NEW MAYOR SWORN IN THIS AFTERNOON AT SPECIAL SESSION OF CITY COUNCIL MAKES SHORT ADDRESS

Frank S. Van Hart was sworn in today at a special session of City Council. Van Hart succeeds Charles H. Ellis, who will become postmaster tomorrow.

Mr. Van Hart became acting mayor by virtue of his being the president of the City Council. Both the retiring and the new mayor made short addresses.

Postmaster-elect Ellis said that he was glad to turn over the reins of the city to a boyhood friend. He declared that his successor was a "booster," and gave him credit for having secured the being of the first municipal pier in Camden.

Major Van Hart said that he hoped that his administration would be as successful as those of his predecessor, who he believed had been forgotten, but would be called upon frequently for counsel in important municipal affairs.

Their children barred from attending sessions at the Berlin, N. J., public school because of their refusal to be vaccinated, Luke Bates, George Ware and James Adams, all of Berlin, through counsel will seek a writ of mandamus from Supreme Court Justice Kates next Tuesday to compel the school authorities to admit the children.

A few days ago a policeman was placed at the school door and the three children were barred from entering the building. The school authorities said that the presence of children not vaccinated destroyed discipline and upset the dignity of the school.

Judge of the Camden County Court for five years, John B. Kates retired today with the well-wishes of members of the bar and citizens. He made an excellent record while on the bench. Samuel M. Shay, lawyer of Camden, will be sworn in as the new Judge tomorrow morning.

Although the reports cannot be confirmed it is rumored in Camden that the Rev. Morgan L. Griffith, pastor of St. Wilfrid's Episcopal Church, East Camden, has resigned. For some time past he has been absent from the city for several days. Members of the parish refused to confirm the report of the resignation.

Miss Marguerite Smink died Tuesday morning at her home, 6128 Carpenter street, after an illness of two weeks. She was educated in the Philadelphia public schools, was a devout member of the Methodist Episcopal Church and a faithful Red Cross worker during the war.

The funeral of Edward P. Timmons, one of the largest landowners of the section near North Brook, Chester County, who died in St. Agnes' Hospital Wednesday night, following an operation, will be conducted tomorrow afternoon from an undertaking establishment at Eighteenth and Chestnut streets.

John J. Welsh, fifty years old, 102 Mastic street, an acting sergeant of the Front and Mastic streets police station, died yesterday afternoon in a hospital after an operation for appendicitis. He was appointed to the force five years ago and had been acting sergeant for the last two years. He is survived by his widow, two sons and a daughter.

William K. Bowman, seventy years old, who for the last thirty years had conducted a furniture business in Camden, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. M. J. Bowman, 10 A. S. P. P. March 29, 1922. MARGARET JUDGE, widow of Frank Judge, died at her late residence, 2323 N. Hancock st., at 2 P. M. yesterday. Interment New Catholic cemetery. Interment New Catholic cemetery.

Colonel C. L. Meizman Dead. Reading, Pa., March 31.—(By A. P.)—A telegram from San Francisco today announced the death of Colonel C. L. Meizman, a native of Reading, aged seventy-six. He graduated from the University of Pennsylvania and was in the medical corps of the Army from 1880 to 1892.

FRANK S. VAN HART President of the Camden Council, became Mayor of Camden today, when Mayor Charles B. Ellis resigned to assume the postmaster-ship of Camden.

Malcolm McKenzie, an employe of the Wilson Stair Building Company, of Collingdale, who was stricken on his way from work, will be buried today. Special services will be held at the home of his daughter, on Spruce street, Darby, and will be conducted by the Rev. A. T. Lake, pastor of the Colwyn Baptist Church.

Raymond L. Manderson, twenty-three years old, a well-known banjo player and leader of the Manderson Society Orchestra, of Atlantic City and Miami, died at his home in Paoli Thursday of last week. Funeral services were held in the Church of the Good Samaritan, Paoli, on Monday.

One Hundred Oil Derrick Wrecked in Red River Parish. Shreveport, La., March 31.—(By A. P.)—Several buildings were wrecked and more than 100 derricks blown down by a tornado which swept the Cretion section of the Red River Parish last night, according to reports reaching here.

30 Cows, 5 Horses Die in Fire West Chester, Pa., March 31.—Thirty dairy cows and five horses perished early today in a fire of undetermined origin which destroyed a large stone barn on the former McClure farm, Birmingham Township, the tenant, Arthur Pyle, who moved there yesterday, owned the stock and contents of the farm. The farm was the property of Joseph Hinton Thompson, of West Chester, who places his loss at $12,000 with about $10,000 insurance. Pyle's loss was $6000. In addition to the barn a number of stalls, silo and other buildings were destroyed.

Deaths of a Day. Herbert N. Fawcett. The funeral of Herbert N. Fawcett, an auditor for the Pennsylvania Railroad, will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 P. M. from the residence of his wife, Mrs. E. M. Fawcett, 3408 North Judson street. Services will be conducted in the Church of St. James the Apostle, 1801 N. 22nd st.

'JOKE' FLIRTATION IS FULL OF DANGER

Dr. Grammer Says Present-Day Pranks Often Have Grave Aftermath. PRIMROSE PATH THORNY.

The sin that lurks behind the apparently innocuous pranks of today was the policy stressed by the Rev. Dr. Carl E. Grammer in his Lenten talk today at the St. Stephen's Church, Tenth and Chestnut streets.

Dr. Grammer, "that these modern day pranks are but passing moods, but if you look behind the scenes you'll find they are a lot blacker than hell."
