

CAMDEN TO RUSH ROAD BUILDING

Freeholders Plan to Give Plenty of Work to Unemployed of the City

REALTY MEN ELECT BOARD

Members of the Camden County Board of Freeholders are active in an effort to rush the work of re-surfacing the historic White Horse pike from Camden to Berlin. Plans of the freeholders call for a roadway twenty-nine feet wide. The road will be built of concrete to withstand the heavy truck travel. The freeholders have provided bonds for the cost of the work with the understanding that the county will be reimbursed from funds collected for automobile registration.

The board also has mapped out an extensive road-building campaign which will provide work for many unemployed men. The Marlton pike from Ellensburg to the Burlington County line will be paved with sheet asphalt and Evesham road from Magnolia to Mt. Ephraim pike will be paved.

The Camden Real Estate Board has elected the following directors: Edward Cutler, Edgar Freeman, William Hambleton, Carl R. Evers, G. Carr Jessup, Maurice Rudderow, Ralph G. Van Hart, Howard F. Lupton, William A. Rockhill, William Schmidt, George Wimer, Charles H. Hinton, president.

The directors of the board, has mapped out an extensive program for his year's work.

For the third time, Mrs. A. B. France, Sr., of Camden, has been elected president of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Crusade Commandery, Knights Templar. The election was unanimous.

Other officers elected were: First vice president, Mrs. John D. Parks, Gloucester City; second vice president, Mrs. William H. France, Merchantville; recording secretary, Mrs. Edward West, Camden; financial secretary, Mrs. Charles McClintock, Camden; treasurer, Mrs. Joseph L. Shackelford, Haddonfield.

Camden police do not believe that Edward Richey knows anything about the attempt on Monday night to wreck a West Jersey and Seaside Railway electric train in Camden. The suspect denies all knowledge of the plot. He is being held for further investigation.

Giving up all plans of marriage, Corporal George Morrison, Camden's only blind World War soldier, is reconciled with his mother, Mrs. Bertha Morrison, in their home, 215 High street, Camden, which was purchased from funds raised by patriotic citizens of Camden.

Corporal Morrison and Miss Margaret Marshall, 15 years old, 123 Dudley street, Camden, had planned to elope to Elkton on Tuesday, but were stopped at the West Philadelphia station by his mother. Morrison was first angered because his plans were frustrated, but now he is satisfied.

In the Continuation School, at Broadway and Mount Vernon streets, Camden, representatives of the Continuation Schools of New Jersey tomorrow will attend a conference called by Iris O'Leary, State Commissioner.

The conference will discuss the children will be discussed. Dr. James E. Bryan, superintendent of the Camden schools, will welcome the delegates.

Three men arrested for refusing to pay a fine of $100 because they sent their children to Camden Public School without being vaccinated were released today under $100 bail each. They are Luke Bates, James Adams and J. P. Walker, of West Berlin, N. J.

The release of the men was obtained by Walter Kowalski, Camden, who had been ordered by Common Pleas Court to order the prisoners' release pending a review of the case.

Love's young dream received a cruel jolt in Camden yesterday, when Nat Wine, fifty-five years old, a rooming-house proprietor at 743 Florence street, broke in upon an intimate scene between Katy Higger, twenty-two years old, one of his lodgers, and a gentleman who was sitting on her lap.

"What do you want?" inquired the lady coldly.

"I want that to stop," announced Mr. Wine. "I won't have such carrying on in my house."

The one outstanding fact in the confusion that followed, according to Miss Bigger's own statement this morning before Recorder Stackhouse, is that every time the intruder tried to say anything subsequently she "gave him a crack on the jaw."

When things calmed down Miss Bigger's caller had departed, and her host was in a badly damaged condition. She was permitted to furnish her own bail to await the action of the Grand Jury.

PENN WILL START DRIVE FOR $10,000,000 FUND

Dr. Penniman Says Campaign Will Not Wait on General Wood

The organization of the $10,000,000 endowment campaign of the University of Pennsylvania will not await upon the coming of General Leonard Wood to his new post, but will proceed immediately. Acting Provost Penniman told the Maryland Club of the University last night in Baltimore.

Dr. Penniman said the trustees had commissioned him to form a committee for organizing the machinery of the campaign. It is planned to have a central office of the endowment committee at the University, which will establish contact with the alumni throughout the country.

Dr. Penniman told the 100 alumni at last night's affair that reports of overcrowding at the University were untrue, with the exception of the Wharton School and the School of Education.

MORE GRIPPING SHORT STORIES

Stories of love, adventure and mystery full of action and thrilling situations appear every Sunday in the magazine "See and Hear" published by the Public Ledger. Be sure to get "The Man Killer," by Frederick Irving Anderson, and "Ballad of Sam," by Morgan Johnson, in the March 12 issue of the Sunday Public Ledger.—Advt.

