

EGYPTIAN PREPARES FOR MEMORIAL DAY

District Meeting Tomorrow to Arrange Details of Tributes to Dead

"DOC" RAKEN IS HONORED

Tomorrow evening the regular monthly meeting of the Egyptian District will be held in the Edward C. McCall Post, No. 4194 Walnut Street.

W. H. Guillery, secretary of the district, has urged the representation of all posts in West Philadelphia, as matters incident to the Memorial Day celebration will be the principal items for discussion.

Recollection of the first dance of the Raymond E. Greely Post, No. 61, will be a long time dying out. This dance was held Saturday on the new post foot at 3822 Lancaster avenue. Through-out it was tremendously successful, and the Dance Committee has been inspired to extend its series of dances and to have them at bi-weekly intervals instead of longer intervals.

Incidentally, the Greely post has come in for an honor. Its being equal has been picked to represent the Seventh District in the Memorial Day exercises.

These Post, 816, did honor Thursday to its founder and past commander, William E. Raken, known better and extensively as "Doc" Raken. Much of Raken's popularity is the outgrowth of his career as a mess sergeant in the A. E. F. A dinner of the ex-mess sergeant's favorites and most frequent diners—chills on cards—was frequent. He was presented with gold cufflinks bearing the American Legion insignia.

A number of notables, among them Francis A. Lewis, John M. Devlin and Maxon De Wolf, were present and spoke.

At the meeting of Stern Price Post, 417, a special exercise in the coming Memorial Day celebrations was resolved and passed. The graves of the heroes decorated, and this ceremony will be continued each year. Sergeant Arron I. Price and Private Milton Stern were killed in action and their bodies are now in Mount Carmel Cemetery, Frankford.

Miss Sylvia Schnatz, Paralyzed, Celebrates Her 70th Birthday

Paralyzed and behinden seventy-five years, Miss Sylvia Schnatz yesterday celebrated her eighty-ninth birthday in St. Joseph's Hospital. Although she has never ridden in a motor or a trolley car, Miss Schnatz's favorite occupation is watching them pass the hospital windows.

Miss Schnatz was stricken with paralysis following an attack of typhoid fever seventy-two years ago, when she lived at the home of a sister, Mrs. A. Sullivan, at 1788 North Twenty-eighth Street. When her condition became worse seven years ago she was removed to the hospital.

Ridley Park Young Men Patrol the Streets Until 12 o'Clock

Volunteer patrolmen are helping to guard Ridley Park because of four recent robberies there. The volunteers are young men who patrol the streets until midnight.

But all in Ridley Park do not take the situation seriously. Just after midnight recently, when all of the volunteer patrolmen had gone to bed, loud voices were heard in the street.

"Hands up! Hand over your money, without noise."

Persons who peeped from windows saw revolvers gleam. It was thrilling. But the supposed victim and highwayman laughed, said "good-night," and parted.
