

POST PLANS SERIES OF DANCES

Members of R. E. Greeley, No. 51, Have Made Changes at Their Headquarters

MASS-MEETING ARRANGED

Elaborate plans are under way for the success of a series of bi-weekly dances at the headquarters of the Raymond E. Greeley Post, No. 61, at 3920 Lancaster avenue.

These preparations include a remodeling and refurnishing of the rooms that the post has occupied as its headquarters into a dance hall.

This, in a way, is part of the general membership campaign. It is hoped to make the activities of the Greeley Post so varied and so alluring that no one eligible for membership will remain out. The post hopes to become the largest in West Philadelphia.

Every Friday Post, No. 417, will open the particular membership drive with a dinner at the Bellevue-Stratford. Arrangements are in charge of Post Commander Dr. Charles S. Shaffer and Adjutant Morris Starr, and the date of the dinner is shortly to be announced.

In connection with the campaign there will be held also on March 23 a mass-meeting in P. O. S. of A. Hall 1317 North Broad street. Another committee composed of Howard I. Stern, Irving Wilson, Harry McDonald, Benjamin Cooper, Jerome Young, Benjamin M. Simons and William James Jones has this matter in charge.

"Fathers' Night" will be celebrated with much song and joviality by the members of Kensington Post, No. 42, and their parents on Tuesday evening, March 17. Many men prominent in business, professional and political activities of the northeastern district will attend this affair.

WILL ENTERTAIN JUDGES

Judges of the Courts of Common Pleas and of the Orphans' Court will be the guests of the Lawyers' Club this evening at the Bellevue-Stratford.