BEGIN WORK ON PUBLIC LEDGER BUILDING

MAKE START ON CLEARING SITE
This photograph was made this morning at the northeast corner of Seventh and Sansom streets, the first building to go in clearing the site for the new home of the Public Ledger, morning, evening and Sunday. Charles Reed, chief engineer of the Public Ledger Building; Mrs. Frieda Kipp and Miss Ethel Till, shown here in the order named, loosened the first bricks.

MAYOR AND COMMITTEE INSPECT SITES FOR FAIR

City's Executive Says Recommendation Will Be Made Soon

Another tour of inspection of proposed sites for the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition was made today by Mayor Moore and members of the Executive Committee of the exposition association. The trip took Mayor Moore and his party to the proposed Parkway-Fairmount Park site and the upper Roosevelt boulevard site.

Mayor Moore said that before next Tuesday's meeting of the exposition association, the committee would be prepared to recommend a site.

Speaking of the situation in reference to inducing Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, to accept the post of director general, his salary being guaranteed by Edward W. Bok, Mayor Moore merely said, "Mr. Hoover is in possession of the facts with regard to the city's offer."

The tour of inspection was hurried, as Mayor Moore had to be at the Union League Club to address the Philadelphia Real Estate Board.

SHE DECLINES NOMINATION

Mrs. Dornblaser Leaves Delaware County Women Undecided

As Mrs. Handy M. Dornblaser, Lancaster, has refused to accept the Democratic nomination for the State Assembly from Delaware County. The matter of selecting a candidate has been left to the Nominating Committee of the county organization.

Mrs. Robert C. Brooks, Swarthmore, who was mentioned as a candidate, said today she could not make the race.

"Nobody on the Democratic ticket ever gets elected," said Mrs. Brooks, "there is no dissension or division among the Democratic women of Delaware County over the nomination. After Mrs. Dornblaser refused to run, my name was suggested, but I also will not be a candidate. We do not yet know who will be nominated."

SIX AUTO THIEVES ESCAPE

Detected Stripping Stolen Car. They Flew as Police Fire on Them

Six men, discovered in the act of stripping a stolen automobile at Eighty-fourth street and Darby Creek late last night, escaped after a chase by mounted police. The men were thought to have wounded one of the men.

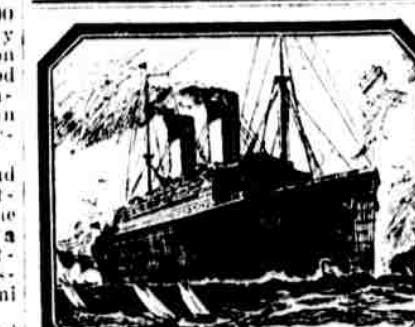

Mounted Police-men Cavanaugh and Waldow, of the Sixty-fifth and Woodland avenue station, came upon the men at 11:30 P. M. They immediately jumped into another automobile and drove off pursued by the officers, who fired at them.

The fugitives abandoned their car at Fifty-seventh and Woodland avenue, where it was found by the police, marked with bullet holes and with one flat tire. The men escaped. Police believe, from an examination of the car, that one of its occupants was wounded.

Public Ledger Starts Building

might process that will turn out copies with marvellous speed, the photo-engraving department, the rotogravure department, the composing rooms and all other mechanical needs that enter into the making of a modern newspaper.

The first building unit will extend 145 feet on Seventh street and 215 feet on Sansom street. It will have four stories, but will be as high as the average six-story building.

The pressroom on the first floor will be twenty-seven feet high, while the second, third and fourth stories will be seventeen feet in height, assuring an abundance of light and air for the mechanical forces.

An order has been given for $1,250,000 worth of presses and press equipment, the largest ever given in this country. The manufacturing building itself and the other equipment will cost another $1,250,000, or a total of $2,500,000.

There will be forty units in the press equipment, capable of turning out 480,000 twenty-four-page newspapers an hour, a capacity that will assure unusual speed in distribution.

A unique feature will be that the press and delivery rooms will be combined, so that the steady stream of papers will be conveyed to loading stations, packed on motortrucks and whisked away to railroad stations and the sectional points of distribution within the city by swift motortrucks.

The second unit of the structure will occupy the present site of the Public Ledger Building, while the third unit will extend to Seventh and Chestnut streets, extending south to join the first unit.

Completion of the entire project will mean the rearing of an imposing structure covering the entire area from Chestnut to Sansom streets and from Sixth to Seventh streets.

It will be in keeping with the rapid and continuing growth of the PUBLIC LEDGER, under the present ownership, from a daily circulation of 45,000 to 275,000, and of a Sunday circulation from 60,000 to 230,000.

Where, formerly, a comparatively few horse-drawn wagons were adequate for the distribution of the PUBLIC LEDGER, eighty-seven motortrucks are now required.

