Los Angeles is the financial and commercial center of southern California and the largest city in the United States west of St. Louis. It showed the greatest rate of growth of any of the metro-politan cities in the country between the Federal Census of 1910 and that of 1920 and now ranks tenth in population, having advanced in the ten years from the seventeenth position. The proceeds from the sale of this issue are to be used to purchase and improve an electric plant acquired from private interests.

These bonds, in the opinion of counsel, are direct general obligations of the entire City and are payable from taxes levied against all the taxable property therein.
