

Woman's Life and Love

By WINIFRED HARPER COOLEY

A Wife's "Past"

WHAT many melodramas have been written on the theme of a wife finding her husband's past...

MORALITY is for one sex alone, according to the old standards. If people have been unfortunate in some early love affair...

THERE is much that may be said in favor of the woman who has buried her forgotten early sweetheart...

Paul and Virginia

By HELENA HOYT GRANT

Paul on Modernism

THE quiet evening at home. Outside the rain beat fiercely upon the panes as if inflated by the glow of the warm and contented light...

Paul slammed the book upon the table. "What is it, honey?" inquired Virginia...

"These novelists are all crazy," he said roughly. "I wear I don't know why I buy these books...

"Aren't you as good as you expect?" she asked. "Sometimes I read novels anyway...

"But that's the fun of reading a novel, isn't it?" she asked.

"No—not for me. Why don't they tell something? They deal with impressive men and women...

"The writer demands too much of the reader's imagination," said Paul shortly. "And if the reader happens to have any common sense...

"Virginia nodded. "Dickens is considered to be old-fashioned, I know," said Paul, after a moment.

WHAT'S WHAT

Some Club Names To the Editor of Woman's Page: Dear Madam—We are a young girls club...

I cannot give you any very appropriate names because you did not tell me what your club is going to do...

Let Her Help Would you help your child and yourself at the same time? Then next baking day...

When the court manners of the Emperor Napoleon left something to be desired the Code Napoleon still rules France...

A man is carrying coal into a cellar or freight or furniture of any sort into a shop...

Little, happy Bobby says: "Gee! my Mother's good! She gives me lots of Victor Bread..."

There's no secret about the unusually high quality of Victor Bread.

Victor Bread is made with the purest ingredients and baked our bread scientifically...

Haven't you a berry box somewhere around the kitchen that you have kept because it is "perfectly good and ought to be used for something"?

SEEDS should always be sown in straight rows, no matter where they are planted, says the United States Department of Agriculture.

The night before the dress rehearsal they were going hurriedly through the play for the last time.

Carol had not slept well and her nerves were all on edge. She was very nervous, however, forcing herself to laugh and talk so as not to show her real feelings.

When Britton caught her in his arms in the second act, she felt a change in him, and for the first time she looked directly into his eyes with something in her own that she had never seen there before.

His arms tightened about her. "Darling!" he whispered tensely. Her lashes dropped and she was conscious that he was going on with his part.

She suddenly felt it was over and a little cheer came from the sidelines. "Carol, you were wonderful," came in Grace's voice.

Carol smiled, turned toward Grace, and found herself looking into Nick's eyes. He had come in while she was playing and she had not known it.

Tomorrow—How Much Did Nick Know? Things You'll Love to Make

Boys Cuff Links. Young boys are so apt to lose their cuff links that the BOYS CUFF LINKS show, and if he loses them you can easily and inexpensively replace them with another pair.

Tomorrow—Loyalty. Today's Inquiries: 1. What is the full name of England's princess who is soon to be betrothed to a prince of Spain?

How can a stiff umbrella be made easy to raise? Describe a dainty and fancy little bag for carrying "some change and a hankie."

What should be the weight of a boy fifty-nine inches tall; what should the girl's weight be who is this height? In what way is a smartly up-to-date costume fashioned? Describe the unique trimming on a dress of cinnamon-brown linen.

Yesterday's Answers: 1. A State athletic association is the first thing for high school girls that has been organized in North Carolina.

Stains on piano keys which refuse to come out can be removed with sea-bic acid.

For the woman who likes a tiny slumber-pillow, a dainty cover for it that is not a bit hard to make is just what she needs.

A straight frock of blue serge with box plait and a design of red material beneath is a smart school dress for the small girl.

Blue and white is a design of finest white beads fashioned an exquisite affair.

Never does a grateful customer thank him for the delicious way in which he chaffed the frankfurters.

WHAT a hopeless task; never to feel the clasp of a friendly hand, or hear a word of cheer!

It is just as though an artist sat in his studio all day, painting pictures and throwing them out the window.

Some day I shall go in there and grasp his hand with my firm grip and say to him, "Brother, though all the world pass you by, or stop and look at you and then pass you by—it doesn't make much difference which—I'm one of all this throng, understand you, and I have come in here to tell you that I appreciate what you are doing for the human race."

Yes, some day I shall do this; probably tomorrow, if I can find the place again.

Whether They Are Boys or Girls, Babies Are Such Happy Things

When They Are So Little That They Have No Words to Express Their Joy They Show It by Boiling Over With Glee

BABIES are such happy things! He lies in state, the one I'm thinking of in the middle of the room...

His mother and an audience of admirers surround him, leaning over with adoring smiles on their faces.

And with supreme content he kicks his heels in the air, like the sensation and stops to cast a sidelong gleeful smile at his mother.

She laughs and the sound tickles him. Beating his heels on the padded floor, he throws back his head and bubbles delightedly.

What more, he seems to ask you, could any young gentleman ask for? And to show his appreciation he kicks and beats his heels and bubbles and flirts shamelessly with all his admirers.

NEED is almost a year old, we'll have you know. Her hair is cold and almost long enough to be called hair instead of fuzz.

She has big blue eyes and several teeth and bright red cheeks. And she sits in a high chair and rocks it with all the vigor of a young woman.
