MACKAY PLATFORM BIDS FOR HARMONY

Compensation Chief, First to Herald Stand in Race for Governor, Plays for Sproul

"SELF-SEEKERS" PLAYED

Harry A. Mackey, chairman of the Workmen's Compensation Board, sketched the outline of his platform as a candidate for Governor in a statement issued today from his Philadelphia office. He said he was for economy and efficiency, the elimination of useless city and State positions and offices, and for home rule for cities. He wound up by praising the work of Mrs. John O. Miller, chairman of the Pennsylvania League of Women Voters, as a member of the Commission to Reorganize the State Government, and making a bid for the woman vote. Mr. Mackey is first in the field with a platform.

A feature of the statement is the recognition of the work of the Sproul Administration. The platform is built along lines specified by Senator Vore in an interview just before he left for Florida last night.

Chairman Mackey also boldly announced that if Senator Crow is unable to be a candidate, he favors John A. Bell, Mayor Magee's ally, for the United States Senate. The Mackey ticket, as set forth in the statement, would be Senator Peppar and John A. Bell for the United States Senate, and himself for Governor.

Mackey's friends favor Colonel David J. Davis, of Scranton, for Lieutenant Governor. Chairman Mackey also surprised independents by declaring the leaders should "agree" on a man for Governor. Indirectly Mackey took a shot at the candidacy of Lieutenant Governor Beidleman.

Mackey is in Pittsburgh today conferring with Western Pennsylvania leaders. Mr. Mackey opened his statement with the declaration that "no self-seeker" would ever gain the place. The people, he said, would not select a man "who goes up and down the State announcing his candidacy and exploiting his own qualifications." This was regarded as a shaft at both Beidleman and State Treasurer Snyder.

After urging harmony in the party and the agreement on one man for Governor—the slating of a candidate by united factions—Mr. Mackey said the only "one great issue" was economy and efficiency.

Outlining his platform, Chairman Mackey said: "The chief concern of our party should be the establishment of business. The business man cannot come into his own unless he is relieved of oppressive taxation and he cannot be relieved of this unless every governmental administrator, national, State and municipal, exercises the strictest economy and performs his respective duties with the utmost efficiency."

"The situation in this respect in Pennsylvania is the growth of years under an old political machine sponsored first by Senator Quay and later by Senator Penrose.

Bureaus and departments have been added to State Administration for political expediency or a mistaken sense of public demand. The present Administration undoubtedly recognizes this fact, because a commission appointed by Governor Sproul is studying conditions. There must be legislation that will absolutely guarantee home rule to Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Reading, Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, Erie and other municipalities of the State.

The road program must be continued, but with common sense and economy and in conformity with the best thought of every section. Establishing the real financial stability of farmers regarding the food supply. We must keep the farm boy at home, and to do so we must make his life so attractive he will not yield to the allurements of urban life. Our program of compensating injured workmen, and rehabilitating industrial cripples must be continued.

We are somewhat in the throes of misunderstanding as regards our public school program. In the first place the parents must be convinced of the sanity of any school program. The new voters, the women, must be taken into full party affiliation. There is no necessity for a feminine party. It is not in accord with the thought of equal suffrage. The uniform primary must be strengthened and its results guaranteed as the women's medium of expressing their convictions."

Does your car "hold the road"?

If your car has not been Stabilized you cannot know the joy of being able to drive along unconscious of road surfaces. Without Stabilizers you are at the absolute mercy of that demon—spring recoil—the thing which causes you to go bouncing along the road and which dashes your axles and wheels back again with such destructive results to both tires and mechanism each time they have been lifted off the road by a bump. With Stabilizers the big bump produces no more harmful results than the little bump because Stabilizers automatically oppose each recoil in proportion to the force of that particular recoil.

In a few hours' time we will so completely revolutionize the performance of your car, whether a Ford or a five thousand dollar machine, that you will not recognize it as your own car. Drop in at our display room and let us show you how Stabilizers accomplish these results—better, better still, telephone us for an actual demonstration and be your own judge over your own roads.

Double-Rich Milk

A 20-year development

The grocers of this section are now supplied with a super-grade of milk. We want you to know it, and at once. That's why we make this offer.

The milk is produced in the finest dairying sections of the Middle West. It comes from sanitary dairies and from high-bred cows.

The Van Camp condenseries are located in the hearts of these rich districts. Each is a model plant.

A new-day process

Milk fresh from the cows is put into a vacuum. There at low heat we evaporate most of the water. Nothing else comes out. The milk is then sealed, then sterilized, so it comes to you germ-free.

Nearly 8% fat

The Van Camp Milk is as thick as cream. It is over twice as rich as bottled milk—nearly 8 per cent butter fat.

Use it as it is for cream in coffee or on cereals. Add an equal part of water for a rich milk to drink. For cooking dilute still further.

It brings you whole milk of the richest sort. You always have plenty on hand. No shortage, no waste. Just open a can, small or large, as you want it.

It is both milk and cream. It costs you less than bottled milk, because it saves all waste.

For only a few

The Van Camp experts have spent 20 years to produce a milk like this. The supply is limited. Not more than one home in twenty ever can get it.

So we supply certain sections only. This section will hereafter be one. Your grocer will be kept supplied.

Now we want you to try it—the finest milk you have ever known. So we offer this secret gift to you when you buy a dozen cans.

Then the milk itself will make you want it always. Cut out this coupon so you won't forget.
