My Old Kentucky Home and Every Other Home—

Thank Dear Old George
MacDonald, Who Wrote
Donald Grant

(and a dozen more unforgettable story books) for buying

"to have what we want is riches, but
to be able to do without it is power."

To acquire a disposition, if not inherited, to do without certain things, is equal to an income of a hundred dollars a month. So doing, you can have a little silver mine in your own garden.

Read as much as you can, remember all of it that is possible, listen to the stars and grow up contentedly.

If we cannot all sit on a front porch, we can sometimes sit on the front steps in the sun.

The Very Latest Wraps Show the Lip-Stick Red Linings and Deep Fringe Trimmings

Enchanting new scarf wraps of black satin and dark blue eponge, picturesque to the last degree in cut, and lined—the first with satin and the second with the same eponge that makes the outside—in the vivid new lipstick red.

Moreover, they have the deepest of fringe.
Other novel wraps are of tricotine and Poirat twill and linings that are nothing short of exquisite. A matronly black wrap has deeply fringed shawl sleeves; a full cape has its fringe arranged in clusters.

Prices $85 to $135.

Antiques

A series of old Colonial rooms, devoted almost exclusively to early American furnishings, is now
open along the Thirteenth Street side of the Fifth Floor.

Old bedsteads, old cupboards, desks, chairs, settees, tables, clocks, old hooked rugs, china, pottery, glass and the various objects of household furnishing of an earlier day
make this a fascinating
section to lovers of old-
time things.

Incidentally, much of this old furniture is surprisingly low in price.

NEW FRENCH NECKWEAR AT HALF

Hand-embroidered and hand-drawn French collars
of many shapes and styles,
some trimmed with real laces, are priced at just half regular.

They constitute a French
neckwear maker's sample pieces, purchased in Paris,
and are a fine opportunity for those wishing to lay in unusually dainty neckwear for little. Some sets are included.

Priced from $2 to $15.

Right Now Wants Something, Needs Something and Must Have Something From the GREAT MARCH SALE OF HOUSEWARES

This is a particular annual event of interest to every housekeeper in the land. It signalizes the time for replacements of kitchen utensils, laundry utensils and housekeeping utensils generally.

It brings everything for the kitchen, for the laundry, for the bathroom, for housecleaning.

It brings more than 75,000 new articles at savings of 10
to 50 per cent.

It is a matter of particular importance that everything provided in this Sale is new and of the highest quality, and yet prices are not higher than inferior articles are sold for elsewhere.

It is the best opportunity in five years at least to stock up with everything you need from a cleaning cloth to a refrigerator—and we have some splendid refrigerators at very low prices in this Sale.

"The Best Sale of China and Glassware in Years"—That Is What We Said

And here is a magnificent abundance of fine, beautiful perfect wares from the leading potteries, glass works and studios of the world to prove it, for instance:

American Semi-China Dinner Sets, $32.50
106-piece sets of remarkable quality at this price.
Twelve handsome patterns—border designs, mostly with coin-gold handles and gold-traced edges.

French China Dinner Sets, $60
In fifteen different patterns, beautiful border designs, with coin-gold handles. These are obtainable here only. All are sets of 106 pieces.

Gold-Incrusted French China Dinner Sets, $175
106-piece sets of splendid quality. Fine Limoges china, all with solid matt gold handles. These are typical of hundreds of other sets equally unusual for the money and priced at $35, $40, $45, $50 up to $225.

Colored Glassware and Cut Glass Rich Features of the Sale
There are three tables of new colored glass in a delightful choice of blue, pink, yellow, ivory, amethyst and other shades and at wonderfully low prices.

Ecru Scotch Madras Curtaining at 40c a Yard

2000 yards of a desirable quality, usually sold for half again as much.
Three designs—all-over, block and diamond patterns in a deep cream or ecru and very dainty for curtainings.
(Fifth Floor)

Bedspreads That Delight Homekeepers

Scarcely anything in the way of bedclothing has won such popularity as have these spreads.
To every homekeeper who sees them they appeal instantly.

Made of curtain material, with an inch and a half seer-sucker weave alternating with a Jaquard weave stripe.
Corners are cut out at the foot and each spread is scalloped all around and has a bolster piece to match.

Choice of solid ecru or striped effects in old rose and blue.
Because of their ripple, or seersucker weave, they don't need to be ironed.
Single-bed size, 72x100 inches, $15 for a spread and
bolster piece.
Double-bed size, 90x100 inches, $18 for spread and
bolster piece.

Golf Clubs for Left-Handed Players—Men's and Women's

Left-handed golfers play under a natural physical handicap without clubs suited to them.
The left-hand club is what they need, and we are showing a variety of these specially made clubs.
We have them in all models, both wood and iron.
And we don't believe there is another such variety
to be found anywhere.
Price $5 each.

Any Umbrellas to Be Re-Covered?

Remember, March is the month when special prices are in force and you can have all the family umbrellas made over for much less than at any other time.
Coverings of a good, sturdy cotton (American taffeta), 85c each. Silk-and-cotton (union taffeta), $2.15. Imported satin gloria, $3. Black or colored silk (only for women's umbrellas), $3.50. A finer grade of silk for men's or women's umbrellas, $4.50.

The "Fairfax" Silver a Fine Old Colonial Pattern

More than any other, perhaps, the "Fairfax" expresses the spirit of hospitality and graciousness that one associates with the finest Southern home.

