

TO HEAD BRYN MAWR GIRLS CHEER NEW CHIEF

Dr. Thomas Announces Selection of Dr. Marion E. Park at Chapel Exercises

TO TAKE CHARGE IN FALL

The selection of Dr. Marion E. Park as the new president of Bryn Mawr, announced to the students at chapel this morning, was received with enthusiasm.

Dr. M. Carey Thomas, who is to retire as president after years of service, made the announcement. Her news, long expected and the subject of intense speculation, aroused the most intense enthusiasm.

"The directors of Bryn Mawr College," said Dr. Thomas, "the president of the college and the faculty representatives are unanimously of the opinion that the ideal of Bryn Mawr College will be safe in the hands of President-elect Park, who knows its past, and who is a true product of its culture and discipline, and that the college under her progressive leadership will develop and grow in scholarship and power."

It was explained to the undergraduates that Miss Park, now the dean of Radcliffe College, Cambridge, Mass., would take charge in September, when Miss Thomas retires. Miss Park is herself a Bryn Mawr graduate. Dr. Thomas told the students that their new president was the unanimous choice of the Board of Directors, and was approved by the faculty representatives who consulted with the Nominating Committee. During the summer, Dr. Thomas said, the Executive Board of the Alumni Association sent out a ballot on which Miss Park received the largest vote cast for any candidate.

Not only is Dr. Park a Bryn Mawr graduate, but at one time she was acting dean of the college. Her degrees of bachelor of arts, master of arts and doctor of philosophy were conferred on Bryn Mawr. She is forty-six years old. Miss Park, born in Gloversville, N. Y., comes of distinguished New England ancestry. Her father was the Rev. William E. Park, a Congregationalist, and many theologians of that faith are numbered among her forebears, among them Jonathan Edwards. An only brother, Dr. Edwards A. Park, is head of the new department of pediatrics at Yale.

After attending the high school at Gloversville, Miss Park entered Bryn Mawr and was graduated in 1908. In college she specialized in Greek and English. At graduation she was given the European fellowship, the highest prize in the gift of the college. That enabled her to study in Athens. From 1902 to 1906 she was instructor in classics and acting dean of the college at Colorado College, a co-educational institution. In 1906-07 she taught at Miss Wiggins' School, Providence, R. I., and in 1907-08 at Bryn Mawr. In 1915-16 she studied Greek and Latin as a graduate student at Johns Hopkins, and in 1916-17 held a fellowship in Latin at Bryn Mawr. She took the degree of doctor of philosophy in Latin at Bryn Mawr in 1918. From 1918 to 1921 she was acting and associate dean of Simmons College, Boston, the great vocational college for women, and since last October has been dean of Radcliffe.

OPERATIC FEAST IS SPREAD

Chicago and Metropolitan Companies Here in Rival Attractions
Baseball fanatics may be disappointed, but they have nothing to grand opera, an exemplification of which is being staged in Philadelphia this evening. The Chicago and Metropolitan Opera Companies are the rival organizations and each has put on the most appealing work in its repertoire in an effort to command the attention of the public.

At the Metropolitan Opera House, the Chicago Opera Association is presenting "Salome," with Mary Garden in the title role. As opera talents go, Miss Garden is the only person on the stage who can take this role effectively, as it demands the peculiar dramatic talent in which she especially excels. Riccardo Martin sang the part of the prophet, and the other leading roles, the latter having taken the part of John the Baptist at the presentation here March 1, 1909, almost exactly thirteen years ago.

MAYOR CRITICIZES MITTEN'S 'L' PLANS

Objects to 'Giving' Frankford Line to P. R. T. Without Returns for First Year

HE SPEAKS AT DINNER

"Doubt that the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company's property and general assets are worth $300,000,000 as claimed by the company's experts," was expressed by Mayor Moore last night in an address before the Cobbs Creek Parkway Home Association at a dinner in the Hotel Adolph.

