CHAPTER VI
The Secret Glad

The frightened miser fled through the woods. They had played ghosts to the robbers who were stealing the gold; they hadn't thought to sway the miser himself.

"Too-who! Too-who! Too-who!" Judge Owl, flying after the miser, called out. "I'll catch you!"

"I'll catch you!" Judge Owl was high in the air. He thought it fun to play ghost. He and Janet, staring into the deserted house, didn't know what to do. They had frightened the robbers, but the miser's gold and jewels were still there.

"We leave the gold and jewels in the hands of the robbers may come back in a few minutes and get them," said Jack. "I'll take them to the house of the miser's son," said Janet. "The sick miser's son. If he takes the gold and jewels perhaps the robbers will give him his rightful share."

Jack had a fine idea, so Jack crept to the window and got the sacks of gold and silver. He gave the sack of gold to Janet to carry, for that was the heavier of the two, and he placed the sack of silver upon his own back. Then mounting, he and Janet fled into the woods.

"I'll catch you!" Judge Owl over the miser's head and the miser ran until he could see no more. Jack and Janet caught up with him as he staggered alone. He was in a daze and they thought that was the end of him. He dropped on his knees and begged for mercy.

"If we have your life what will you do?" he asked in a voice as deep as he could make it. "I'll give you my gold and jewels," he said.

"I'll give you my gold and jewels," he said. "I'll give you my gold and jewels," he said. "I'll give you my gold and jewels," he said.

Spring Frocks at Their Prettiest, Prices at Their Lowest in the Great Spring Fashion Sale in Wanamaker's Down Stairs Store

What charm, what sprightliness, what vivacity! What dancing gaiety of fashion! Spring frocks are in their heyday, lovelier, more individual and altogether more charming than they have been in years.

And Prices?

They're away down. It's a treat to see what $10 will buy, and with $16.50 or $25 one can do marvels.

Imagine a becoming little frock of brown Canton crepe with bands of brown moire ribbon trimming the skirt and a garland of silk fruit at the waist—for $10. It is sketched.

Or for $16.50 a slip-on frock of navy Poiret twill with a henna silk gumpie and a little sleeveless jacket of the twill bound with henna silk braid. It, too, is sketched and is most bewitchingly youthful.

For $25 you can get almost any kind of frock you may have in mind. One of the prettiest is a sports frock of silk eponge with a white crepe de chine bodice and a shoulder cape of eponge. Lovely in blue and white.

MEN! An All-Wool Suit With Two Pair of Trousers at $25

A proposition like that warrants the use of a few minutes of a busy man's time to look it over.

That is all one of these suits needs to make a friend—a few minutes' inspection by a man who knows clothing values.

This Is What the Suits Are:

All-wool oxford gray chevot is well cut and carefully tailored into conservative and semi-conservative suits for business men.

They are Spring suits that can be put on now and worn well into the Summer.

Odd Trousers of All-Wool Materials to match almost every imaginable pattern and bring old coats and vests into service again, are $5 to $7.50.

(Gallery, Market)

Men's Spring-Weight Union Suits, $1.25

Light-weight ribbed cotton union suits with short sleeves are ankle length. In white and ecru, especially well finished. All regular sizes.

(Gallery, Market)

Men's All-Silk Half Hose—$1 Pair

Black, navy, cordovan and gray in some sizes. They would be double this price if first quality, but the slight imperfections which class them as "seconds" will not hurt the wearing qualities.

(Gallery, Market)

Men's Oxfords as Brisk as March, $5

"The finest looking $5 Oxfords in town!" More than one man has expressed that opinion, but yours is as good as the next man's, so suppose you see them for yourself!

A man can choose either straight tips and saddle straps or square wing tips. Both show many decorative perforations, sound welted soles and rubber heels. Of black or tan leather.

Calfskin Oxfords at $6.50

When we say calfskin we mean the first outside cut of the skin, the most durable cut of leather and the one that keeps its good appearance longest. These Oxfords are of black and tan calfskin on the accepted lines of the Spring season.

Boys' Shoes at $2.90

Rough-wear shoes made like army shoes and soft-toe shoes are both here at this low price. Even the active small boy will take longer than usual to kick them through. Of tan leathers, with spring or regular low heels, in sizes 9 to 2.

A good idea to get some for very active little girls, too!

Older Boys' Shoes—$4

Black and tan leather shoes on medium and round-toe shapes are in blucher and straight-lace styles. Soles are sturdy and welted. Sizes 1 to 5½.

(Gallery, Market)

Snow-White Bedspreads

With housecleaning time and Spring just around the corner most housewives want to replace old, worn bedspreads with fresh new ones. These are good:

- $2.25 for crocheted spreads, neatly hemmed, 78x90 inches.
- $5 for pretty satin-finish spreads, hemmed, 78x88 inches.
- $10 for extra fine satin-finish spreads, heavy and lustrous; hemmed, 90x100 inches. The same quality and size with cut corners and scalloped edges, $12.50.

