stone's throw."

The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad renders a very definite service to the people of Philadelphia. Extensive freight shipments pass constantly over its rails to and from Philadelphia industries.

But of equal importance is the service it renders Philadelphia travelers.

Frequent train schedules are maintained to over 1000 cities and towns east of the Mississippi River.

The Baltimore & Ohio Chestnut St. Station is easily reached from both the business section and West Philadelphia by surface cars and the Market Street subway. The Wayne Junction Station is convenient for Germantown travelers.

Our central ticket office at 1337 Walnut Street, is virtually a "Travel Bureau" where you can secure helpful information about any trip. Telephone Walnut 3602.

All Baltimore & Ohio through trains have parlor and sleeping cars, steel coaches, and dining cars serving a wide variety of the market's best products.

For your next trip out of town drop in at any of our convenient offices and let our Agent arrange all the details. He'll be glad to help.