The Mayor sarcastically criticized Thomas E. Mitten, president of the company, as well as City Councilmen, who he said were trying to give the Frankford elevated line to the P. R. T. without a cent return for the first year.

MAYOR GROWS SARCASTIC

The Mayor grew sarcastic at times in describing Mr. Mitten. He referred to him as a "snow man," and added that he was a "very smart man—very able." But he reiterated that the city ought to prove that a 5-cent fare was all that was necessary for the P. R. T. to pay dividends.

Saw Battle Brewing

At one other point the Mayor remarked that he suspected "a battle is brewing." He spoke of the effort being made to "control" the trolley men, and added, "God forbid that any one should foment a strike, but the rights of the people must be preserved. A great deal has been printed that might evoke sympathy for Mr. Mitten and the P. R. T., which for two years has sidestepped the question of whether or not it will operate the Frankford elevated."

10 A. M. Is "Midnight" to Temperamental Divas

Mme. Rosa Raisa, of the Chicago Opera Company, was awakened at 10:15 this morning and asked what she thought of Samuel Insull's announcement that hereafter grand opera stars must do more work and get less money for it.

"MARY OR NO MARY," OPERA STARS' SALARIES TO BE CUT

Chicago Co. Performers to Do More Work, Too, President Says
Chicago, Feb. 28. — Chicago grand opera stars will be paid less and more found for them to do, Samuel Insull, new president of the Civic Opera Association, said in an address here last night.

"If there were a universal demand for opera stars this year," he said, "we would stand a poor chance of presenting good opera in Chicago. But we will have no difficulty in obtaining first class talent. There is no place elsewhere for the opera singers to go. If they want to stay at home and receive stage money, they may do so, but they will have to come here to get the real money."

Mr. Insull said, "that if Mary Garden quits, we will raise the guarantee funds and others say that if she should quit we would raise much more. But whether Mary stays or Mary goes, we are going to give opera on the same basis as in years before but at less expense."

MUST TRY CASE AGAIN

Jury Disagrees in Auto Theft Conspiracy Case

Disagreement of the jury today in the case of Abraham Atlas, confederator, 1741 South street, charged with having his automobile stolen so that he could collect the insurance, will necessitate a retrial of the case. Irving Kurland and Raymond Arnold, who were arrested for stealing the motorcar and then charged that Atlas had stolen the car, have pleaded guilty, but probably will not be sentenced until the guilt or innocence of Atlas is decided at another trial.

"JUDGE" DEMANDS APOLOGY

President Judge Brown, of the Municipal Court, over the protests of the Society to Protect Children from Cruelty, appointed an alleged pickpocket as guardian for a fourteen-year-old girl. Magistrate Renshaw said today in Central Station.

The disclosure was an incident of a controversy between the magistrate and Henry M. Stevenson, a lawyer, who represented Edward Carroll, who was arraigned on a charge of picking pockets.

Magistrate Renshaw became so incensed at Mr. Stevenson's remarks that he ordered him barred from practice before any Central Station until the lawyer makes a public apology at the bar of the court.

Birbarbi was found dead in a lot at Wilmot street and Torresdale avenue yesterday. He had been shot three times in the stomach.

Patrolman Tempest testified he saw Stanauzek running from the spot. It is believed that the men quarreled over a game of cards.

DO YOU like candy? I am sure that in nine cases out of ten the answer to this question will be in the affirmative. Then let me tell you of something I have discovered. Ever since the days of the war good chocolate candy has been little short of a luxury; for the price for a pound has been anywhere from eighty cents to a dollar, and in some instances more. But there is a rather new shop about town that has an excellent grade of chocolates for sixty cents a pound. One can buy all the usual mixtures, and everybody who has tried this candy likes it quite as well as the more expensive sort. It is nice and rich and, well, satisfying, which is what chocolate candy ought to be. Why not try a pound of it?