NEW POSTMISTRESS IS ILL

Fort Washington's Office Is Temporarily in Charge of Ex-Postmaster

Fort Washington's new postmaster, Mrs. Edie Laug, is confined to her bed with a severe attack of grip. She assumed her duties last week.

Louis Kitson, the former postmaster, has taken charge in Mrs. Laug's absence, and will attend to the duties of the office until she has recovered.

FINDS FIANCEE MARRIED ON VOYAGE FROM GERMANY

Philadelphia Jilted by Berlin Girl for Ship's Officer

Harry Krause, 1239 Venango street, went to New York yesterday to meet his fiancée, a Berlin girl, only to learn she had been wooed and won on the voyage over by the chief officer of the United American Line ship Mount Carroll.

Franklin Charlotte Emma Maria Schlosser, twenty years old, promised to wed Krause last summer when he was in Berlin. About two weeks ago she started for America, chartered by the Baroness Wally von Kahliden.

Walton Stephens, thirty years old, chief officer of the Mount Carroll, fell in love with the Berlin girl. With the help of a few moonlight evenings at sea Stephens made the girl forget Krause.

Stephens feared he might lose the girl if he waited for a ceremony ashore. The ship's captain was prevailed upon and exercised his authority to wed the pair on the high seas. The baroness, chaplain, a friend of Krause's family, was unable to prevent the wedding.

Krause is returning brideless to his home here today. Baroness von Kahliden is coming, too, for a visit to the jilted youth's parents.

WOMAN AND GIRLS SAVED FROM BLAZE

Firemen Carry Patrolman's Wife and Small Children Down Ladder From Window

STAIRCASE IN FLAMES

While his wife screamed for aid from a second-story window, Patrolman Earl Schnell ran through a blazing shed, the only exit from his second-floor apartment at 2537 Memphis street, today and summoned firemen.

Mrs. Schnell and her two children, Emily, aged four, and Violet, aged two, were carried down a ladder by firemen. The rear staircase, the only exit, was ablaze, the flames reaching the second-floor rear room.

The Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company has a branch store on the first floor of the building. There is no staircase connecting the store with the second floor apartment and a side door on the rear is used as a kitchen by the Schnell.

The patrolman, who is attached to the Trenton avenue and Dauphin street station, was off duty at 9:30 o'clock this morning. He was sitting in his uniform trousers, an undershirt and caplet slippers reading a paper.

Mrs. Schnell started downstairs to the shed and saw a red glow. She called her husband, who found the kitchen ablaze. Schnell told his wife to go to a window and yell for help while he tried to break through the burning shed.

The fire did not reach the store. After their rescue by firemen Mrs. Schnell's home near by while the patrolman began patching up the burned stairway.

ACCUSED OF AUTO THEFT

Youth Arrested Before Taking Cars—Held Under $1000 Bail

Arthur O'Connell, seventeen years old, of 2533 West Clearfield street, was held under $1000 bail by Magistrate Down today, charged with the larceny of an automobile. He will receive a further hearing next week.

O'Connell is said to have been arrested several times before for similar offenses. The automobile, which bore Pennsylvania license No. 402-802, is said to have bloodstains on the radiator, which is denied as from a collision.

Play Fair With Your Purse

For Instance: Perry's Winter Suits and Overcoats are being sold at these reduced prices—$28—$33—$43.

How long has it been since $28, $33 or $43 would buy a fine quality suit or overcoat? Not for eight years at least!

Last year the separate trousers we're selling now for $3.75, $5.00 and $6.00 were nearly double the price. Maybe that's the reason our trouser department is so busy. Fine cassimere and worsted in plain colors and good suiting patterns.

Of Course You'll Need a Spring Topcoat!

Just come and see the remarkable diversity of styles and patterns we've assembled on our Second Floor. Tweeds, homespuns, herringbones, perfectly matched overplaids, knitted fabrics, gabardines and colorful coverts. Most of them cravatnetted, making them "double service" coats in every sense of the words.

An importation of English coats just in. Made of British fabrics in England—expressly for us.

We can't make it too plain that these Spring Overcoats are worth coming a thousand miles to see.

Beautiful greens, grays, browns and plenty of dark conservative colors and styles. There's a coat here to exactly fit in with the wants of every overcoat taste. You don't need to take that with a grain of salt, either, for the goods are here to "prove up" every word we say about them.

And the prices! They could easily have been marked higher and would still have been way under the prices being asked elsewhere.

The Spring Models Are Fine

There is a decided sense of satisfaction in making purchases here because you are assured that whatever you buy is in correct style and not subject to criticism.

We try to be a little ahead of competition in introducing new things, but they must be right from a style standpoint (we won't handle freakish-looking clothes simply because they are different), and so people have confidence in what we offer.

Keep posted on the correct styles in dress—watch our windows, or better still, come in and look at the clothes—we won't pester you to buy.

Spring Suits and Top Coats are priced $30 and upward, with especially attractive values at $40 and $45.