Spring Has Brought Her Prettiest Hats

To the Down Stairs Millinery Salons

Youthful hats of grosgrain ribbon have soft brims that can be worn at any angle. Hats of shining laize de paille, the newest mode from Paris, are trimmed with soft plumage or spreading bows of ribbon.

Then there are hats with lacquered quills, hats with garlands of gaily colored fruits or flowers.

Periwinkle blue, canna, cascade, paprika, fuchsia, dahlia, rose-rust, hollyhock and yellowstone are some of the most fashionable colorings and there are scores of charming hats in black.

Here are hats for every purpose, hats for any time of day, at $6, $8 and $10.

(Market)

Filet Lace Trims These $2 Nightgowns

Softest batiste made into a dainty Empire gown. Lace edges the neck and armholes and little bows catch the pointed shoulders together. Flesh and white.

Colored Organdie Nightgowns

are pretty in rosy pink, orchid and peach, bound and feathered in white. Honey-dew-and-black is another startling but altogether charming combination. $2.25.

(Central)

Dainty Hand-made Blouses, $3.50

Drawn-work, squares of hemstitching, hand-embroidered dots and edgings of real filet lace add to the daintiness of fine white batiste wee stitches put in by hand.

Peter Pan and square-neck, roll-collar styles are in regular sizes.

(Market)

Special at $10, $11.25, $13.50, $15

$10 for dresses of homespun tweed with capes or leather collars. For navy Poiret twill, wool jersey, taffetas and Georgette crepe. At least 50 different models.

$11.25 for dresses of navy taffeta with brightly colored fruit of duvetyne applied with silver thread; for navy Poiret twill and crepe de chine frocks in canna, navy, black, brown and beige.

$13.50 for especially delightful taffetas dresses, Canton crepes and wool jerseys in navy, brown, beige, reindeer and black.

$15 for sports dresses of silk eponge embroidered with wool, in putty, black, jade and tangerine; taffeta and crepe de chine with panels and braid in canna, periwinkle and sand; for navy Canton crepe dresses elaborately beaded.

Special at $16.50, $20, $25

$16.50 for hundreds of dresses in every fashionable Spring material—beaded or embroidered Georgette crepe, taffeta, silk eponge, crepe de chine, Canton crepe, wool Canton crepe, lace or charmeuse.

$20 for dresses of Poiret twill, Georgette crepe combined with taffeta, handsome satin-back Canton crepe dresses and tricollet dresses with wide lace stripes. Periwinkle, jade, sand, navy, black and brown.

$25 There is no end to the variety here! Canton crepe combined with silk eponge, Canton crepe heavily beaded, crepe dresses of wool jersey or silk eponge, tailored dresses of fine Poiret twill and tricotine and exquisite taffetas.

Any Kind of Spring Wrap a Woman May Desire—and at Any Price

Capes

Many of double-faced reversible fabrics, are the most popular Spring wraps with young women. Others are of herringbone, tweeds with a camel-hair finish, velour, illama cloth, serge and bolivia at $15, $18.50, $20, $25 to $55.

Dolmans

have a certain dignity of line that many women like. They are of soft velours, illama cloth and bolivia in soft sand shades, brown, cinnamon, navy and black. All silk lined at $15, $18.50, $20, $25 to $65.

(Market)

Sports Coats

Tan coatings are the favorite material, though many tweeds and herringbones will be worn. They're jaunty and youthful and are cut on the simplest tailored lines, $18.50, $20, $25 to $45 for real camel's hair.

Street Coats

This embraces the great variety of velour tricotine and bolivia coats that keep to the more conservative lines. They are in real Spring colors, as well as navy and black, and all are finely lined with silk. $18.50, $25, $32.50, $35 to $65.

20,000 Yards of the Prettiest Cretonnes We've Ever Shown—20c to 65c

Cretonne is the magic wand that can brighten the dullest home and make people glad to live in it. Cretonne with much real charm is low enough in price to be within reach of the most moderate income. And there are cretonnes fine and good enough to use on precious old furniture.

Especially noteworthy among the numerous kinds of cretonne at each price are:

- 35-inch cretonne at 20c.
- Striking bird designs as low as 25c.
- Light-ground cretonnes, that look very much like the imported printed linens, at 30c.
- Really lovely tapestry effects at 35c.
- New gingham cretonnes are in cross-bar patterns with delightful, colorful nose-gays of flowers here and there. What quaint garden aprons they'll make too! 50c yard.

After-Dinner Tricks

Shaken Handkerchiefs Unfolded

Two handkerchiefs are borrowed and a shake by the right hand. They immediately become knotted together, making the handkerchiefs, the knot disappears.

The secret is a rubber band, around thumb and first two fingers of the right hand. The rubber band is slipped over the fingers of the handkerchiefs, and when they appear to be knotted, the band causes the knotted handkerchiefs to unravel.
