START DRIVE FOR NEW HOME

Stern-Price Post No. 417, American Legion, held its meeting last night in the P. O. S. of A. Building, at 1317 North Broad at reet. Regular business, however, went by the board, and the time was given over largely to feasting and speech making. Wives and rela-tives of many of the members were

Youths Are Back at Home After Enjoyable, Cheap Vacation

Two Philadelphia boys are back at their homes today after having "seen the South" at a cost of $3 each. In fact, the cost was a trifle less, as they still have two cents remaining. They are Charles Hoffman, nineteen years old, of 5808 Walton avenue, and Fred Williams, eighteen years old, of 628 North Fifty-fifth street.

They left Philadelphia on foot February 15, but rode when they got a Young Hoffman said that because of holdups, which made owners of motor cars suspicious, they got few rides. Having finished their holiday afoot, they are back to go to work again.

P. R. R. to Release Men More Than Forty-five, April 1

Men more than forty-five years old employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad during the war have received notice of dismissal effective April 1. The order applies to the entire system, and will affect approximately 1500 emergency

An official of the company last night said that these men were only tem-porarily employed and entered the serv-ice of the company with that understanding. The weeding-out process began six weeks ago, and the present order will eliminate the last of the temporary employes.

"Jones is a popular-priced tailor"

That's what one of our old cus-tomers told a friend who came to us for his Spring Suit. And that's a fact we can't impress upon you too firmly.

You don't have to pay a dis-proportionately high price, although our clothes do give one the impression of costing considerably more than we ask.

Be measured today for your Easter Suit.
