

Talk Philadelphia ALL the Time!

Not one week of "Talk Philadelphia"—that's only doing one fifty-second of the job every year.

Cyrus H. K. Curtis tells a story of sitting in a Pullman with a Kansas City man. For three solid hours this man spoke of Kansas City. When Mr. Curtis eventually asked a word in his own language, "Why, my dear man, you need not have told me those wonderful things about your town. I've been to Kansas City." "When were you there?" asked the booster. "Six weeks ago," said Mr. Curtis. "Heaven," blurted the man, "you ought to see it NOW!"

There's the spirit that makes for real citizenship! Why not make Philadelphia a seven-day-a-week city? Make it more attractive over the week-end. Today the traveling public avoids Philadelphia over the week-end, because there is no entertainment provided for them as is done in other first-class American cities. Philadelphians by the thousands leave for New York on Sundays to be entertained.

The Ritz-Carlton and Adelphi Hotels pledge their support to the booming of Philadelphia.

Join with us in making Philadelphia a popular city—for the traveler as well as the resident—ALL the time!

"FIREPROOF" BUILDING IN FLAMES

The general office building of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad as it appeared at the height of the fire which destroyed an entire square in the business section of Chicago. The structure was supposed to be fireproof in every respect.

INCENDIARY BEING SOUGHT IN $8,000,000 CHICAGO FIRE

"Shifting Lights," $75,000 Painting by Elkins, Listed Among Losses Chicago, March 16.—(By A. P.)—Several separate investigations of yesterday morning's disastrous fire, which swept one city block and burned buildings in two others, with a loss placed by insurance and property experts at $8,000,000, were continued today. Shirley T. High, city fire attorney, expressed conviction that the conflagration, the most serious since 1871, was of incendiary origin. A Negro employe of a concern which was among the first to go up in flames, is being sought. He was named by a fellow worker who was arrested but denied connection with starting the fire. Included in the tabulation of losses in the fire was that of a valuable painting by Henry Arthur Elkins, valued at $250,000. Among them was "Shifting Lights," a painting of a California sunset, valued at $75,000. Jugo-Slavic and the United Serbian, foreign language newspapers, were burned out.

Easter, of Baltimore, Md., the seaplane headed for Key West. After visiting Havana and New Orleans its course will be up the Mississippi to St. Louis, along the Ohio toward Pittsburgh, thence to Baltimore, then back to the Great Lakes and a homeward flight down the Hudson valley. C. E. Havens is engineer and Lyman I. Collins the only passenger on the flight.

FIRE IN CHESTER SHIPYARD

Shop Destroyed, Vessels Endangered by Flames at Merchant Plant
Chester, Pa., March 16.—Fire of unknown origin today destroyed the pier shop, a two and a half story building at the yard of Merchant Shipbuilding Corporation. Firemen saved other structures and ships which were endangered. A broken air main gave impetus to the flames.

"L" AGREEMENT NEAR, IS BELIEF

Operation This Summer Thought Sure, Now That Directors' Fight Is Ended

50 CARS NEAR COMPLETION

With the completion of nearly all of the fifty cars to be used on the Frankford elevated line, and elimination of friction from the directors of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company, there are optimistic indications that the "L" will be put in operation this summer. Shortly after the directors of the company opposed to the Mitten management were ousted from the board yesterday, it was learned that negotiations looking toward operation of the "L" would be resumed immediately. "I am ready to talk things over and answer any questions," was the reply of Thomas E. Mitten, president of the company, when asked if negotiations would be resumed. Members of City Council agreed today with Richard Weglein, president of the board, that only a thin wall prevents the city and company from reaching an agreement. As Mr. Weglein has already gained many concessions since he took up the negotiations, his co-workers believe that he might be able to gain even a little more. A slight change in the company's proposed rental terms to the city would start the wheels running on the line. The Board of Directors of the company with their new members will meet Monday, and it is highly probable that a communication from Council, reopening the "L" questions will be before them. There was general jubilation among the men on the cars today over the evening Mitten victory. When cars were halted to take on a big load at transfer points many passengers extended their hand to the motorman and gave him a quick congratulatory nod. Incidentally there seemed to be an added spirit of confidence and enthusiasm among the carmen. "We know who we're working for," said a Baltimore avenue conductor, "and we'll get a square deal for a day's work. Then you must remember it's our own company, and we're certainly not going to let our business run down."

Motorman Held for Girl's Injury

Magistrate Dorn held Thomas Shaker, 3112 North Sixth street, in $400 bail this morning. Shaker was the motorman of a Fifteenth street car that knocked down eight-year-old Elizabeth Bradley near the Clearfield street crossing yesterday. The girl was jammed under the wheels, and it was necessary to jack up the car to remove her. She is now in the Samaritan Hospital.

Uncommon Sense

By JOHN BLAKE
Your Deadliest Enemy
IF YOU knew that a snake, whose bite would result in partial paralysis of your faculties, were hiding in your house, you would take very energetic measures to keep away from him. You know well enough, with the work that is before you, that partial paralysis will not be of any help. You know, if you think at all, that you are going to need all your faculties to get a job and hold it till you can prove that you are worth the big salary that you think that you are worth.

The presence of that snake in the house would worry you a great deal—particularly if you knew that there was no way to destroy him and that your only means of escaping his fangs was to avoid him.

PERHAPS it may be of benefit to you to imagine that there is just such a serpent coiled up somewhere in your house or your apartment or your office, and that his name is Laziness. You can't get rid of him altogether. He will be around. Watching for a chance to set his fangs functioning as long as you live.

Only by moving around rapidly can you get away from him. He is not active. He can only get you when you are sitting down.

This laziness snake is probably the worst enemy you have in the world. He will not strike you down and destroy you, like certain bad habits to which you may become addicted. He will not even injure you enough to frighten you. You will barely notice that gradually you are losing your inclination to stick to the job till it is done, or that you are hailing a little more eagerly each day the opportunity to put on your hat and coat and go home. If the bite hurt, you would be warned. But it doesn't hurt. It is rather pleasant. And you do not really realize its effects till years afterward, when the work that you haven't done because of that partial paralysis is seen to be about all the work that was worth doing.

POLICE ARE NOTIFIED

"We have gone to town," the note read, "and we will be there for a while. We have enough money to pay our board for a week. Don't worry about us." The note was signed by both girls. At the bottom one of the girls wrote: "I have the spirit of adventure and I'll give it a trial."
