Have you heard that the Jared Elaie between sobs: "It's all right—fou—our welcome."

Ingereolle have a wee daughter?

In was born yesterday morning and, hear, is a perfect darling, Mrs. Ingereoll was Marian Baird, you remember, a sletter of Gainor Baird, and the that of Man Hearling of interest will be that of Man Hearling of interest will be that of Man Hearling of interest will be

Jane is the second daughter of the William Hepburns. She is going to be a bridgemaid for Virginia Heckscher on April 22, and I am so glad she will be well by them, as that will be a very pretty wedding. There are to be twelve bridgemaids and a maid of honor. And the Church of the Redeemer, where the marriage will take piace, is beautiful and picturesque. The invitations for the marriage were received this week.

DLANS for the "Fellowship" party PLANS for the "Fellowship" party of which I told you last week seem to be progressing merrily. You know, the Fellowship has in its members both past and present members of the student body of the Academy of the Fine Arts.
Alfred Hayward is going to do a special dance, I hear. I hope he goes dressed as "Somebody's Stenog." You know, that is one of his "tunnies." He did a wonderful dance at the Sketch Club one sight recently, which every one is talk. ght recently, which every one is talking about.

But it is the Alice in Wonderland part that "intrigues" me. I hear that every one is to join in a grand march and end up at a huge looking glass, which they will arrange to pass through. And there will be strange and wonderful doings on the other side of the glass, as there were in "Alice."

ENT seems to be going by on wings, does it not? Maybe to those who gave up candy, or ice cream, or other such favorite tit-bits, the time has seemed exceedingly long. Be that as it may, next Sunday will be the fifth in Leat, or Passion Sunday, and then will come Palm Sunday, then Easter, and with Easter the violent gayety, as it were, will start again.

Junior Cinderella Dance at the Merion Cricket Club and a great many dinner parties will precede it. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Fitler will entertain for their very attractive little daughter, Nancy Fitler, and Mrs. Jim Winsor, Jr., will give a dinner for Elizabeth Farnum, who, you remember, is the daughter of the late Henry Whipple Farnum and Mrs. Farnum, the latter having been Miss Anna Bickley, of this city, a sister of Mrs. Ned Page. They have come back here recently to live.

LISIE has been beautifully brought up. She is taught, above all things and at all times, to be polite. The other day she was playing with her little cousin and another small boy. The boys lost their ball and proceeded to throw sticks and everything they could find to dislodge it from a fork in a tree. Finally Jackie spied an old tin can on top of the ash barrel and threw it. It hit the trunk and "kicked" back, landing on Elsie's head, cutting it quite a little bit.

After it was all carefully bandaged by mother and Elsie was still sobbing. Jackie approached and said: "O Elsie, I'm 'awfly' sorry." And said

OPENING ANNOUNCEMENT

Bonwit Teller & Co.'s New Shop in the St. James Hotel (The Individual Lingerie Shop - Formerly Thirteenth and Sansom Streets)

THE opening of the St. James Shop is the tangible evidence of the evolution of an idea that had its inception seven years ago, when Bonwit Teller & Co. opened the Individual Lingerie Shop at Thirteenth and Sansom Streets-the only one of its kind in the country. This new shop indicates not only the growth of an idea, but the progress of an institution and the achievement of an ideal.

The Specialty Shop of Originations

for years has devoted itself to the study of every phase of the Fine Art of Women's Dress. The principles of Art: symmetry, plastic grace and color harmonization: were applied to the development of Women's intimate apparel-the inner elegancies of dress as the fitting complements to the outer costumes of beauty and distinction.

Individual Shops of Lingerie, Negligees, Hosiery and Corsets

will replace the original Lingerie Shop. In exquisitely appointed salons, created to provide the desired atmosphere of artistic charm and beauty. women with that innate refinement and instinctive good taste may select their Apparel Intime in an environment of privacy. The introduction of the corset shop is in response to the demand of our patrons who wish the same perfection in a corset that is evinced in our negligees and undergarments. Corsetieres, accomplished in the art of moulding the feminine form to slender and supple lines, will personally study types and meet the requirements of the individual.

Bonwit-Teller & Co. Extends a Cordial Invitation to all, to attend the opening of their St. James Shop, that marks the progression of this organization, symbolizes the confidence of an ever-growing clientele, signifies an appreciation of the high standards of this institution and presages the highest attainments in the Art of Women's Dress.
