IRELAND WARNED OF SOVIET DANGER

Setting Up Communist Republic Would Ruin Cause for Century, Says Churchill

TO RESUME TROOPS' RECALL
By the Associated Press
London, Feb. 16.—Prediction that a coup d'etat in Ireland which resulted in the setting up of a Soviet republic would ruin Ireland's cause for a century, was made by Winston Churchill, Secretary for the Colonies, in moving in the House of Commons today the second reading of the Irish Free State Bill. Such an occurrence was not at all likely, however, in the opinion of the British Government, he said.

Referring to the present Irish Parliament, the Colonial Secretary said: "It was not chosen because of the fitness of its members to govern, but because they were chosen to be the most obnoxious to Great Britain and because they were the men who hated this country most. If any progress is to be made, there ought to be a parliament in Ireland representing the hope of the future rather than the hatred of the past."

"It is perfectly clear that the reputation of the treaty by Ireland would free all parties from their engagements, and the position of Great Britain, standing on the treaty and ready to carry it out if others were found on behalf of the Irish nation to do their part, would be a position of great moral as well as undoubted material strength."

More Troops to Be Withdrawn
Michael Collins return to Dublin today after only twelve hours in London and his admission that he was not dissatisfied with the results of his conference with Government officials here are taken to mean that the British evacuation of South Ireland will be resumed forthwith and continue uninterrupted.

This would relieve the situation in Ireland of one of its most serious features. No official explanation of the assurances given Mr. Collins, however, has yet been made.

No troops have been moved from the South since Monday with the exception of 400 cavalrymen, who embarked at Dublin for Liverpool last night. The other troops which are in Dublin on Monday are still there.

Mr. Churchill also announced that impartial commissions, each of which will include several British representatives as well as officers of the opposing sides, are to investigate the facts of the border dispute.

Opposition Gaining Ground
The strength of the conservative opposition to the measure, which is stated to be growing apace owing to the recent happenings in Ireland, especially the fact that the Government officials are being gauged, and will probably depend upon the developments between now and the vote, as well as upon the statements of the Government Ministers.

HOWAT MEN SPLIT ANTHRACITE RANKS

Lewis' Strength is Seriously Threatened by Secessions in Hard-Coal Fields

DELEGATES CHANGE FRONT
Special Dispatch to Evening Public Ledger
Indianapolis, Feb. 16.—Administration strength in the anthracite fields has been seriously threatened by Rinaldo Cappillini, and Alex Campbell, both of the Pittston section, who have joined the insurgent forces of Alexander Howat, the Kansas insurgent, for the purpose of overthrowing John L. Lewis, international president.

The three anthracite presidents and their underlings had counted on a virtually unanimous vote in support of Lewis and his policies in the international convention. Then Cappillini and Campbell arrived, forming a coalition with Howat and Farrington and started in to "bust 'em up" in the anthracite field. Their work was secretly done for a time and it was being quite effectively carried on when the district leaders discovered what was going on.

Open Fight Developing
There is now developing an open fight between the insurgent and administration forces of the anthracite field. The best work of the insurgents is being done in district No. 1 delegates. It is admitted by the administration that the entire vote of the delegates in the Pittston area will be cast for Howat. If there are 150 votes cast from district No. 1, Cappillini and Campbell will control at least 100 of them and these will be turned over to Howat.

In district No. 7 the insurgents have failed to make any inroads on the organization forces led by Thomas Kennedy. The Hazleton president will be able to cast the vote of his district almost as a unit in support of the international chief.

In district No. 9 the insurgent element has put in some heavy work. The result of it is that there will be a small vote cast in support of Howat.

Delegates Change Front
The administration forces call attention to the fact that at the Shamokin convention, when the Seale Committee reported, and when the question of administration policies came up, the convention voted to a man in support of John L. Lewis. Virtually the same delegation that transacted business at Shamokin for the anthracite miners is here at the national convention. Some of the same delegates who put the stamp of approval on Lewis at Shamokin are fighting his policies here and are here at the national convention. The leaders say, to the missionary efforts of Cappillini and Campbell.

The convention today marked time. Best informed opinion at the moment is, however, that the dissidents will not prove numerous enough to prevent passage of the bill.

The strike in Belfast, which yesterday went from bad to worse, is causing the greatest concern to the local authorities, whose efforts to stop the disorders hitherto have failed. It is confined to certain areas, and the authorities believe it to be based on religious prejudices.
