Adam and Eve All Over Again

When I went to "sweet sixteen" parties, it was always the boys who suggested "postcoital" and the mistletoe, and they, if any one, who would transgress if they dared, who had to be kept in their place. The girls were expected to stand for the higher ideals that would preserve their sweetness and self-respect. They were the banner bearers, the keepers of the faith.

This we have always looked upon not as a lid to change the way the wind blows, but as an integral part of the nature of that species of which the male is the aggressor, the female sought. Have we not been taught from the cradle that the world can be no better than its women?

But now some one who should know better would upset all this and say the boys must be protected from "vamping" and "petting" and that it is the girls who must be kept in their place! Said Miss Janet Richards at a meeting of social workers held recently in New York:

"I have been told by the mothers of five sons that the most serious thing they had to face was the saving of their sons from the girl 'vamp.' These boys have gone to their mothers and said: 'Mother, it is so hard for me to be decent and live up to the standards you have set me. How can I do it with this cheek dancing, and if I pull away they call me a prude. And when I take a girl home in the way that you have told me is the proper fashion, she is not satisfied and thinks I am slow.'

"It is sad to think," Miss Richards continued, "that the girls are setting such standards for the boys and are outlining a plan to get the boys to hand together to raise the standards of the set in which they move, in which the girl 'petter' holds sway."

The girl who has said it was hard for her "to be decent and live up to the standards you have set me," because there were so many bad men, has never been the recipient of much sympathy or respect. What can we say for the young men who make such a complaint?

While it is true that girls are more sex conscious and sophisticated than they used to be, it is a trend that is more bravado and smart-aleckness than due to any inner taint or degeneracy. And who made this seem "smart"? The boys, of course. For thought even the worst of men will always respect the right kind of girl, this type have not been particular about how they obtained their amusement, or what they let girls believe was "the thing." Hammer away at the girls, by all means, to bring them to their senses. But don't let any mother talk to you about "protecting" her boy from baby

No. 100—Appearing Corks
A small pill box is shown to contain three corks. The cover is placed upon the box, and upon removing it again, six corks are seen inside.

The box is of the double-ended variety, both the top and bottom being removable, as shown in the drawing. The three extra corks are previously glued to the inside of one cover, which is removed as the lid to show the three original corks inside the box. Care is taken not to expose the inside of the lid. After the cover is placed on, the box is turned over while shaking it between the hands. This time the ordinary lid is removed, and the corks have doubled.

vamps. If the ideals and standards she has set him have been all deeply ingrained, girl petters will disgust him, not endanger his morals or his manhood. And once the man who is disgusted and turns away, becomes the rule, rather than the exception, there will be no more "vamps" and the world will be perfectly safe for the best mother's son!

CHEATED OUT OF SAVINGS

Chester Widow Seventy Years Old Gives $97 for Empty Pocketbook

Chester, Pa., March 14.—Mrs. Lettie Gaskins, seventy years old, a widow, was the victim yesterday of the ancient pocketbook "flimflam" game, and as a result is $97 poorer. She says her life earnings have dwindled to eleven cents.

According to her story to the police, she saw one of three well-dressed men pick up a pocketbook from the pavement. They permitted her to peek into the pocketbook and she saw a wedge of bills of $50 and $100 denominations. The men told her they were afraid to keep the purse, but would give it to her if she would let them have some money in return. She withdrew $97 from a bank and gave this sum for the pocketbook. Upon reaching home she discovered the pocketbook contained nothing more than strips of paper.

DREAMLAND ADVENTURES

The Magic Fairy Cap
By ARTHUR W. STACE

Jack and Janet are told by Cocky and Merry Robin they can find Fairyland only if they wear a magic fairy cap. They can gain this cap by doing a brave deed and rescuing a fairy in distress. Bonnie Blue Bird brings word that the son of the Fairy King has been caught in the trap of an ogre and that Black Dragon is on the way to eat him.

CHAPTER II
The Lonely Dell

ALARM cries rang through the woods. "Help! Help! Prince Flitter-Flash is in the trap of Fairy Ogre. Black Dragon is on the way to eat him. Who will save the son of the Fairy King?"

All the birds were begging help for the Fairy prince. None dared give that help himself.

Janet clung tightly to Jack's hand. The shrieks of the birds were very terrifying.

But above the cries of alarm came the urgings of Cocky Robin: "This is your chance! If you bravely rescue the Fairy prince you will gain the magic fairy cap that will guide you to Fairyland."

Jack tried to push Janet behind him. "You run home," he said. "I'll see if I can rescue Prince Flitter-Flash." Janet wouldn't let herself be pushed away.

"I am brave, too," she cried stoutly, although her knees trembled. "I'll go with you to rescue the Fairy prince."

"Quick! Quick!" clamored the birds. "Black Dragon is hungry."

Jack didn't wait for more. He ran into the woods with Janet still clinging to his hand.

The shrieks of the birds led them over a hill, beyond which lay a charming dell. This dell was abloom with pretty flowers. It seemed a garden of peaceful beauty.

