Henceforth a team scoring a touch-war may put the ball in play on or bet of the opponent's five-yard line and from scrimmage try for a single set of the opponent's five-yard line and from serimmage try for a single solid by any legal scoring play.

The gridiron seers sat in solemn condeve all last night and were still sitting is morning. They read letters to ach other received from fans, coaches, takers and so forth from all over the centry. They cleared the throat, asked for recognition and addressed each ether. From all that hurly-burly of talk nothing has come forth other than the statement that a decision on any danges which might be made for the eliterment of the game of college footial would not be made till noon today.

The members of the committee in mession today are Bill Roper, Princeton; E. K. Hall, Dartmouth; Dr. Alonzo Stag, Chicago; J. A. "This is final," said the Phil boss this morning. "Fletcher will play shortstop. This was our line of reasoning. Art has been playing that short field so long that it would be folly to take him away from it and on the other hand, Parkinson is a young chap and he can easily adapt himself to new conditions. There you have it in a nutshell.

"Fletcher was perfectly willing to play second. In fact, I believe he'd go in there and pitch if we wanted him to, but I think he will be of more value at shortstop than any other posi-

"Parkinson Will Develop

"Parkinson will find it strange in the beginning. The angle of throwing when you go to the right is quite different, but after he's been playing that bag for a spell he will begin to set himself for the chuck to the corner. Then, again, he can fumble that ball and still get his man at first. Parkinson has a crackerjack arm and that's going to help him.
