

HOME OF MAYOR O. K.'S NEW HOME

"Cozy and Comfortable," Mrs. Moore's Description of Germantown House

IS "BRIGHT AND SUNNY"

"It's just cozy and comfortable," said Mrs. G. H. Moore, as she spoke of the new home of Philadelphia's Mayor and his family.

The house, which is a small stone structure at 319 West Carpenter lane, Germantown, has the northeast side inclined as a sun parlor.

"I like the house," said Mrs. Moore, "because the rooms are bright and sunny, and I like the location because it is quiet and restful for Mr. Moore."

"Of course, the rooms are smaller than in the apartment in town, but they are large enough for us."

A soft spring breeze lightly blew through the sun parlor, and the "first lady of the city" turned to look out at the lawn and walks of the suburban homes within her view.

"We are fond of the country," she said, "and I always feel that this is country—after the noise of the city."

She described the arrangement of the rooms and said that they couldn't have been more satisfied with the house if they had built it. True to housewifely instinct, she spoke first of the closet space and said that there was plenty of it.

"I think we are going to enjoy it a great deal," she said. "Mr. Moore's ride home through the park after work and the quiet here have already brought him a great deal of pleasure."

OPPOSE ALL SKIP-STOPS

Northwest Business Men Appeal to Service Commission

Abolition of all the trolley skip-stops in Philadelphia was requested of the Public Service Commission today by the Northwest Business Men's Association.

Charles L. Fluck, president of the association, in a letter called the commission's attention to a recent announcement by the Rapid Transit Company.

Mr. Fluck said there are twenty-one skip-stop cases awaiting a decision by the Public Service Commission, and he is willing to let the tariff bill take precedence.

LONG SLEEP SEEN FOR BONUS BILL

Now That "Buck Is Up to Senate" Tariff Measure May Go Ahead

CHANGES DUE, ANYWAY

By a Staff Correspondent

Washington, March 27.—Canvass of the Republican members of the Senate Finance Committee today revealed that the bonus bill, now slumbering in that committee, is due for a good long rest.

If the committee takes up the bill in earnest prior to June 1, it will be a great surprise to all except Chairman McCumber, who is laboring unceasingly, because he is a candidate for re-election, to have the bill considered as soon as possible.

Senators Watson, of Indiana; Curtis, of Kansas; Smoot, of Utah; McLean, of Connecticut, and Dillingham, of Vermont, leading Republican members of the committee, favor holding the bonus bill until the tariff bill is passed by the Senate, and probably will have their way.

The tariff bill will not be reported to the Senate until April 1, when it will take its place behind the Arms Conference treaties. It will require at least two months to put the tariff bill through, and then, if nothing happens meantime, the bonus bill may be taken up.

Acceptable to Fordney

This program is acceptable to Chairman Fordney, of the Ways and Means Committee. His anxiety of a week ago for immediate enactment of the bonus bill evidently has faded out, now that the buck has been passed to the Senate, and he is willing to let the tariff bill take precedence.

ALLIES CEDE MOST OF TURK DEMANDS

Musclemans Keep Constantinople, but Will Lose Adrianople

ALSO RETAINS ARMENIA

By the Associated Press

Paris, March 27.—Turkey is conceded nearly all her claims, except those to Adrianople and part of Eastern Thrace, in the memorandum the allied Foreign Ministers today forwarded to Athens, Ankara and Constantinople, with a view to its acceptance as a preliminary peace settlement, revising the Treaty of Sevres.

The Kios-Midia line in Thrace is modified to give Turkey more territory on the Bulgarian frontier, but the old Turkish capital of Adrianople is excluded.

Constantinople remains Turkey's, and she retains Armenia, with the population under League of Nations protection, but she loses the Gallipoli Peninsula and Mesopotamia.

Given Three Weeks to Answer

The Foreign Ministers give the Greeks and Turks three weeks to reply to the proposed terms.

The memorandum informs the belligerents that the Allies desire to restore peace and re-establish the Turkish nation in the territories that are considered belonging to it, with Constantinople; to secure the Mussulman population of the most equitable regime; to compensate Greece for her sacrifices in war; to protect racial minorities, and

This program is acceptable to Chairman Fordney, of the Ways and Means Committee. His anxiety of a week ago for immediate enactment of the bonus bill evidently has faded out, now that the buck has been passed to the Senate, and he is willing to let the tariff bill take precedence.

