STATE WITNESSES
AID FATY'S CASE

Say Fingerprints Are Not Definite Enough to Be Conclusive

DEFENSE ENDS EVIDENCE

San Francisco, Jan. 28.—Two fingerprint experts, called by the State in rebuttal yesterday in the Roscoe Arbuckle manslaughter trial, gave testimony that ended more to aid the defense than to strengthen the case for the State.

August Vollmer, Berkeley chief of police, testified that he had examined the fingerprints on the door and compared them with the prints made by the fingers of Arbuckle and Miss Rappe. He said that one impression on the door corresponded, in his opinion, with the print of Arbuckle's middle finger. As to the smaller prints, claimed by the State to have been made by Miss Rappe, Vollmer declared that he could form no opinion as to their identification. "Similarities," consisting of a loop on one finger and a whirl on another, exists, he said, but admitted under cross-examination that these formations frequently occurred, 60 per cent of fingers showing loops.

Harry Caldwell, chief of the Identification Bureau of the Oakland and Police Department, said that he had compared the fingerprints of Arbuckle and Miss Rappe with enlarged photographs of the prints on the door. There were not enough points of similarity in the smaller prints, he said, to admit identification with those of Miss Rappe.

In the fingerprints, he said he found four points of similarity to Arbuckle's fingers in one impression and three in another. Under cross-examination, he said that in his work at the Oakland Bureau he required eight points of similarity for identification.

Mrs. Catherine Fox, of Chicago, life-long friend of Virginia Rappe, was called by the State. "I am sure," she said, that she would take Mrs. Fox over Miss Rappe's life in detail in order to disprove defense allegations that the girl had been in poor health and had suffered attacks of illness.

She repeated her former assertions that Miss Rappe had always enjoyed amazingly perfect health, never consulting a physician nor even giving evidences of pain over a period of years.

At the opening of the morning session the defense was permitted to re-open its case in order to connect the testimony of various witnesses as to attacks of illness alleged to have been suffered by Virginia Rappe with the medical evidence presented by Dr. George Franklin Shiel, who was called and testified that, in his opinion, Miss Rappe's symptoms manifested in these attacks indicated a chronic and organic weakness.

The case for the defense finally rested at 10:30 o'clock. Arbuckle was not called by the State, but he was called by the jury with the reading of his former testimony by the State. The State will probably continue with rebuttal until Tuesday afternoon, it is expected that the case will go to the jury by Thursday of next week.

ALLEN BELITTLES KENYON'S INDUSTRIAL COURT SCHEME

Governor Denies Kansas Tribunal Has Proved Futile

Topeka, Kan., Jan. 28.—(By A. P.)—Denying that the Kansas Industrial Court has proved futile, Governor Allen, in a statement today, replying to Senator Kenyon, of Iowa, declared Kenyon's proposed industrial code is weak, because his tribunal, unlike the Kansas Industrial Court, would have no power to enforce its own decisions.

"It talks bravely about justice and then timidly passes the decision to the public," the Governor said.

Senator Kenyon's statement that the Kansas Industrial Court has proven futile shows that he has not given the court careful consideration and is not informed as to the results of the court's activities.

"Thirty-four cases, involving many thousands of dollars, have been adjudicated, and in all cases but one, which was appealed by the employer to the Supreme Court, the orders of the court have been accepted and obeyed immediately by both parties."

"All of the principles announced by Senator Kenyon in his code report are embodied in the original Kansas Industrial Code, and it is not in Kansas or itself or in the decisions of the court."

RAISULI ASKS FOR TRUCE

Spanish Continue Attack, Fearing Trick by Moroccan Bandit

Tetuan, Morocco, Jan. 28.—(By A. P.)—The bandit Raisuli, held prisoner as the result of the recent Spanish operations, has asked permission to reopen negotiations for his surrender.

He pleaded for cessation of the bombardment which has created a famine among his followers. The Spanish commanders are continuing their preparations for a resumption of their advance from Bahargay with a strong column. They fear that Raisuli's offer was made to gain time for his escape.

MULI AHMED BEN MOHAMMED RAISULI HAS LONG BEEN A THORN IN THE SIDE OF THE SPANISH GOVERNMENT.

He has been reported hard pressed by the Spanish forces several times in their recent campaign and in September last sent an emissary to General Benavente asking for terms of surrender, and declaring that he had become tired of the fighting. He has lately been reported closely pursued by the Spaniards.

STILL BURSTS; MAN KILLED

Building Destroyed and Victim Is Burned to Death

New York, Jan. 28.—(By A. P.)—An explosion of a still in the basement of a house in the Borough Park section of Brooklyn today set fire to the building and burned an unidentified man to death.

Salvatore Morelli, who said he had been employed by the unidentified man to redistill denatured alcohol, was seriously injured by leaping from a window. He said he knew his employer only by the name of Frank.

BURGLAR KILLS CHICAGO PRIEST

Not the President

WILLIARD H. WILLIAMS
Lives in West Stella street and conducts a bait and fishing goods business. Strangers always salute him as President Harding

HARDING'S DOUBLE
FOUND IN PHILA.

Willard H. Williams, West Stella Street, Gets Hailed Daily as "President"

ONLY LACKS AS MUCH HAIR

"There goes President Harding!" The "President" was walking down Chestnut street this morning and the quotation was from the lips of a dyed-in-the-wool Philadelphian.

It may be added that the "President" was going to his place of business at 10 South Fifth street. He is Willard H. Williams and is in the fishing goods and bait business.

Mr. Williams' resemblance to President Harding is remarkable. He admits it himself, for he has seen the latter, too, the weight of the rather heavy eyebrows and the same ruddy complexion as Mr. Harding. The rather puffed flesh just below the eyes belongs to Mr. Williams as well as to the President. The same nose is there, too. Then comes the firm, determined mouth akin to Mr. Harding's.

"But the thing that marks it," laughed Mr. Williams, "is the fact that I am bald on top. What hair I have is the same color as Mr. Harding's, but, to be witty, Mr. Harding has a few hairs on me."

Then, too, the weight of the two is about the same as is the height. Mr. Williams is five feet ten inches tall and Mr. Harding is slightly over that.

So it is that, since the last presidential election, when Mr. Williams leaves his home at 1014 West Stella street, or when he is returning he is greeted in a jocular manner by his friends in wit—"How do you do, Mr. Harding!"

Entire Stock of Furniture Marked at Reductions from Prices Already Low

Most of this Furniture has been bought within the past six months. Scarcely any of it has been in the Store a year. That means, everything in our stock has been bought at the new low price-level (which we believe to be the bed-rock cost for a long time to come) and has been marked at prices so based. And now, for the Sale, we have made worth-while reductions from these low regular prices—thereby providing exceptional economies indeed. In addition to the comprehensive variety thus presented, we have also secured—

A Number of Large Special Purchases at Prices Affording Even Greater Savings

These purchases include sample lines, close-out lots and other special groups—secured from our regular sources of supply. The Furniture included, therefore, conforms to our high standard of quality in every way and is of the most desirable character. Whatever savings we secured by the manufacturers' price-concessions we now pass along to you.

Please Note—Every Piece of Furniture Included is NEW!

That applies to our regular stock as well as the special purchases. NEW in designs and adaptations of period styles. Of course, the always-good, Period reproductions are well represented. It is also NEW in structural features that make for greater solidity and endurance.

We suggest that you buy no Furniture merely on the strength of the claims made for it, but that you carefully compare quality and value before making definite selection. If you follow such a course we feel sure that you will discover what is already known to hundreds of satisfied home-furnishers—that this Store attains the utmost degree of excellence in Furniture quality and Furniture value.
