Curtie Amateur Star Scores Knockouts in Welter and Middle Classes

22 PRELIMS END BY K. O.

By LOUIS H. JAFFE

THIRTY-ONE boxers today are eligible to compete for the different Middle Atlantic States boxing chamclonships of the Amateur Athletic Union, which will be decided in seven classes at the Olympia tomorrow night. Preliminary matches were held last night, and out of a total of thirty-two contests twenty-two resulted in knock-

The quickest knockout of the evening was scored by Sam Blackiston, Curtis star, when he dropped Paul Longua, of Villanova, for the count three different times, ending the set-to after twentyseven seconds. This was the second K. O. by Blackiston, who also knocked out Manuel Trachtenberg, of Penn, in the second round.

Blackiston looms as a favorite to become a dual champion, having won his preliminary matches in the welterweight and middleweight classes.

My, how our catchy Tweed Sports Suits are moving these days

THERE'S something about these I Tweeds and Homespuns that's gripping the crowd this Spring. They are stepping out of our four big stores at a jazzy rate these days, and properly so. They sure have class.

DUT, then, the wise ones know. B They read the "Vogue," the "Cortley" and the "Styleplus" ads, and that's urge enough to buy. And when they note the remarkably little prices we ask-then it's all over. Our Tweeds set their heads awhirl like an alluring fox-trot.

66 OH, BOY!" said a chap the other day, as he stood before our mirror-"Me for two of these!" And there's the story in a Think of but $19.50 for a Tweed Suit