Yet above it the birds were fluttering in terror. They were looking down at a scene horrible, yet so fascinating they could not draw their eyes away.

Jack and Janet halted at the edge of the dell. What was it the birds saw? Was it the Black Dragon? Was it the Fairy Ogre? Were the evil creatures lurking amid the lovely flowers?

The children took a step forward and looked carefully about the dell. Nothing alarming met their eyes. Another step and they heard a tiny buzzing, as of some flying creature in distress. A third cautious step brought to view a net stretched between a tree and a bush where the flowers were the fairest. The buzzing was coming from this net. A quick look showed them something trapped in this net—a creature of dainty form and guany wings.

"The Fairy prince!" gasped Janet.

"He is caught in a spider's web," answered Jack.

"Oh-oo! and there is an awful giant spider—whispered Janet. "See him crouching in his hole."

Yes, they could see an ugly, many-legged creature half-hidden in a den at one corner of the net.

"Look out!" warned Cocky Robin. "Look out below!"

The warning came none too soon. From beneath the spider's web came a hissing. They looked down and saw a snake—a snake with evil head and darting tongue. It was coiled around the tree beneath the spider's web. It had been climbing toward the captured Fairy prince, but now its eyes were on Jack and Janet.

"Run!" cried Jack. He dragged Janet back up the hill.

But there Jack halted. The Fairy prince was in dire need of rescue. It was not brave to leave him there at the mercy of the spider and the snake.

What should Jack do? It took him only a moment to make up his mind.

(In tomorrow's chapter Jack proves brave, and so does Janet, too.)

SPOOK FAILED TO AID LOVE

Woman Desiring Husband Says She Gave Spiritualist $500

New York, March 14.—Intercession through the spirit world to make a man's love grow warm did not succeed, according to testimony by Miss Lena Dunkley, a matron employed at the Brooklyn Training School.

She was a witness yesterday against Mrs. Anna Warwick, of Jamaica, South, before Judge Humphrey, in the Queens County Court. Mrs. Warwick is head of the Mayflower Spiritualistic Church in Brooklyn.

"I wanted a man I knew to love me," testified Miss Dunkley. "I had tried to gain his affection, but I had failed. I was introduced to Mrs. Warwick and she told me that she would straighten out my love affair through the intervention of the spirits. I gave her $500. Then Mrs. Warwick told me to look at the picture of the man I wanted to love me. She said that I was to burn a candle in front of the picture, gaze steadily at the man's neck and concentrate my thoughts. I did this for some time, but there were no results."

Mrs. F. Von Neida Elected

Mrs. Frederick Von Neida was elected president of the ladies' auxiliary of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association at the auxiliary's meeting yesterday in the Bellevue-Stratford. Other officers elected included Mrs. William Pearson, vice president; Mrs. Frederick Straviet, second vice president; Mrs. R. Dietzler, third vice president; Mrs. C. E. Sealey, recording secretary; Mrs. James Knipe and Mrs. Charles Worrlow, treasurers. The directors are Mrs. Finley Acker, Mrs. U. S. Hires and Mrs. Benjamin Meloney.

WANAMAKER'S March 14, 1922 DOWN STAIRS STORE

Wanamaker's Down Stairs Store

The Down Stairs Fashion Salons Are a-Bloom With Spring Loveliness

Frocks of gayly printed crepe de chine, as fresh and colorful as hyacinths!

Sports frocks of Jersey or silk with flying capes.

Afternoon gowns of Canton crepe, glistening with bronze or iridescent beads.

"Three-piece" frocks with little sleeveless coatees.

These are some of the new things in the dress world. Not in years have dresses been so interesting, so different, so altogether charming, and not in years have prices been so low.

The three dresses sketched are admirable examples of what small sums will do in the Down Stairs Store.

$25 for the jacket frock of navy blue Poiret twill with a bodice of crepe de chine in beige, henna, jade or French blue. The sleeveless coatee is embroidered with silk in color to match the crepe de chine of the bodice and the sash is faced with color.

This is but one of hundreds of delightful dresses at $25.

$30 for a sports dress of heavy Russian crepe with a contrasting bodice—orchid or gray with white. This, too, has a little sleeveless slip that might pass as cape or jacket.

$38.50 for an elaborately beaded afternoon gown of Canton crepe—navy or black with iridescent beads or brown with bronze beads. The new design of the beading is the interesting point.

There are literally hundreds of beautiful dresses of all types at less than $50, and the Down Stairs Store is undoubtedly the place to make one's purse go furthest.

Among Spring Wraps It's Capes, Coats or Dolmans

From a Fashion standpoint there seems to be little choice, so one can wear whichever is most becoming with the assurance that it is fashionable.

Young women are particularly fond of the cape idea, and here are dozens of different styles.

Starting as Low as $10 for velour capes in tan and Sorrento, or tweeds in lavender or rose.

Tan polo capes with green facings are $15—and reversible.

