Give Recipes for Braised Liver and Onions and Other Colonial Dishes

THE young and thriving Quaker city on the banks of the Delaware was aware that improvements were sadly needed to facilitate the marketing of foodstuffs, and to this end, an addition was built on the Second street market, thus extending the market sheds to Cedar street; which is now South street. Scharf and Westcott, in the History of Philadelphia, tell us the western moiety of this market was appropriated to the country folks.

- Sunday Breakfast Stammered Prunes Hominy Grits with Cream Oyster Liver Smothered With Onions Bacon Garnish Fried Potatoes Bread Butter Coffee

- Sunday Dinner Bean Soup Baked Potatoes Sweet Pickled Beets Colelaw Apple Flout Coffee Vanilla Sauce

The market basket for this menu will require: Beans, prunes, hominy grits, calves' liver, bacon, corn beef, onions, potatoes, butter, celery, apples, sweet pickled relatin and the usual weekly necessities.

One teaspoon of salt. One-half teaspoon of pepper. Three pinches of allspice. Three tablespoons of vinegar. Cover and place where it will just simmer for forty minutes.

One-half cup of water in which the beets were cooked. One-half cup of sharp cider vinegar. Three tablespoons of flour. Stir to dissolve the flour and bring to a boil. Cook for five minutes, then add three tablespoons of bacon fat.

One cup of sugar. Three-quarter cup of water. Bring to a boil and cook for five minutes, then add the prepared apples and place where they will simmer slowly, until clear and transparent.

Beat with the egg beater to blend; rub custard cups with melted butter and fill with the pudding mixture; bake in a slow oven until set. Let cool and run a knife about the edge of the pudding and turn on a saucer and garnish with the prepared apples. Serve with vanilla sauce.

Men's All-Wool Overcoats

$21.50 $29 $35

An all-wool overcoat is the only kind to buy. That may seem a high-handed statement but it is full of wisdom. It is only wool that gives warmth and real protection and that is what an overcoat is for. Why carry excess weight from your shoulders—weight that doesn't mean a thing toward warmth, protection or serviceability?

An all-wool overcoat is the only kind to buy. These are all big, warm, double-breasted ulsterettes, some with half belts and some belted all around. Some of the thick coatings have plaid or contrasting backs. Many of the overcoats are specially priced and the actual money saving is enough to count.

Young Men's All-Wool Suits at $25
Mixed chevots are in tones of gray and brown and the suits are well tailored and carefully put together.

SPECIALS:

Men's Half Hose

50c for heavy ribbed wool half hose in heather mixtures.

$1 for full-fashioned black silk half hose, "seconds."
