a spokesman for the representatives of this Scotch organization, which represents millions in investment capital and half the wool output of Scotland.

The Scotch manufacturers visited the Wanamaker store at 10:30 o'clock this morning, and at noon were received by Mayor Moore in his office at City Hall.

They were accompanied by the Hon. Gerald Campbell, British Consul General here. This afternoon they are visiting the Kearsney factory, and tonight will depart for New York.

Mr. Munro, a spokesman for the representatives of this Scotch organization, which represents millions in investment capital and half the wool output of Scotland.

The Scotch manufacturers visited the Wanamaker store at 10:30 o'clock this morning, and at noon were received by Mayor Moore in his office at City Hall.

They were accompanied by the Hon. Gerald Campbell, British Consul General here. This afternoon they are visiting the Kearsney factory, and tonight will depart for New York.

Mr. Munro, a spokesman for the representatives of this Scotch organization, which represents millions in investment capital and half the wool output of Scotland.

The Scotch manufacturers visited the Wanamaker store at 10:30 o'clock this morning, and at noon were received by Mayor Moore in his office at City Hall.

They were accompanied by the Hon. Gerald Campbell, British Consul General here. This afternoon they are visiting the Kearsney factory, and tonight will depart for New York.

Mr. Munro, a spokesman for the representatives of this Scotch organization, which represents millions in investment capital and half the wool output of Scotland.

INFANT ABANDONED IN HOTEL ROOM

The baby was first placed under the care of "Mother" Mary Gallagher (right), matron of the Fifteenth and Locust street police station, where it was taken Sunday morning after Patrolman John Clark (holding the baby) had been called.

The abandoned child is in the Philadelphia General Hospital.

The baby was first placed under the care of "Mother" Mary Gallagher (right), matron of the Fifteenth and Locust street police station, where it was taken Sunday morning after Patrolman John Clark (holding the baby) had been called.

GIVE DUBLIN CASTLE TO IRISH MINISTERS

Transfer to Provisional Government Formally Made by British Lord Lieutenant

AUXILIARY POLICE MUTINY LIKES HIS COLLEAGUES

By the Associated Press
Dublin, Jan. 15.—The governmental powers for Ireland, as vested in the British authorities at Dublin Castle, were turned over today to the provisional government of Ireland, an constituent of the Provisional Government.

The transfer was made by Viscount Fitzalan, the Lord Lieutenant, in the Privy Council chamber.

Special Cable Dispatch, Copyright, 1922
Dublin, Jan. 15.—Denunciation among the British auxiliary police now being denunciated in Dublin Castle.

The men, who are dissatisfied with the terms of disengagement, are understood to have refused to obey orders.

Dublin Castle officials visited Boggar, Hugh Barracks in an effort to restore order and discipline. Two hundred auxiliaries left en route for England last night.

The provisional government is composed of James Connolly, Patrick Hogan, Peadar Kirby, and Michael Collins. It is the intention of the provisional government to add men from the outside to its ranks.

The men, who are dissatisfied with the terms of disengagement, are understood to have refused to obey orders.

The provisional government is composed of James Connolly, Patrick Hogan, Peadar Kirby, and Michael Collins. It is the intention of the provisional government to add men from the outside to its ranks.

The men, who are dissatisfied with the terms of disengagement, are understood to have refused to obey orders.

The provisional government is composed of James Connolly, Patrick Hogan, Peadar Kirby, and Michael Collins. It is the intention of the provisional government to add men from the outside to its ranks.

The men, who are dissatisfied with the terms of disengagement, are understood to have refused to obey orders.

The provisional government is composed of James Connolly, Patrick Hogan, Peadar Kirby, and Michael Collins. It is the intention of the provisional government to add men from the outside to its ranks.

The men, who are dissatisfied with the terms of disengagement, are understood to have refused to obey orders.

The provisional government is composed of James Connolly, Patrick Hogan, Peadar Kirby, and Michael Collins. It is the intention of the provisional government to add men from the outside to its ranks.

The men, who are dissatisfied with the terms of disengagement, are understood to have refused to obey orders.

The provisional government is composed of James Connolly, Patrick Hogan, Peadar Kirby, and Michael Collins. It is the intention of the provisional government to add men from the outside to its ranks.

The men, who are dissatisfied with the terms of disengagement, are understood to have refused to obey orders.

The provisional government is composed of James Connolly, Patrick Hogan, Peadar Kirby, and Michael Collins. It is the intention of the provisional government to add men from the outside to its ranks.

The men, who are dissatisfied with the terms of disengagement, are understood to have refused to obey orders.

The provisional government is composed of James Connolly, Patrick Hogan, Peadar Kirby, and Michael Collins. It is the intention of the provisional government to add men from the outside to its ranks.

The men, who are dissatisfied with the terms of disengagement, are understood to have refused to obey orders.

The provisional government is composed of James Connolly, Patrick Hogan, Peadar Kirby, and Michael Collins. It is the intention of the provisional government to add men from the outside to its ranks.

The men, who are dissatisfied with the terms of disengagement, are understood to have refused to obey orders.

BOOZE CLEAN-UP
HERE IS PLANNED

City, State and U. S. Forces to Co-operate in Biggest Drive, It is Said

WARNING OF POISON RUM

Arrangements have been completed by prohibition agents for the greatest drive against bootleggers ever made in this city, it became known today.

Although preparations for new raids are not admitted, it is said city, State and national agents will cooperate in the campaign against all violators of the Eighteenth Amendment.

"For the first time in the history of Pennsylvania, the State of Pennsylvania is now under control," declared S. F. Ritter, Associate Director of Prohibition Enforcement in this State.

Mr. Ritter said that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control, and that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control.