"The bonus bill is not operative un-

On October 1, Chairman Fordney said, therefore, there is no reason why the tariff bill should not have the right of way, as there is no need of its immediate enactment."

When the Bonus Bill finally is taken up by the Finance Committee, and if it is ever reported to the Senate at this session, it will be unrecognizable to its framers, a canvass of the committee shows.

The Finance Committee Senators are preparing to do things to the Bonus Bill that will make it look as if it had been through the battle of the Argonne. Among other things, it appears the committee is intent on making at least the following changes:

One. Cut out entirely the land reclamation scheme, which could not operate for ten years, and which might cost the Government, if carried to completion, the sum of $18,000,000.

Would Retain Cash Feature

Second. Retain the cash bonus payments, on the theory that if there is an obligation on the Government it should not be met by bogus certificate provisions.

Third. Amend considerably the certificate provisions of the bill to eliminate many of the sections inserted by the Ways and Means Committee after it made certificates the most attractive feature of the bill.

Fourth. Provide a method for meeting the cost of the bonus through taxation of some kind, or make the effective date of the bonus two or three years later than that of the present bill, October 1.

Doubt Senate Passage

While, of course, the committee has not agreed to these changes, the members seem to be of the same mind on most of them. They are unquestionably opposed to the bogus Bonus Bill of the House, and are authority for the statement that the Fordney Bill can never pass the Senate without most, if not all, of the changes outlined above.

When it finally determines to take up the Bonus Bill the Finance Committee plans hearing of considerable extent to which responsible officials of the Treasury, officials of the American Legion and representatives of disabled soldiers and sailors will be invited.

24 HOURS IN 24 STORIES

AS SOON AS YOU register as our guest at the McAlpin, we begin to register as your host.

THE HOTEL McALPIN is large not merely to serve a large number of guests, but to give a large service to the guests we do serve.

THREE WORDS WERE PUT into the corner stone of our plans, "comfort," "convenience" and "economy." It is not enough to give you "food and lodging"—all hotels do that—so we have made our twenty-four stories tell of a variety of service to suit your every need.

YOU CAN HAVE YOUR morning shower, or tub, in your own bathroom, or take a plunge in the pool on the twenty-fourth floor.

YOU MAY EAT WELL on the "club" plan or dine a la carte, in the breakfast room, the grill, the roof—or in your own room.

THE THINGS YOU FORGOT to put in your luggage can be purchased in the shops of the hotel; and from interpreter to Russian baths; from Notary Public to children's playground, broker's office to drug store, McAlpin service is many-sided.

IN FAIR WEATHER, it is a block to the top of the Fifth Avenue bus; in bad weather a step right from the hotel to the underground railways—the subways and the "Tube."

MIDWAY BETWEEN THE TWO great railroad terminals—the Grand Central and the Pennsylvania—you are still adjacent to the great commercial and theatrical districts. With tickets bought at our stands, you may go to the theatre in five minutes and return for a midnight supper to enjoy the music and the dance or, with a book from our library and the light just above your head, indulge in the old-fashioned luxury of reading in bed.

WITH IT ALL, we haven't forgotten economy, and recently, in the spirit of the times, we further reduced our rates here, as well as at the Martinique, the McAlpin Annex across the street.

Are you an Eskimo?

Is your home an ice-house during the Winter time, Egbert? Do you have to put on your pajamas before you take off your underwear? Do you have to razz the janitor for more heat now and then, and do you speak of the landlord as if he were some very undesirable foreign substance? If all this is true, Egbert, you're an Eskimo.

It's all your own fault, Eg. When you rented that apartment you pulled a boner. You didn't look in the basements first. You didn't know whether the heating boiler was a Kewanee Steel Boiler or some funny old cast-iron, accordion-plated affair. You didn't rent any heat, old top. You only rented the apartment. You overlooked the biggest thing in home-life.

The secret of comfort in apartment-life is heat. If you live over an imbecilic boiler, Egbert, you're an Eskimo. You ought never to rent any apartment, no matter how good it looks, until you have determined, beyond a reasonable doubt, as the lawyers say that the Kewanee All-Steel Firebox boiler is below you. If it's there, your life will be music. If it's not there, your life will be a jazz.

And don't forget a Kewanee burns ANY coal and makes more heat with less coal than any other boiler built.
