Letters to the Editor

Vamped Her Own Husband
Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:
The discussion in your paper of the present-day stenog and the married man has stirred up my blood and I have been through the mill, as you say, in my mind.

At one time I planned to have my husband bring the girl to our home, thinking that if I could make her love me she would see the terrible wrong she was doing.

Finally came the little hints of divorce and right then and there my blood was up to the boiling point and I knew there would never be a divorce.

Think of that, folks: think of vamping your own husband! I bought myself some new clothes for I must tell you I had lost most of my good looks and vivacity during the fight.

Nearly a year has passed. My husband has promised that he will never pay the least attention to any woman who tries to attract him to her. He has had his lesson. He loves me better now; it seems the struggle has drawn us closer together.

You stenographers who read this, you young ladies who pride yourselves on being able to vump your own husbands, good looking men in your office, take a word of advice from a little woman who has suffered because of one of you. Leave the married man alone.

Remember that you can never get out of an affair with a married man unscathed. Play the game fair and square, girls.

Asks North Penn Depositors to Act
Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:
Sir—This is a call to the "pinhead" group of depositors of the North Penn Bank to join hands, first to defeat every man who was in the State's employ at the time the bank was robbed, and secondly to try to have the State reimburse them for their losses, since the State was in charge when the bank was robbed by Moyer and his political confederates.

Philadelphia, March 30, 1922.

What Veterans' Bureau is Doing

To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:
Sir—I have read with much interest the letter of Comrade James A. Remy concerning war risk insurance granted to the men who served in the United States Army during the war in 1917.

Second, Providing, without cost, hospital care and treatment to 40,000 veterans and dependents.

Third, Giving vocational training, without cost, to over one hundred thousand disabled ex-service men at an expenditure for tuition and supervision of $30,000,000 per annum.

Fourth, Mailing out six hundred and fifty thousand checks every month, representing $42,000,000.

Fifth, Conducting an insurance business for over six hundred thousand ex-service men without any cost of administration to the Government.

Sixth, Conducting over fifty thousand medical examinations every month.

Seventh, Giving outside treatment in cases where hospitalization is not required to twenty thousand ex-service men every month.

Eighth, Receiving one thousand new claims every day, in addition to the million, two hundred thousand already on file, employing four thousand ex-service men and women in carrying out the work.

Ninth, Requiring for 1922, expenditures in behalf of the disabled ex-service men, $510,000,000—more than the entire income of the whole United States in 1847.

Tenth, The United States of America is already doing more for its disabled veterans than any other country in the world, despite the fact that their losses were far heavier than ours.

Is This Why They Bob Their Hair?

To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:
Sir—I am a recent issue of the LEADER which I noticed that R. J. and A. W. Bodner wish to know if any one can tell why women wear bobbed hair.

He will turn to the Bible, he will find in First Corinthians, Chapter II, verses 13 and 14, what he is looking for.

Status of the Deaf Man

To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:
Sir—It appears to the writer that the Veterans' Bureau is showing discrimination against the totally and incurably deaf former service men.

'Old-Fashioned' Pepperypot

To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:
Sir—Two or three days ago a request for a recipe of "old-fashioned pepperypot" appeared in your People's Forum—the kind that was made "fifty years ago."

The writer enjoyed eating this dish somewhat more than fifty years ago in the Second street market, at South street, as it was lovingly made by an old colored mammy.

The Duo-Art Pianola-Piano
A Reproducing Piano—not merely a Player-Piano differs from a player-piano in that The Duo-Art IS really THE ARTIST actually PLAYING. And as Josef Hofmann says, The Duo-Art gives "My actual interpretation with all that implies."

A Wise Mother and a Good Dessert
"I wish I could find something for the children that they would like as well as cornstarch pudding or blanc mange," said Mrs. Matthews. "Why not try this? I've just talked one afternoon. 'They're such a nuisance to make, and one never knows whether they are going to turn out right or not.' 'Why don't you make Pudding? That always turns out right,' replied her friend.

As a Wise Mother and a Good Dessert
"Is it expensive?" asked her friend.
"Oh, no, indeed. You can serve seven loaves from a 15c package of Pudding. And then what I like about it is that I can let the children have as much as they want, because it is pure and wholesome."

As a Wise Mother and a Good Dessert
"I certainly shall get some Pudding," said Mrs. Matthews. "I'm glad you told me about it."

As a Wise Mother and a Good Dessert
A week later the two friends were talking together on the phone. "By the way," said Mrs. Matthews, "my whole family simply loves Pudding. I think they'd like to have it for every meal. I certainly am glad you told me about it."
