Poems and Songs Desired "Only Old Bill"

"Only the first for the bitterness tasted,
Only the first for the lonely divide:
Joy of his living and passion unwasted,
Bearing them on to a being untred.
Maybe afar in the cloud shadows fleeting.

CHRIST WITH US
By Edwin Markham
I cried aloud, "There is no Christ
In all this world unparadised!
No Christ to go to in my need.
Hs passed in giory out of sight.
The angels drew him into light.
Now in the lonesume earth and air
I cannot find him anywhere.
Would God that Heaven were not so far
And I were where the white ones are."

To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:

Sir—Ask, please, if any of your readers can supply me with a poem which I believe is called 'Old Bill.' I can only recall the Then from the gray stones of a street, Where goes an scean drift of feet. I heard a child's cry tremble up. And turned to shere my scanty cup. When lo! the Christ I thought was dead wad in the little one I fed! At this I drew my aching eyes From the far watching of the skies. And now whichever way I turn I see my Lord's white nalo burn.

Wherever now a sorrow stands.
'Tis mine to heat His nail-torn hands.
In every lonely lane and street
'Tis mine to wash His wounded feet.'
'Tis mine to roll away the stone
And warm His heart against my own.
Here, lere on earth I find it all

With gargles or sprays it is impossible to keep a sore throat under anything like continuous treatment. With Formamint, it makes no difference where you are-at work, in crowded car, shop, theatre or church-you can dissolve one of these delicious, almost candy-like tablets in your mouth once an hour or so. An effective yet harmless antiseptic is released and, carried by the saliva, continuously bathes the entire lining of the mouth and throat, checks germ growth, and gives the sore, infected tissues chance to heal.

Formamint Tablets used when especially exposed to infection reduce your danger of catching sore throats, and even influenzs, from others.

Children can-and should-use them freely, as defence against throat affections and influenza which spread so readily in congested

THE PEOPLE'S FORUM has been brought home to us in the way the silly old Australian has acted, in spite of all cautions given to him, and has asked the Widow Zander to marry him. How many "Uncle Blims" today are chasing the "Widow Zander rainbows," because they are "old fools" who deserve the rude awakening they invariably receive when it is too late, and these "sparkling widows," with their cajoling methods, begin to lay aside their masks and we see them as they are and not as they are painted and whigged. Go to it, Bim, and take your medicine, but take it uncomplainingly.

Needs Medal for Bravery To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger. Meanwhile, no word comes from Criccicth, Wales, regarding the Premier's intentions. He is spending his time in resting, golfing and gardening and, as his friends say, "thinking things out," while current decisions are left to Austen Chamberlain, and, as is widely asserted, the disintegration of the conlition proceeds apace.

It is stated in some quarters that Mr. Lloyd George has decided to prolong his stay in Wales to see how far the ferment will work before he clares his hand.

The question whether after all he will go to Genoa is also debated in political circles. It is suggested he is less eager than heretofore to participate in the conference. It is also thought that if the report that Premier Poincare, of France, will not attend the still less reluctant to abandon the trip. Mother Approves Spanking

To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger Sir-I quite agree with the ex-school teacher who wrote a letter to your column yesterday saying that parents ought to be less sparing of their disci pline, even with children who are old enough to go to high school. The way some of the present-day boys and girls talk to their parents is amazing, and should not be tolerated. I don't believe in whipping children unless nothing else currence with the first three girls, and when the fourth came I thought we dispense with it altogether. must admit that we spoiled her, even that wouldn't have been so bad if she hadn't absorbed some of the mod-ern ideas that chi'dren have about respect for their parents. Many times I longed to take her over my knee, but I said, "No," it might hurt her pride—and that seems to be a big factor nowadays in child training, and I tried to be modern. However, she got so flippant during the last year (she's in her last year in grammar school) that I destrained to try the old-fashioned mass. spect for their parents. Many times I them anyway, and they got some good out of my spankings.

Shortly after I made this resolution my daughter told me to "shut up" when I remonstrated with her about going with a certain boy. That was enough. I got a good stout slipper, took her to her room, and there gave her a spanking that she ill never forget. That was six months ago, and I must say the improvement has been great.
