It Is an Old Arabian Saying "A Proverb is to speech What salt is to food."

In old times, so the books tell us, proverbs were spoken of as "parables," "words of the wise," that "the ancients" wrote.

How "pat" they seem, even in these days free schools, cheap books and cheaper newspapers!

And how well worth keeping in remembrance they are, such as the old English one, "He who chases two hares catches neither"!

This Store is truly an index of a lifetime.

What a Charming Array of New Hats at Moderate Prices!

Numbers of women plan to pay $10, $12 or less for a hat to tide them over from Winter to Sum-

They wish not to sacrifice either style or becomingness to economy.

And they certainly need not, for the quantities of attractive hats displayed here tomorrow at these prices, and less, are as pretty and dashing as any millinery the season has brought forth.

Many of the clever little tailored or "ready-towear" hats cost wonderfully little. You will be surprised at the price tickets. It seems almost incredible to get such really smart effects for such trifles.

There is every color, every size, every up-to-date shape and material. It would be a difficult need that did not find its answer among all the new millinery ready tomorrow morning. (Second Floor)

February, you must remember, is shorter in the matter of days than any other month of the year.

But it is wonderfully long in the matter of furniture opportunities. A walk through these stocks will convince you.

More Cheerfulness Each Day in Men's Spring Shirts

New ones are coming along all the time.

Such colorful ones, that fairly glow with the spirit of Springtime.

Colorful yet neat, for most of the markings are of the pin-stripe variety, or wider ones tidy in proportion. And we can hardly get acquainted with each new lot, the men are so enthusiastic about them.

In the price lies part of the secret of their popularity. For Spring has brought us nearer "normalcy" in shirt prices.

The heaviest, the finest, the best woven madras shirts we have seen in a long time as low as $1.85, $2.35 and $3.

Wash and Iron in One Day and Feel Like Dancing That Evening

Lots of our friends are crowding the two days' work into one, and smiling while they do it.

Two ever-willing helpmates make it seem just like having another day in the week.

First, the EASY VACUUM ELEC-TRIC WASHER seeps water through the heaviest of your things with a thoroughness that removes even the thickly groundin dirt; and does it so gently that no harm befalls the frailest, most delicate piece.

The vacuum cups force the water through the fabrics without friction.

It's amusing to see women sitting down in absolute comfort while the big tubful is being washed cleaner than endless rubbing could.

Then the swinging wringer enables you to blue and wring and rinse and (Fourth Fleer) wring while the second tubful is washing. Thus the biggest family wash becomes a matter of an hour or so.

Prices, Galvanized tub, $125; zinc tub, $139; copper tub, $155. With the UTENCO IRONING MA-CHINE there's no need of stirring from the chair. The gas-heated rollers smooth out even the most beruffled garments with surprising swiftness.

A little twist over the edge of the roller and the neckband of a shirt, or a flounce, or a ruffle are ironed neater than could be accomplished by endless maneuvering with a hand iron. Price $160.

Every day finds more women astonished as the conveniences of these mechanical helpmates are made plain by demonstrations.

Either of these devices can be had on deferred payments.

Young Women Step Forth in Clever New Tweed Suits for $35

One model comes in a tiny black-and-white check, very smart, with its gray buttons and gray peau de cygne coat lining. It is severely and beautifully tailored, with only self-strapping for ornament, and every detail correct. The coat is rather long and semi-fitting, to be worn belted or not, as desired.

More girlish figures will choose the other model, of a pretty brown-and-tan tweed. Its nearly straight box coat is provided with four big patch pockets, and may be belted or not. It is satin lined, of course, and carefully tailored.

Both skirts have ample fullness across the back, and are wide-belted and of the new cut and length.

In sizes 14 to 20, each model is $35. Other new models in blue or raspberry tweed are $42.50. (Second Floor)
