

MACKEY SUPPORT DEPENDS ON BELL

Leslie-Magee to Back Former for Governor if Banker Gets Crow's Seat

HINT DEAL TO AID SPROUL

The Max Leslie faction and William Magee, Mayor of Pittsburgh, will show their support to Harry A. Mackey, of this city, for the governorship, should Governor Spruell pick John A. Bell, Pittsburgh banker, to succeed Senator William E. Crow, according to reports in the Pittsburgh Courier, which are being circulated in the city today.

Sensor Crow's resignation from the Senate is expected in a day or two, and politicians here say the plan to name Mr. Bell as his successor.

The Magee-Leslie forces say that if Mr. Bell does not land in the Senate, they will be for him for Governor, but Mr. Bell gets the appointment they will declare for Mr. Mackey for Governor. Mr. Mackey was in Pittsburgh yesterday and endorsed Mr. Bell for the senatorship.

In the meantime Mr. Bell is maintaining strict silence as to his senatorial aspirations, and his friends in Pittsburgh say no announcement will be forthcoming for several days. This is taken to mean that Bell will not enter the race until Mr. Crow announces his withdrawal.

May Succeed Crow

JOHN A. BELL, Pittsburgh banker, who probably will enter the Senate in the place of Senator Crow, who is scheduled to resign within a day or two.

NEAR-BEER BREAKS UP GREEK WEDDING FEAST

Continuous Police Attention to Guests Ends Bridal Festivities

Thirty cases of near-beer, mistaken by the police for a stronger beverage, made doleful the wedding feast of the Rev. Andrew Kornow, a Greek Catholic priest, according to witnesses today at the continuation of the suit for $50,000 damages brought by the bride against four policemen.

Six hundred guests had assembled at 414 Green street to enjoy a banquet that had cost $800 on the evening of May 22, 1929, when the policemen arrested and drove all to the street, according to testimony.

Then the guests were permitted to return to the banquet table, only to be driven out again. This going out and returning was continued several times, and then every one decided to go home.

The policemen who are defendants in Mrs. Kornow's suit are Francis D. Murphy, Joseph L. Lane, George Le Grand and Daniel Sullivan. The case is being heard before Judge Davis in Common Pleas Court No. 3.

MOSLEM SAILOR'S BURIAL

Mohammed Assan to Be Laid at Rest in Mount Moriah Cemetery

The Seamen's Church Institute will have charge of the funeral services to be held for Mohammed Assan, a Moslem sailor, who died yesterday in the Philadelphia General Hospital. The services will be attended by members of the Philadelphia Moslem community, many of whom were friends of the sailor. The Seamen's Church Institute will provide the grave in the Institute's plot in Mount Moriah cemetery.

Mohammed Assan was born in Somalia, thirty-one years ago. He came to Philadelphia on the steamship Daybeater, in April, 1921, as a fireman and a British subject. He became stranded and applied for aid at the Institute. He was kept by the society for several months and in January of this year was sent to the hospital, suffering from tuberculosis. The British consulate office, through its assistant, S. R. Manley, is helping in the funeral arrangements.

G. H. PERKINS CO. SUSPENDS

Firm Said to Have Appropriated Dead Financier's Last Name

New York, March 15.—The brokerage firm of George H. Perkins & Co., which maintained a branch office in Philadelphia, suspended in New York yesterday its business in Philadelphia, following the filing of a bankruptcy petition by the firm in the Federal Court.

Virtually all of the firm's business was for the account of the majority of the deals in German marks. The concern opened about a year ago, shortly after the death of George W. Perkins, financier.

The firm showed no official record named George H. Perkins was connected with the firm, and authorities in New York asserted they believed the firm was not incorporated in the United States, but was a direct challenge to the firm's business.

Authorities pointed out the sale of options on German marks is legitimate, but banks and other houses dealing in foreign exchange transact business under their own names.

BACK AUSTRIAN EXTENSION

Senate Passes Bill Giving Twenty-five Years for Relief Loan

Washington, March 15.—(By A. P.)—The resolution of Senator Lodge, extending for 25 years the loan of $50,000,000 made to Austria for famine relief, was adopted unanimously today by the Senate and sent to the House.

Extension of the loan as provided by the Lodge resolution has been urged recently by many American organizations. The resolution was approved unanimously today by the Senate Finance Committee and unanimous consent given for its immediate consideration in the Senate.

