Best Athletics in Schools Chance for City to Help Flaming With Football The World Loves a Winner

CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL has dropped two sports through lack of facilities. It has abolished a swimming team because it has no pool. It has given up the idea of a golf team because there is no place to practice.

WITH the approach of the 1922 baseball season you don't hear a word about the expelled members of the 1919 White Sox.

Gridmen Need Training AMONG the changes advocated by certain representatives of Yale, Princeton and Harvard concerning the football system is that there be no spring training prior to the opening of college in the autumn.

THE New York ball teams are spending enormous sums and cashing in on the investment. Philadelphia clubs are spending little and claim to be only just about breaking even.

The Babe Ruth of Boxing THE world loves a winner. Every time Babe Ruth gets out there and smashes the little pellet over the fence or into the grandstand the fans throw the air kelles in the air, go wild and elect the Bambino unanimously as the best ball player that ever lived.

THERE is going to be a tournament for the "marble shooting championship of the United States" in Seattle, Wash., shortly.

MATEUR boxing in Philadelphia has been at a standstill virtually. Fank Galloway has failed to back up the "all-for-glory" mittmen, and as a result the lads who punch entirely for the love of the game rather than the lure of a U. S. match have been out of luck.

SECOND A'S CARDS GAME AT HOUSTON Macks Blasted by St. Louis in First Fray With Heimach Pitching GALLOWAY HITS HOMER

Special Dispatch to Evening Public Ledger. Houston, Tex., March 28.—The A's last night's first stringers—were here today and so are the St. Louis Cardinals. The Cards were shuffling in winning form yesterday, so much so that they outclassed the Mackmen 13 to 3 in the first of their five-game series played at Galveston, this State.

PENN FIVE FETTERED BY SNAKE DANCE

Old-Fashioned "Grid Rally," With Cheers and Oration, for Cagemen Off to Tigertown

PLAY-OFF FOR COURT TITLE

Pennsylvania forward Princeton center forward Philadelphia guard New York center forward

A Red and Blue ruckus will be put on this afternoon when the Penn basketball boards the special from West Philadelphia station, Princeton aghy.

A snake dance will be the method of progress. At the train each of the coaches will place the hand on the beam and the assembled throng what Penn is going to do to Princeton

The championship of the Interscholastic Basketball League hangs in the balance tonight on the play-off in Tigertown.

The Red and Blue quintet scored a 20-to-18 victory over the Tigers with Rosenast playing on the Tigertown floor, while Bill Zahn's five darts from Penit Weightman Hall 34 to 24, with Rosenast on the side lines with a broken bone in his wrist.

Art Loeb, the brilliant all-around player on the Tiger quintet, whose play against the Red and Blue gave Princeton the victory here, will be closely watched by Penn tonight.

Tonight's play-off is the second in six years between Penn and Princeton. In 1916 Eddie McNichl's team defeated the Tigers on the latter's court, only to lose in Weightman Hall by one point.

Two special trains will carry the Penn contingent. The first is due to leave at 7:30 from Broad Street and four minutes later from West Philadelphia. The second team will leave at 8:08 from Broad Street and 8:12 from West Philadelphia.

PENN CREWS TAKE MORNING WORKOUT Varsity and Junior Varsity Eights Spend Half-Hour on Schuylkill Before Classes

At 7:15 this morning two racing shells, manned by red-and-blue-jerseyed bladesmen, swept up the Schuylkill for the first before school drill of the University of Pennsylvania eights.

For a half hour Coach Wright in his motorboat directed the work of the oarsmen, correcting their positions and giving them starts. The genial coach announced himself well pleased with the showing made by the two crews and intends to continue the morning drills until shortly before the Yale race on the Schuylkill on April 15, two weeks from this Saturday.

Four former star athletes representing the University coached the teammen yesterday afternoon. They were George Orton, Dr. Al Kraenzlein, Sherman Landers and Bob Maxam.

FIRST BLOCK GOES TO JAKE SCHAEFER

World's Billiard Champ Wins Opening Match From Hoppe, 500-466 Chicago, March 28.—Jake Schaefer, world's champion 18.2 billiardist, will have an opportunity from his first shot tonight to increase his 34-point lead established last night over Willie Hoppe, former champion, when he won the first block of his 1500-point, three night match 500 to 466.

