GENOA HAS BIG CHANCE

By CLINTON W. GILBERT Staff Correspondent Evening Public Ledger Company Washington, Feb. 27 .- The twenty year nillance agreed to between Mr. Lloyd George and Mr. Poincare is the beginning of what the Administration here has desired, a settlement of European difficulties by Europe itself. Everything in the agreement reached points to a recognition by England at least of the fact that the United States will not at present take any band in the European readjustment.

If it were expected that this country would participate wholly in the Genou Conference, England would have counted upon this country to put pressure upon France and would not have consented to an alliance which will not be popular at home. Moreover, if it were expected that the United States would participate fully, the League of National Control of the Control of th tions would not figure so prominently in and British Premiers, since the United States is not a member of the League. Economic Topics Barred

While the alliance between England and France increases the prospects of substantial results from the Genon Conference, it is not regarded here as increasing the likelihood that the United States will be represented by more than an observer at that conference. The opinion of the State Depart ment, which is supported by the pub-lished agenda for Genos, is that the conference is to be political rather than economic. The exclusion of the repa-rations question from the list of topics pact. to be discussed is evidence enough that the economic situation will not be Greeks and Turks when a Cabinet has affairs.