Senator Lodge told the Senate that the Austrian Government was without sufficient funds to operate and pay the loan, and that the American people had joined in famine relief work, had promised also to extend their loans, which are secured by loans on American revenues. The chairman told the Senate that the loan was in the form of a loan and was distributed mostly in Vienna.

'ODS BOOTS! NO FIGHT!

Mayor's Pet Shiner Won't Have Duel With Varette Rival

Frank Giordano, the only non-union Frank Giordano, and long high shoe shiner to his Honor the Mayor, is still standing by his guns in his single-handed campaign for the open shop. And this despite dire threats from the unionists and a direct challenge from Rocco Raccetti, president of the union, to meet him in deadly combat, weapons to be chosen on the scene of conflict.

The fond of the bootshoe shiner has been with the organization of the union, which Frank still refuses to join. It is said that all union members are arrested, and that Frank's loyalty to the Administration has led to his determination to serve the Mayor and his few friends in the hall as a free lance.

price-out, allowing twelve shine tickets for $1, was the first blow delivered by the union.

The last challenge from Raccetti came in writing today. Giordano said that he was too proud to fight, but he thought a lot and doubtless figured that he would be outnumbered. So the challenge remains scornfully unanswered.

BONUS BILL SOON TO BE PRESENTED

Action on Measure to Await Return of Speaker Gillett From Florida

ONE SMALL CHANGE MADE

By the Associated Press

Washington, March 15.—With but a single change from the form in which it was approved last week by the Ways and Means Committee, the compromise Soldiers' Bonus Bill will be ready for formal presentation to the House within the next twenty-four hours. It was approved late yesterday at a meeting of the entire committee, the vote being 19 to 5, with three Democrats and two Republicans opposing the measure.

Indications today were that the completed bill would not be presented to House until tomorrow, as the committee report will not be completed and printed before that time.

The time at which the bill will be called up will not be determined, Chairman Fordney said, until the return here Monday of Speaker Gillett, who is a guest of President Harding in Florida. Republican leaders have discussed a plan to have the measure taken up next Monday under a suspension of the rules, with possible ten hours of debate, but this plan would be contingent upon the Speaker entertaining a motion for suspension and passage of the bill.

Dispatches from Florida last night indicated that Mr. Gillett, who is with President Harding's vacation party, might not consent to consideration of the bill under such a plan, as it would shut off all amendments.

See Two-thirds Majority

A two-thirds majority would be necessary to pass the bill under a suspension of the rules, but proponents still insist that despite continued opposition in and out of Congress, the measure will get more than the two-thirds majority.

There was continued speculation today among House members as to whether Speaker Gillett would bring back to Washington any expression of the views of President Harding on the bill with his bank loan certificate plan. Chairman Fordney says he does not expect the President to send any message to him supplementing the Executive order in which he suggested that the bonus be paid by a sales tax or the legislation postponed.

$15,000,000 Fire Sweeps Chicago

Called a fire-proof structure, held the fire from spreading westward while progress of the flames toward the south was ended by the access the firemen had to the smaller buildings—two to six stories—which begin east of Van Buren street. The Chicago River runs a block east of the burned district, but would have afforded but little protection had the wind veered the sweep of the flames toward the main business section. A vacant lot, the site of the new Union Depot, kept the fire from spreading northward.

$6,000,000 in Burning Bank

Heat from the burning building across the street cracked out the windows of the Mercantile Trust and Savings Bank before the Burlington Building itself was afire. A heavy police guard was thrown about the burning bank, and away quickly when the building caught fire. Cash and securities valued at approximately $6,000,000 are said to be in the bank's vaults, and it may be several days before they can be examined.

Officials of the bank said the vaults were amply protected by heavy steel doors and asbestos walls, and were quite safe. Arrangements have been made to have another bank take over its business until new quarters can be obtained.

The Burlington Building caught fire at about the eighth story and burned up and down. No stream of water was powerful enough to fight the fire in the upper stories. So intense was the heat in the burning district that the steel supports of the elevated structure could be seen at white heat. So intense was the fire that the fire department was unable to reach the burning building by the fire engine, and the fire was not extinguished until it was too late.

McADOO DEPLORES PARTY BIAS IN U. S. GOVERNMENT

Declares Congress Settles All Matters on "Intolerant" Basis

Los Angeles, March 15.—(By A. P.)—What he termed the "intolerant" partisan basis on which our Government functions was deplored today in the first speech delivered by William C. McAdoo, former Secretary of the Treasury and Director General of Railroads, since he came to Los Angeles to make his home.