Rounded out the 19th century with an unfinished run of 34, Schaefer left the balls nicely grouped at the head of the table for his opening shot tonight.

Except for the possibilities of Schaefer's opening play tonight, the game so far might be regarded as a routine, with the exception of a few strings not being regarded as a great factor.

Without the advantage of the champion's uncompleted game, the last night would be the former champion's. Hoppe had the high run, 260, against Schaefer's 232, and the better average, 51.7-9, as against Schaefer's even 50.

INDOOR BASEBALL FOR GIRLS IN OPEN High-School Misses Will Have League Among Other Outdoor Sports

START PRACTICE APRIL 1 By PAUL PREP INDOOR BASEBALL will be played outdoors this spring.

Anyway, according to Miss Edith M. Brown, of Southern High School, such will be the case when the Girls' Interscholastic League gets under way May 1.

When the baseball league for the less busy formed the athletic directors in the various schools were confronted with a serious proposition.

PENN TRACK MEN AT SOUTHAMPTON

Beryl Rudd and Former Penn Students Greet Red and Blue Athletes

HEAD ON ROAD TO RECOVERY

By LARRY A. BROWN Captain of the University of Pennsylvania Track Team and World's Outdoor Recordholder for 1000 Yards Southampton, England, March 28.—

Seemed like arriving in New York when we disembarked here last night from the Aquitania with an enthusiastic group of English track officials greeting us and the usual battery of camera men, including a number of movie operators.

Beryl Rudd, who ran anchor on the famous Oxford-Cambridge relay team on Franklin Field in 1920, and who is now president of the newly formed Oxford-Cambridge Athletic Association, was the first to welcome us.

Several other English athletes were in the crowd that greeted us, in addition to several former University of Pennsylvania graduates who are studying for who are in business in England.

John Clarke and John Lovitt, former University of Pennsylvania students at Oxford, greeted us warmly and stated that we would have at least two rosters in the stands.

All our men are in good condition. The passengers on the Aquitania were John Kilbane, the featherweight champion of the world; Al Reimer, a featherweight, and Bill Mercer, a light heavyweight, who will box in London. During the voyage Kilbane and Mercer gave some exhibition sparring matches at which Sir Harry Lauder acted as referee.

Practice will begin April 1, a date set after a consultation of the coaches. The league schedule will be announced shortly, along with the Girls' Interscholastic Volleyball League schedule.

FINE FIELD FOR INDOOR TENNIS

Champions of All Sorts Expected Here This Week for Middle States Meeting

TILDEN ON THE JOB

By SANDY McENIBLACK The action will start on Thursday of this week for the Middle States indoor tennis championship, the first event of such under-roof importance to be awarded to Philadelphia.

The championship will be played in the Commercial Museum Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

William T. Tilden, 24, world and national lawn tennis singles champion, is expected back from Boston today, where he won the mixed doubles indoor championship with the national champion, Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory.

While Tilden was in Boston he had a number of talks with R. N. Williams, captain of last year's Davis Cup team and a former national titleholder, the expressed purpose of these being to get Williams to play here.

Tilden, before his return to this city, expected to see Vincent Richards, the national junior titleholder and, with Tilden, the national doubles champion. Tilden is anxious to get Richards to play here rather than in the national indoor championship, which is on the cards in New York this week.

the national championship and he beaten, while a defeat in the Middle States championship here will not count against the brilliant youngster.

But whether this fine pair of players comes here or not there are tennis stars a-plenty who will be here.

Two men who have been famous in tennisdom for many years will play here in the doubles championship, Beals C. Wright and Holsombe Ward.

R. Lindsay Murray, former national champion, whose play is very reminiscent of McLaughlin when the California star was at the top of his marvelous game, is another star who will play here.

Wallace F. Johnson, the chip-stroke expert and one of the greatest tennis tacticians ever developed, who has won every title of prominence save the national championship and who reached the final round of the national championship last year after some tennis of a very fine order.