The lines are simple and dignified, the shape slightly octagonal. It has the bright finish and is of dependable weight. The "Fairfax" can be carried out in the entire tea service and flat silver.

The five-piece tea service is $290. The kettle, $195; the waiter, with inlaid mahogany base, $225.

New Tweed Tailored Suits to a Young Woman's Liking

In the entire Spring wardrobe there is nothing more important than a good-looking tailored suit for the street.
And it is generally first on the list of purchases.

These new tweed suits are beautifully tailored and in two of the smartest Spring styles. They have the youthful straight-cut coat and plain straight skirt, slightly gathered in the back. The coat is silk lined.

The tweed is all wool and in the prettiest shades of rose, light blue, tan and orchid. The price is only $32.50. Sizes, 14 to 20 years.
(Second Floor)

Handbags Have Come In at the Wee-est of Prices

Most surprising of all is the style—every one the newest and every one a splendid quality.

There are vanity boxes, envelope bags with either the top or back strap, pouch bags or shopping bags.
Colors are just as varied—ranging from rose and Pekin blue to black, brown or mouse.

Prices are as low as $3 on the new shipment and none
over $5.
(Main Floor)

Women's Underthings of Glove Silk a Fourth Less

Think of silk undervests at $2.25 or the extra sizes at $2.50!

Heavy, soft, velvety silk in rose pink.
Cut big, well made and have reinforcements under the arms.
They have bodice top with ribbon shoulder straps, and sizes range from 36 to 44 bust.

A Sensible Shoe That Is Not Clumsy

Women who are much on their feet and who have difficulty in finding a shoe so entirely comfortable that they can forget all about it, will find

to exactly meet their need.
These famous preventive and corrective shoes do not sacrifice appearance to comfort. Their somewhat broadened heel is not very different looking from the low broad heels of many smart street shoes now worn.
The scientific features that make the Anatomik a superior shoe are more apparent in the wearing than to the eye.

For women there are Anatomik high shoes of black kidskin in several different styles at $15 a pair; and black kid oxfords at $14 a pair.

Anatomik shoes for babies, to insure the little feet
being started off right, are $6 and $7.50.

N. B. Dr. Cole, who worked for years to perfect this remarkable health shoe, will be here Thursday from 11 to 3, to advise with those who wear it or wish to wear it.

Fascinating New Frocks Come for Younger Sister

Everything to complete her Spring trousseau, in fact, from checked gingham, quaint English prints and other cotton materials for school up to the frilliest silk dresses for afternoon and special occasions.

One thing you will notice in particular is that there is such a marvelous variety of fabrics and so many,
many styles. They are unusually pretty this Spring, and a number of the most effective little touches we have ordered especially.

In the morning dresses, including linens, from $5 to $23.50.

In the afternoon dresses, taffetas, Canton crepes, printed crepe de chine and pongee, $16.50 to $35.

Sizes range from 6 to 17 years.
(Second Floor)

For Figures Too Slight to Need Corsets

The L. R. waists and girdles are an ideal substitute.
There is a buttoned-front waist especially for growing girls.
It is light weight, with elastic at the sides and priced $2.

For slender women there is a topless slip-on of pink satin and elastic, at $3.

L. R. girdles in 12 to 14 inch lengths, of elastic and broche, are $3, $3.50, $4 and $4.50.
(Third Floor)

Silk Lingerie Like Spring Blossoms

So delicate the colors that are arriving every day.
Materials are Georgette, crepe de chine, radiums and crepe-back satins, in exquisite shades of pink, blue, orchid, peach color.

Fine imitation filet laces form the yokes of some of the nightgowns, and lace and lovely two-tone French ribbons are the effective trimmings on all the garments.

Chemises, $5.50 to $12.
Nightgowns, $12 to $16.50.
Camisoles, $3.85.
(Third Floor)

Spring Coats for Babies Under Two

White corduroys of the unlined sort which are chosen to wear with quilted linings inside, $3.50 to $8.50.

White crepe coats, $7.50 to $20.
White, pink and blue crepe de chine coats, often with embroidery, $5 to $20.
(Third Floor)

So Many Neckties at 50c That a New Section Has Started

Thousands upon thousands of neckties, all at the one price.
And it's a price that strikes right at the common sense of men.
An everyday tie for 50c.
Name a pattern, a color arrangement, a style that has struck you as smart. Surely it's here, among these fifty-cent ties.
Again this Spring the shepherd's-plaid checks are the vogue and they are in the lot.
Bold striped ties, narrow striped ties, fancy ties, plain-color ties, in fact,
hundreds of different patterns.
Bat wings? Cool-looking neckdress for men in Spring and there's a world of choosing among them at fifty cents.

Brogues Again! And How Men Step Around to Get in Them

Brogues for the sporting hour, brogues for the hike,
brogues for business.
What is smarter, more practical, more stylish, more serviceable than a modified brogue? A modified brogue with perforations everywhere they would look well.
And at $10.50 there are no better brogues to be found
than these of tan imported Scotch-grain calfskin.
Solid soles stitched aloft, low flange heels and bleached calf quarter lined.
The same shoe in black is priced $10.

Just the Hat for a Man to Wear Until Straw Hat Time —$2.50

A good, sound, new, brown felt hat, and from now on until the first of May is soft hat time.
This hat at $2.50 will well serve the purpose of the man who wants a clean, new hat to carry him through and to put away to start another season.
A handsome hat in varying shades of brown.
