JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

Nancy Wynne Chats About the Marriage of Mrs. Brooks and General MacArthur—She Hears of New Business Enterprises Among the Socially Prominent

A GOOD many Philadelphians will go to the MacArthur-Brooks wedding recention in Palm Beach today. The marriage itself is to be witnessed by the immediate families and a few friends, you know, but later there will be a reception and of course the Bille Wardens, the Gurnee Munns, Bobbie Brockie, Agnes and Jack Mason, Lisa Norris, Brownie Warburton and all the rest of them who are down there will go.

Mrs. Kearsley Mitchell, who is Mr. Stotesbury's younger daughter, is to be matron of honor at the wedding and Jimmie Cromwell will be best man for General MacArthur. Jimmie Cromwell is Mrs. Brooks' youngest brother. Her other brother, Tony Cromwell, will not be at the wedding as he and his wife sailed for Europe several weeks ago. I understand business made it necessary for them to leave then or they too would have been at the ceremony, which by the way, is to be performed by an army chaplain.

The marriage will take place at the Stotesbury place, El Mirasol, which house, I am told by those who have been there, while not on as large a sca e as Whitemarsh Hall is quite as elaborate and artistic in its appointments.

TOMORROW we have a very pretty wedding here. And a very pretty little bride it will be who will wa k up old St. Peter's Church aisle with her father. It's Mary Page and her marriage to Mr. John Platt will take place at noon. Mary is very fair and has the sweetest smile and manner. She is the youngest of the three Pages, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wurts Page. Mary's mother was Miss Edith Cox and Mary has Cox for her middle name. Mr. Platt is a widower and has a darling little boy who is three or four years old.

Mary's sister, Edith Page, is to be married to Jack Starr after Easter.

HAVE you heard what Mathilde Potter is going to do? I declare every day I hear of some one else going into professional work or an artistic venture of some kind. Well, Mathilde, who is a sister of Mrs. Howard Lewis and of Mrs. Francis Noble and Mrs. Joseph Knight, is about to open a studio in Ardmore. She will act as consultant and adviser for costumes to be worn at the Bal Masque, for instance; suggest what will be most becoming and whether a copy of some beautiful old painting will not suit certain persons.

You know, Josephine McCulloh, who sings so beautifully, has turned the living room of her house into a shop, and she has the most attractive frocks for kiddies you ever saw. Josephine's voice is exquisite. I heard her at Mrs. Wintersteens' musicale just recently.

Really, you are quite out of it these days if you are not doing something. No one sits at home and reads or writes, or sews; every one gets out into the world or does something at home that brings the world in. And I think we're all more alive for it, don't you?

I HEAR that Walburga Reilly is to live in Lock Haven instead of in New York as many of us thought. That was simply because we did not know that Sandy Paine is engaged in business in Lock Haven. They are to be married in April, you know, and in New York I understand, but I believe that has not been decided positively. Walburga and her mother, Mrs. Joseph Reilly, are now in the South, but will return in a few weeks.

TONIGHT will see the last meeting of the Opera Supper Club, and it will have a brilliant finish, methinks, for Mrs. Tom Robins and Mrs. Harold Yarnall are the hostesses, and there are a great many who will entertain. Mrs. James Starr will have a number of guests, and so will Mrs. Alexander Van Rensselaer. Mrs. Robins will have a party of ten. Mrs. Wilmer Biddle will entertain eight or ten guests. Others who will entertain will be Mr. and Mrs. Langdon Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Eli K. Price, the Webster Wetherills and Hollinshead Taylors. And a number of other persons will also give parties.

THE family took Danny to church for the first time recently, and Danny, being only five, was greatly intrigued by the organ and choir boys and did not hear the service, which was read by the clergyman in rather low tones. That evening in speaking of his experiences to his aunt, he remarked, "Well, it's a good thing they had music; outside of that there was not much to it." NANCY WYNNE.

A Certain Woman and Her Shoes

A certain New York young woman was dressing to go shopping with a friend. She sank into a chair and gazed sadly at her feet. "I have twenty-one pairs of shoes," she lamented, "and not a single, solitary pair that it isn't torture even to think of putting on."

She hadn't a shoe with a flexible arch. She wouldn't have faced a shopping expedition with such dread if there were one pair of Cantilevers in her outfit. Also she would have saved herself much money if she had bought fewer pairs and more comfort. In the a reasonably low heel, a stylishly round toe, a natural sole-line and an arch flexible like your own, unite to give you foot-comfort and efficiency of the highest order. The flexible arch conforms willingly with every step; the flexible arch draws up, when you lace Cantilevers, to give each arch just the degree of support desired; and the flexible arch permits the strengthening exercise of arch muscles that corrects and prevents "weak foot."

For real comfort in a good-looking shoe splendidly made and reasonably priced, you need at least one pair of Cantilevers in your wardrobe.
