Nancy Wynne Sees Smart Top Coats and Wraps These Cold Days—She Tells of the Saturday Evening Class Tomorrow—St. Francis' Show Tonight

WHAT a lovely coat Georgian Wetherill is wearing these cold days! It's of electric blue velvet and has a wonderful wide collar and cuffs of gray squirrel. I saw her recently in this coat, with a blue davenport that fits her with a blue feather at the side. She was wearing gray silk stockings and black patent leather slippers. It was a fetching and smart coat.

I think the fur coats that are being worn this season are lovely too. Don't you? Mrs. Barclay Warburton had a perfectly gorgeous one at Mrs. Halton's lecture on Wednesday. It was a light blue and as far as I could tell from where I was sitting, it was of sable with the stripes of the animals running up and down.

Another gorgeous wrap was worn by Mrs. George Lorimer; it was of sable, the collar and end of the wrap having the striped part of the little animals going round, while the body of the wrap was together with the stripes up and down. She wore a small black satin hat trimmed with a short hanging lace veil. Mrs. Warburton's hat was a small dark silk bow trimmed with a small veil. Mrs. Norman McLeod, Mrs. Warburton's sister, was also "among those present" and her coat was of broadtail.

THERE is to be another meeting of the Saturday Evening Dancing Class tomorrow night in the foyer when Mrs. George Stuart Patterson, Mrs. Percy H. Clark and Mrs. W. J. Popper will receive. Bob Downs will lead the cotillon assisted by William Almy, Milo Miller, Jr., Bob Lee and Gordon Strawbridge.

THAT Foyer, by the way, will be a busy place tomorrow for the Women's Overseas Legion will have a bridge party there in the afternoon for their Emergency Fund. In other words, the proceeds are to be given over to pay the expense of two weeks' care of the Service Club, in which Mrs. George Drexel is so interested. The Overseas Legion undertook to run matters for the time allotted, and naturally money is needed to do this, hence the party tomorrow afternoon.

A great many of the Legion's members have taken tables for the afternoon and a number of their friends as well. Among those who will entertain will be Mrs. Henry C. Chapman, Miss Margaret Nagle Robins, Miss Frances Clark, Miss Emily Roche, Miss Margaret Law, Dr. Max Keller, Mrs. C. C. Johnson, Miss Louise Snowden, chairman of the committee in charge of the affair, and Miss Julia MacAlister and several others are associated with her.

MRS. BAYARD TUCKERMAN, of New York and Ipswich, is on her visit to her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Elkins, at their home, Elkins House, at 2100 Park. Mrs. Elkins was Miss Elizabeth Tucker, you remember. She is a sister of Mrs. Evans R. Dick, who has that attractive country home, Willow Dam, at Whitman's. The Tuckermans have heretofore been residents of Boston and associated with the Cambridge Colony. Their family goes back to the original Richard Warren, who came over in the Mayflower, and they are related to many of the literary folk of past decades in New England.

EVERY year when the entertainment for St. Francis' Country House comes around I wonder if those who started the work out there (among them the former Mrs. Charles Emory Smith) ever dreamed how soon its success would be achieved; but not only one but two houses would be bought in less than ten years and thousands of women be helped back to health by week or two of rest after dismissal from the wards of the hospitals. Some of the women interested in St. Francis' Country House are Miss Florence Smith, Miss Julia Laguerre, Mrs. Frank Patterson, Mrs. Frank Clark, Mrs. Frances Mundy, Francis Sullivan, the Misses Trassel, and a great many others. The play tonight given by the Aides will be in the ballroom of the Bellevue-Stratford and will be called "What the Moon Saw."