Mr. Ritter said that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control, and that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control.

Mr. Ritter said that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control, and that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control.

Mr. Ritter said that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control, and that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control.

Mr. Ritter said that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control, and that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control.

Mr. Ritter said that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control, and that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control.

Mr. Ritter said that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control, and that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control.

Mr. Ritter said that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control, and that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control.

Mr. Ritter said that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control, and that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control.

Mr. Ritter said that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control, and that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control.

Mr. Ritter said that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control, and that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control.

Mr. Ritter said that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control, and that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control.

Mr. Ritter said that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control, and that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control.

Mr. Ritter said that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control, and that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control.

Mr. Ritter said that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control, and that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control.

Mr. Ritter said that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control, and that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control.

Mr. Ritter said that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control, and that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control.

Mr. Ritter said that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control, and that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control.

Mr. Ritter said that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control, and that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control.

Mr. Ritter said that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control, and that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control.

Mr. Ritter said that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control, and that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control.

Mr. Ritter said that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control, and that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control.

Mr. Ritter said that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control, and that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control.

Mr. Ritter said that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control, and that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control.

Mr. Ritter said that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control, and that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control.

Mr. Ritter said that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control, and that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control.

Mr. Ritter said that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control, and that the State of Pennsylvania is now under control.

Shotguns Best Crook Chasers, Says Cortelyou

Director Cortelyou, Director of Public Safety, commenting on crime in Philadelphia, said today:

"The bandit squad, the men armed with sawed-off shotguns for nightly touring of the city, has not yet had a chance to get its good work done. It is a week or so and watch hold-up men disappear from the city. A determined man behind a sawed-off shotgun does not look good to a crook and these detectives, no armed, know exactly what to do when a desperate situation confronts them. Other cities have tried it and have failed. We, too, will rid the city of nightbirds."

VETERANS ABUSED, HARDING IS TOLD

Treatment of Mentally Disabled Men Declared Disgrace to Nation

STATE ASYLUMS CRITICIZED

By the Associated Press
Washington, Jan. 15.—(By A. P.)—More than 5000 mentally disabled former soldiers are now placed in the State institutions as victims of such "gross neglect, indifference and profligacy" that it constitutes a "black blot" on the honor of the Nation.

The assertion was made today by the Disabled American Veterans of the World War in a memorial presented to President Harding, and immediate action by the Government, looking to the treatment of the victims in Federal institutions, is urged.

Of the 2500 mentally disabled placed in all the institutions of the State, of whom, it was said, physicians believe but a fraction are sane, the memorial asserted, is that the Government is receiving "medical treatment of any kind for his mental diseases, and curable cases are being kept in the State institutions."

The memorial also asserted that the Government is receiving "medical treatment of any kind for his mental diseases, and curable cases are being kept in the State institutions."

The memorial also asserted that the Government is receiving "medical treatment of any kind for his mental diseases, and curable cases are being kept in the State institutions."

The memorial also asserted that the Government is receiving "medical treatment of any kind for his mental diseases, and curable cases are being kept in the State institutions."

The memorial also asserted that the Government is receiving "medical treatment of any kind for his mental diseases, and curable cases are being kept in the State institutions."

The memorial also asserted that the Government is receiving "medical treatment of any kind for his mental diseases, and curable cases are being kept in the State institutions."

The memorial also asserted that the Government is receiving "medical treatment of any kind for his mental diseases, and curable cases are being kept in the State institutions."

The memorial also asserted that the Government is receiving "medical treatment of any kind for his mental diseases, and curable cases are being kept in the State institutions."

The memorial also asserted that the Government is receiving "medical treatment of any kind for his mental diseases, and curable cases are being kept in the State institutions."

The memorial also asserted that the Government is receiving "medical treatment of any kind for his mental diseases, and curable cases are being kept in the State institutions."

The memorial also asserted that the Government is receiving "medical treatment of any kind for his mental diseases, and curable cases are being kept in the State institutions."

The memorial also asserted that the Government is receiving "medical treatment of any kind for his mental diseases, and curable cases are being kept in the State institutions."

The memorial also asserted that the Government is receiving "medical treatment of any kind for his mental diseases, and curable cases are being kept in the State institutions."

The memorial also asserted that the Government is receiving "medical treatment of any kind for his mental diseases, and curable cases are being kept in the State institutions."

The memorial also asserted that the Government is receiving "medical treatment of any kind for his mental diseases, and curable cases are being kept in the State institutions."

The memorial also asserted that the Government is receiving "medical treatment of any kind for his mental diseases, and curable cases are being kept in the State institutions."

The memorial also asserted that the Government is receiving "medical treatment of any kind for his mental diseases, and curable cases are being kept in the State institutions."

The memorial also asserted that the Government is receiving "medical treatment of any kind for his mental diseases, and curable cases are being kept in the State institutions."

The memorial also asserted that the Government is receiving "medical treatment of any kind for his mental diseases, and curable cases are being kept in the State institutions."

The memorial also asserted that the Government is receiving "medical treatment of any kind for his mental diseases, and curable cases are being kept in the State institutions."

The memorial also asserted that the Government is receiving "medical treatment of any kind for his mental diseases, and curable cases are being kept in the State institutions."

The memorial also asserted that the Government is receiving "medical treatment of any kind for his mental diseases, and curable cases are being kept in the State institutions."

The memorial also asserted that the Government is receiving "medical treatment of any kind for his mental diseases, and curable cases are being kept in the State institutions."

The memorial also asserted that the Government is receiving "medical treatment of any kind for his mental diseases, and curable cases are being kept in the State institutions."

The memorial also asserted that the Government is receiving "medical treatment of any kind for his mental diseases, and