DRAW FOR DAVIS CUP

Fate May Play Part in Determining

Finalists in Tennis Classic

New York, March 17.—The draw for the Davis Cup will be held publicly at meen teday, in the offices of the U. S. L. T. A., 20 Broad street, with President Julian S. Myrick officiating, assisted by George T. Adee, Robert D. Wrenn and Henry W. Slocum, of the international committee, and, as it will be a "blind" draw, fate may play a leading part in determining the two nations that meet in the final round at Newport, in August.

On past records, Australasia and Japan abould appear as the finalists, but should these two nations be drawn in the same half, one or the other must go cut before the final round is reached. The name of one more nation was added to the list of challengers, when the Philippine Amateur Athletic Federation, forwarded its challenge through the Offices of the Governor General of the islands.

The lists had formally closed on Wednesday, and the Philippine challenge had been cabled on Tuesday, but owing to a delay in its transmission to the offices of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, the message was not received until yesterday. Finalists in Tennis Classic

QUAKERS TO BOX

Bouts on Friends' Central Program Today

Program Today

Friends' Central School wil hold one of the largest gymnastic exhibitions of the season this afternoon in the school gymnasium, Fifteenth and Race streets. The feature of the afternoon wil be two boging bouts. Carl James will oppose William Simmons, while John Passant battles Phil Stanton.

Other events on the card follow:
Marching by the lower classes, volley ball, freahmen vs. sophomores; hemen way ball, sophomores vs. freshmen; apparatus work, rings, ropes and ladder, horse and parallel bars, open to all: tumbling, tug-o'-war and obstacle race. Invitations have been extended to friends and parents of the pupils and a large crowd is expected to be on hand. It is expected that the gymnasium will be packed, especially as four Quakers will indulge in the manly art of hit and get socked. This is said to be the first time that public boxing bouts have been held by a Quaker institution.
