

Wrestling Team Will Play Penn Here on American Tour April 7

STRONG LACROSSE TEAM AT PENN

Wealth of Veterans Preparing for Oxford Game Here April 7; McAnally is Captain

GRID PLAYERS ON TEAM

WITH a record number of candidates practicing daily, including a wealth of veterans from last year, the 1922 lacrosse team at the University should be one of the best in the history of the sport at the University since Clarence Goldsmith started the game seven years ago.

Lacrosse like football takes men with plenty of grit, willing to take a blow to the head, strong in body and feet and limb. According to Goldsmith, who this year is assisting Cody Winters, the new coach, in whipping the candidates into shape, lacrosse is not a game for weaklings or those who will under an attack, but for the husky type of man who battles on until he no longer can fight.

For the last month Captain Charley McAnally, one of the backs on the football team last fall, has been working out with a score of candidates on the street field, getting in shape for another year over the pond invasion. Oxford University, which starts a tour of this country within the next ten days, is slated to play on Franklin Field on April 7 and the Red and Blue team is anxious to be playing at top form for the English collegians.

Consequently intensive practices in the order of the day. Yesterday afternoon two teams went through a bitterly fought scrimmage drill for over an hour, while the wind whistled across the lowlands on the banks of the Schuylkill. Neither team showed much of an advantage over the other in the workout, but evidently Winters, who hails from Cleveland, and Goldsmith were satisfied with what their charges did.

Strong on Defense
Defensively the team presents about as strong a line-up as has been seen on Franklin Field since the sport started here. Four veterans of last season, McAnally, Rumboldt, Stevenson and Armstrong, represent as fine a quartet of husky defenders as ever wore the Red and Blue in the sport.

Leo DeKorn, the versatile lad who can run, jump, box and play virtually every sport on the athletic curriculum except chess, is back as his old post at center. Such veterans as Rogers, Smullins, a football player last fall; Priestly, Kiviat and several others are holding down the attack posts. McFarland, at goal, another veteran from last year, is showing improvement every day and should prove to be one of the best in college ranks before the season is over.

Fruneret, who played end on the second varsity gridiron team, is a newcomer who shows a world of promise. Tall and sturdy, the French lad along with speed has all the qualifications that go into making up a lacrosse star. Hill Kelly, the former football star at Trinity, reported yesterday for the team and should find a place.

A number of the freshmen from last year's resting team have reported, and from this number Coach Winters should be able to find several first string players. Last year was the first for a freshman team, and five or six of the

Detroit May Appoint Sanatlos Commission

Detroit, March 17.—Appointment of a commission to supervise amateur baseball has been voted by the Detroit Recreation Commission, recently went on record as favoring such a method of adjusting disputes. The duty has been assigned to outside the province of the Recreation Commission, Charles W. Burton, president of the Detroit Athletic Association; Judge Ira Jayne and John Lodge, president of the City Council, have been suggested for membership on the proposed body.

youngsters displayed considerable prowess with the stick, and the scheduled eleven games with the best college teams in the East. The Navy among others will be met during the season. There is a possibility that a game will be arranged with a Canadian college team for the latter part of the season.

Late Classes Hurt Baseball
Late classes and examinations are holding up the progress of the baseball team, according to Dr. Walter Carise. The result is an inability to get a full practice in the afternoon. Signals at the present time are almost impossible, according to the coach, and as a result team play will be hampered at the start of the season.

Yesterday most of the veterans were out early, but had to leave for examinations. A long batting drill with Larson, the veteran left-hander and the star of the hurling staff last year, and a number of youngsters serving the ball up to the batters.

The addition of Goldblatt, Huntlinger, Sullivan and several other basketball players, Carise expects to get into action with interquad games every afternoon. The diamond will in all probability be ready by that time.

Tonight the swimming team winds up its season in a meet with the Tigers at Princeton. Captain Armstrong and his mates scored an easy victory over the Jerseyites two weeks ago.

LOUGHRAN BEATS McTIGUE

Philadelphia Boxer Easily Defeats New Yorker in Scranton Ring
Scranton, Pa., March 17.—Tommy Loughran, of Philadelphia, easily won his fight here last night with Mike McTigue, of New York, outpointing his opponent in every one of the ten frames of the battle.

Loughran's speed coupled with his fine boxing ability easily made him a favorite with the crowd from the minute time was called in the first round and his work in each succeeding round brought him rounds of applause.