Spoken before the City Club, he declared all matters taken before Congress or other bodies were settled upon political bases, often much to the detriment of the purpose.

"What we should have in the United States," he said, "is a large body of intelligent citizens who are not affiliated with any party and who could look the balance of the country in the eye. The Americans first, and their check on the big parties would be most valuable."

NATAL CHAMPIONS GANDHI

East Indians in Africa Strike as Protest Against Arrest

Durban, Natal, March 15.—(By A. P.)—The Indian Congress of Natal, in protest against the arrest in India of Mohandas Gandhi, the civil disobedience leader, has attempted to precipitate a general strike in Natal industries. The attempt, however, is only partially successful.

East Indians in Durban adopted a resolution recording their grave concern over the arrest of Gandhi and expressing their determination to preserve peace in the province.

MATZENAUER AND "IDEAL" HUSBAND

The opera diva, Mrs. Margaret Matzenauer, and her "100 per cent" husband, Floyd Glotzbach, who is said to have left her, are shown here as they were before the romance lost its glamour for him. Glotzbach was a chauffeur, who had been employed by the diva to drive her about San Francisco to show her the scenery. At the time of their wedding, Matzenauer called him an ideal husband, and declared she was through with "artistic" matters. Now Glotzbach is back at his old job driving tourists in California, declaring himself tired of the "hot house" life in "Babylon," he called New York, where most of their life together was spent.

guish on the rear seat cushions," she was asked.

"Never since we have been married has he done that. I bought him a high priced car, with an inside driver, because he insisted that he drive himself, and he has had that with gratified every time he got in the car. He never gets in the other car, which is driven by our chauffeur and is used mainly to take my little girl to school."

Glad She's an Orchid

The San Francisco dispatch said her husband asserted that "orchids" will thrive in houses, but will mustard never flourish in California sun.

"I suspect that means that I am an orchid," the diva laughed, "and I feel quite complimented."

"In regard to my husband getting tired of the mad scene from Lucia, I never sang that in my life, for it is a high coloratura part."

"When I married Mr. Glotzbach," Mrs. Matzenauer concluded, "I said that artists should not marry artists and so I have never had reason to regret that statement. My husband is not what one could call artistic, though he enjoys music and if he has not changed in the last two weeks he is still the 100 per cent man I said he was when I married him."

Del Monte, Calif., March 15.—

(By A. P.)—Floyd Glotzbach, chauffeur, whom Margaret Matzenauer, grand opera singer, married because he was still the 100 per cent man, and whose separation from the diva because she didn't want him to get up for breakfast, drive his own automobile or enjoy jazz music, became known yesterday, was back behind the wheel of another man's automobile last night and presumably enjoying himself.

Glotzbach's duties took him so far from home that his first knowledge that his wife had left was from the story of his divorce in the local newspaper. He probably will come from today's edition.

Stanley, hotel manager, who hired Glotzbach a few days ago to drive a night-seeing car and otherwise make himself useful around the hotel's fleet of automobiles, said, however, that Glotzbach had continued the story of his adventure in matrimony as published in Associated Press newspapers.

COLLEGE HEAD TURNS OUT LIGHT ON SCOTT NEARING

Worcester, Mass., March 15.—(By A. P.)—Dr. Wallace W. Atwood, president of Clark University, invaded a lecture in the assembly hall last night before the University Liberal Club, where Prof. Scott Nearing, sociologist, was speaking, and after three times ordering the lecture closed, caused the light to be turned out.

The audience of 200 filed out, hissing their disapproval. Prof. Nearing, who was dismissed from the University of Pennsylvania because of the derogatory views he was criticizing the economic principle of government, society and churches in general and universities and colleges in particular.

President Atwood said he closed the lecture because he felt responsible for the educational influence within the hall of the university.

Willing to Fill All Offices, but Balks on Chasing Chickens

Peru, Mass., March 15.—(By A. P.)—"I've got enough to do. I'll be hanged if I chase every body's cows and chickens too."

It was in this wise that Frank Cramer, "Pooch Bah" of Peru, called a halt on the honors being given him at town meetings. The previous voters of this Berkshire town had just elected him as moderator, town clerk, selectman, treasurer, tax collector, overseer of the poor and member of the Health Board. Then some one nominated him for field driver and he quit.

