WITH RUTH ABSENT, NEW ORLEANS FANS TRAIL GOLF STARS

Tom Barnes and Jock Hutchison, at Tail-End of Long Tour, Attract Most Attention in Yankees' Training Camp

By ROBERT W. MAXWELL, Sports Editor Evening Public Ledger. New Orleans, La., March 7. THE New York Yankees, minus Babe Ruth, have not made the big hit in this town that was expected...

BARNES and Hutchison, as is generally known, are golfers of duze, champions in every sense of the word.

JOCK and Jim have played thirty-five games thus far. They have five more to play. Of those already played they have won twenty-six, finished all even in four and lost five.

They arrived in San Francisco on Christmas Day and on the following day played against Macdonald Smith, one of the greatest natural golfers in the business, and Sam Whiting.

They arrived in San Francisco on Christmas Day and on the following day played against Macdonald Smith, one of the greatest natural golfers in the business, and Sam Whiting.

BARNES and Hutchison played ten matches in the vicinity of San Francisco. In one of these games they were beaten at Oakland by John Black and Abe Espinosa by 5 and 4.

FOLLOWING this match the champions competed in the Northern California open tournament. Hutchison had got his masher working to perfection by this time and he proceeded to give a demonstration of shooting that had the natives on their ears.

JOCK won the title by nine strokes, simply tow-roping the field. Long Jim finished in seventh place.

Many of the professionals complained the appearance of Barnes and Hutchison would result in the ruination of the various courses in California.

There is a common belief on this trip that Hutchison is the better golfer. Next time these fellows are as well matched as any pair you could get, and golf being the game it is means that the results will vary considerably.

ONE man with whom I talked in Los Angeles thought such a result was a frame-up on the part of the champions.

Three Records Broken by Each Star. AT HOUSTON Barnes finished third, Hutchison fifth, two strokes behind. At New Orleans, Hutchison finished fourth, Barnes seventh, so it goes.

There is nothing else I believe is quite important. It is a common belief on this trip that Hutchison is the better golfer.