McTigue was in good condition and put up a very good argument, but Loughran's speed was too much for him and the Philadelphia fighter given the decision by all followers of the game.

U. S. Amateur Hockey Finals On

Boston, March 17.—The U. S. Amateur Hockey Club and the Westerner Club of the C. I. U. will resume here tonight their series to determine the champions of the United States Amateur Hockey Association. Westerners defeated St. Paul twice at St. Paul last week and needs only one more victory for the championship.

DEMPSEY REALLY TO VISIT EUROPE

No One to Box in America, So Champion is Going to England

TO SAIL ON AQUITANIA

By LOUIS H. JAFFE
JACK DEMPSEY really is going U. S. abroad. "Jack has told me himself that he would be on the steamer Aquitania which will sail for England April 11," said the Leiper-ville Baron, James F. Dougherty, today on his return from New York where, together with Thomas W. Bigger, of the Michigan State Boxing Commission, he whittled away part of yesterday with the world's heavyweight title-holder.

Dougherty has been entertaining Commissioner Bigger for several days. The latter is in the East looking over boxing conditions in this part of the country. The Commissioner was among those here at the Garden when Harry Greb slapped Tom Gibbons all over the ring, and he was one of the few who predicted an easy victory for the Pittsburgh windmill. "In fact," said Bigger today, "I was a little disappointed because I thought that Greb would stop Tom."

Dreads Voyage
Referring again to Dempsey's proposed trip to England, Dougherty says that the titleholder is not going across the pond because he wants to get sea-sick or anything like that. In fact, Jack dreads the voyage, but he must get into action, and as there does not appear to be any one in America for him he must go to Europe looking for competition.

"For some time Jack Keerna has been in communication with G. B. Cochran, the English promoter," said the Baron today.

"There's no kidding about this—Dempsey is leaving America because there are no matches in sight for him here. While no one in this country would come out to see another Jack-George fight, in Europe it is different, I understand. They will not be convinced over there that Dempsey is a sucker until they see him sock some one."

Wills Match Off
Prospects of a Dempsey-Wills match are not so bright, Dougherty says, according to inside information he learned in New York. Governors and commissions are intimating that they will not indorse this inter-racial contest; and Harry Essex, when he learned that Governor Edwards, of New Jersey, had limited prices on any boxing show to $10, immediately took his $350,000 offer and went into hiding.

Tom Gibbons was eliminated from a bout with Dempsey, and Greb is entirely too small, so "what is the poor guy Dempsey going to do?" asks Dougherty, answering in the same breath—"He must go abroad."

Dempsey is like the insipid duffer, all dolled up and no place to go.

GEORGES CARPENTIER III: MAY NEVER BOX AGAIN

Friends of French Champion Say His Weight is Below 150

Park, March 17.—George Carpentier, the world's light-heavyweight champion pugilist, may never fight again. This was the opinion expressed by medical men in close touch with Carpentier as he left today for La Guerche, his country home southeast of Rennes, where he purposes to recuperate for a few weeks and then go into training for a bout with Ted "Kid" Lewis at Olympia, London, in May.

"The boy does not realize the shape he is in," said one of the doctors who examined Carpentier prior to his departure. "His great courage and utmost confidence in himself is responsible for his plucky attitude, but he is a very sick man."

The actual weight of Carpentier after the recent operating he underwent was given out as 150 pounds, but close friends of the champion say he was below 150 pounds.

The terrific pounding Carpentier received from Dempsey in the fight in the Jersey City arena last summer caused Mrs. Carpentier, who saw the morning pictures of the battle, to request her husband to forsake the squared circle. It is understood that he has emphatically renounced this request during his present illness.

TIPPLITZ SCORES KAYO

Has No Trouble in Putting Away Low Brody in Eighth Session
New York, March 17.—Joe Tipplitz, of Philadelphia, knocked out Low Brody, of Brooklyn, in the eighth round of the final bout scheduled at the Broadway Exhibition Club in Brooklyn last night. Joe gained the upper hand from the start of the bout and drove Low around the ring, landing to the head and body almost at will. Brody saved himself as much as possible by falling into clinches.

that left the Brooklyn boy groggy and reeled on the verge of a knockout as the bell rang.
In the next round Joe rushed in a strong right to knock his man out and rained lefts and rights to the face and head. He slugged through a terrific right to the jaw as the round was nearly over and Low went to the canvas for the full count. Tipplitz weighed 130 and Brody 130½.