Capes with bold plaids, cut wide and circular with a silk lining, or bolivia capes beautifully lined, are $25.

The Wrap That Is Sketched

is of bolivia in reindeer or Sorrento blue, trimmed with heavy embroidery and lined with silk. $35.

Scores of other soft and luxurious wraps of all the fashionable Spring materials at prices ranging upward to $65.

Suits Are Gay With Color

and most refreshing they are, too! Imagine a suit of French blue on a blue-eyed young woman—and blue Spring sky overhead! That's one of the joys of life.

Then there are soft tan suits, rose color, crushed strawberry, lilac and misty grays. Prices start at $12.75 for a suit with an unlined jacket and go to $38.50 with a very wide choice at $25 to $35.

The suit that is sketched is in orchid or Copenhagen piped with gray. $35.

March Sales on the Central Aisle

Women's Gloves at 65c

Duplex chamois lisle in the two-clasp style—white, gray and chamois. Priced low because the sizes are broken, but much better than one usually finds for so little.

Dress Gingham 18c Yard

How many new dresses Mother can plan for herself and all the youngsters. And each one may be different, for there are plain colors, checks and two-color plaids in many color combinations. 26-inch width.

Blouses in Many Pretty Styles, $1.65

Trimmed with figured voile, checked gingham, lace or tiny white ruffling, made of dimity or plain or checked voile. All delightfully fresh and Springlike.

Charming Hats

of real distinction are to be found in the fine collection at $9.50. Just one hat of a kind and each one a joy.

There are small hats of shining straw cloth, sports hats with streamers and very festive little hats with tiny lace veils that just cover the eyes. Truly the spirit of Springtime has been caught by these delightful hats.

3-Piece Toilet Sets Special, $7.50

With Ivory or Shell Finish

Each set consists of a good heavy mirror with deep glass, a brush with good bristles and a heavy comb with fine and coarse teeth. They are all in tritune shape, a very pretty and graceful three-corner finish.

Sets with tortoise shell-finish are very unusual at this price and the lowest former price of the ivory-finished sets was a dollar more.

One's Costume Is Now Incomplete Without Earrings

Very popular are the pearl drops on wee chains—and they begin at 50c a pair.

Plenty of jet black! Hoops and drops and earrings with sparkling tips of crystal, oh, fascinating things they are!

Showers of tiny pearls; Florentine earrings with colorful flowers; many in jade color; others in the hues of amber, sapphire, bright reds, and so on—a myriad assortment, at 50c to $5.

Girls' Fresh New Bloomer Frocks, $2

The prettiest we have ever seen for so little. They are in red, blue, green or brown check with bodices and bloomers of plain color checked gingham and the bloomers have little checked cuffs at the knees. Sizes 6 to 12 years. (Sketches.)

Plaid Gingham Suspender Skirts, $1.50

Dear little skirts in gay plaids, pleated to a belt and topped with suspenders. Sizes 8 to 14 years.

Shirtwaists to wear with these dresses start at $1 for plain white lawn and go to $5.50 for Japanese crepe in soft beige, yellow or orange.

Red Middies, $1

Brightest red with white braid for trimming. Sizes 6 to 14 years. (Market)

Women's Black Sateen Gym Bloomers, $1.50

Many women and girls start gymnasium this time of year, and those who have been at it all Winter want lighter weight bloomers now. Black sateen is just right.

Bigger Boys' Shoes $4.50

Tan calfskin shoes with straight tips and many perforations have rubber heels. Sizes 1 to 5 1/2.

A beauty secret 3,000 years old

The use of palm and olive oils to keep the skin fresh and smooth is nothing new, but a secret known to pretty girls as far back as Cleopatra.

Her Palmolive came in skins and jars, and she had to do her own mixing. But the beautifying cleanser she achieved was the inspiration of the mild, soothing blend science produces today.

Take a lesson from Cleopatra, who kept her youthful beauty long after girlhood's days had passed. She used cosmetics to embellish and enhance her charm, just as women do today. But the foundation was a skin thoroughly and healthfully cleansed from all clogging and dangerous accumulations.

Sooths and beautifies

Palmolive is blended from the same palm and olive oils Cleopatra used—they are the mildest, most soothing ingredients science has been able to discover.

The scientific combination of these rare oils produces a smooth, creamy, lotion-like lather. Palmolive soothes and beautifies while it cleanses. It keeps the skin of the face and body beautifully soft and smooth.

The importance of thorough cleansing

It is absolutely essential to complexion beauty to wash your face thoroughly once a day. Palmolive makes this cleansing doubly beneficial by its mildness.

The profuse, creamy lather penetrates each tiny pore, removing the deposits of dirt, oil and perspiration which cause clogging and enlargement.

Such cleansing is the secret of fresh, smooth skins, as results prove. It stimulates circulation, keeps the texture fine, smooth and youthful.

The woman who fears that washing will age her skin has used the wrong soap. She will change her mind once she tries Palmolive.

PALMOLIVE

Volume and efficiency produce 25-cent quality for only 10c