PACT AMENDMENTS BEATEN IN SENATE

Robinson Reservation Rejected, 55 to 30, and Walsh Proposal, 50 to 27

DOUBT ABOUT RATIFICATION

By the Associated Press

Washington, March 15.—The first of the proposed amendments to the pact having been rejected by a division almost on party lines, the four-Power Pacific Treaty continues before the Senate today with prospects of another lengthy session of debate.

Leaders on both sides in the treaty fight conceded today that the odds of ratification itself little significance could be attached to the 55 to 30 vote by which it rejected yesterday the amendment of Senator Robinson, Democrat of Arkansas, designed to extend the benefits of the treaty to non-signatory nations whose interests are affected.

With eleven votes of the full membership present and voting, the opposition forces marshaled twenty-six Democrats and four Republican votes. This was within two of a third of the full Senate membership, but three less than enough to carry the two-thirds needed for final ratification if all Senators participate in this vote.

A similar amendment by Senator Walsh, Democrat of Montana, was voted down 50 to 27. Senator Pepper voted against both amendments. His colleague, Senator Crow, was not present on account of illness.

NEW CARTRIDGES APPROVED

Frankford Arsenal Officers Make Test With 50-Caliber Machine Rifle

Frankford, Pa., March 15.—Cartridges for a new 50-caliber machine rifle being perfected by the ordnance department of the army were found satisfactory, according to officers from Frankford Arsenal, Philadelphia, who conducted today the State armament reservation here.

The officers—Captain R. L. Rowlin and Captain H. L. Campbell—reported that the bullets demonstrated excellent accuracy with the 50-caliber bullets used in the present machine guns. The new gun, they said, is designed to fire 600 rounds per minute.

Tests of the new machine gun were made after nightfall, so that tracer bullets could be used for the timing of flights.

ARGUE STATUS OF E. F. C.

Government Contends Fleet Corporation Represents United States

Washington, March 15.—(By A. P.)—The legal status of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, questioned in numerous court proceedings, was argued today in the Supreme Court.

The Government presented arguments for an opinion holding the fleet corporation not to be a private corporation engaged in ordinary private functions for profit, but an instrumentality of the Federal Government "representing the United States of America."

Counsel for various shipbuilding companies asserted that the fleet corporation was unable in the courts without the consent of the United States and could not protect itself from the obligation arising under its contracts by contending for the immunity which the laws conferred upon a Government department or bureau.

PEACE ERA NEAR, SAYS DR. POLING

Christian Endeavor Head Talks on Futility of War at Lenten Service

MORAL NEEDS STRESSED

"The Futility of War" was the theme of Dr. Daniel Poling, associate pastor of the World's Christian Endeavor Association, at today's noonday Lenten service in Keith's Theatre.

Dr. Poling, he said, "because of its futility, because of the ravages and the despair of it. The day is dawning when the nations will beat their swords into plowshares and break the spears of war into axes and hoes. The day of peace we have made to those mothers whose sons made the supreme sacrifice."

"The American people are too tolerant," Bishop Frank Du Moulin, of Cleveland, told an audience at the Garfield Theatre meeting today.

He said that the world is in a state of moral decadence, and that the first thing that must be done is to bring about a moral reformation. "With good morals," he said, "anything can be accomplished."

PERHAPS IT IS GLYPTODON

ONLY MILLION YEARS "OLD"

Patagonian Monster Not Plesiosaurus, Prof. Onelli Announces

Buenos Aires, March 15.—(By A. P.)—It was not a plesiosaurus that was seen swimming in an Andean lake recently, but a creature called glyptodon, of the megatherium, in the opinion of Prof. Onelli, director of the Buenos Aires zoo.

Plesiosaurus is a pseudonym of newspapers have given it and which has stuck," he said, "but I believe it is a huge animal of the edentate family, one of which was fired upon by the explorer, Ramon Lista in 1890 without killing it."

He explained that while the plesiosaurus dated back 10,000,000 years, the edentate belongs to the quaternary era of only a million years ago.

The glyptodon was a creature resembling the armadillo and which attained the size of an ox. It had strong limbs with short, broad feet. The megatherium was a gigantic, stocky edentate, from eighteen to twenty feet in length. It had a short neck, heavy body and powerful tail and head. It was a strong, prehistoric creature, with its strong, prehensile tongue it tore from trees and shrubs the leaves and twigs upon which it subsisted.
