

THE MASTER OF MAN:—By Sir Hall Caine

An Outspoken and Moving Study of a Deep Sex Problem by the Noted Author of "The Manxman," "The Deemster," "The Eternal City," "The Woman Thou Gavest Me," Etc.

THIS BEGINS THE STORY

Victor Stovell, son of the Deemster, Chief Judge of the Isle of Man, was a handsome and fine natured man. His mother, the late Mrs. Stovell, was a woman of great refinement, and her son, the Deemster, was a man of great ability. Victor was a young man of great promise, and his mother was proud of him. She had a high opinion of her son, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man.

AND HERE IT CONTINUES

Victor Stovell, another woman was hearing black stories about him. She was sure that he was a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man.

HALL CAINE

Victor Stovell, another woman was hearing black stories about him. She was sure that he was a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man.

Victor Stovell, another woman was hearing black stories about him. She was sure that he was a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man.

Victor Stovell, another woman was hearing black stories about him. She was sure that he was a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man.

Victor Stovell, another woman was hearing black stories about him. She was sure that he was a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man.

Victor Stovell, another woman was hearing black stories about him. She was sure that he was a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man.

Victor Stovell, another woman was hearing black stories about him. She was sure that he was a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man.

Victor Stovell, another woman was hearing black stories about him. She was sure that he was a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man.

Victor Stovell, another woman was hearing black stories about him. She was sure that he was a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man.

Victor Stovell, another woman was hearing black stories about him. She was sure that he was a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man.

Victor Stovell, another woman was hearing black stories about him. She was sure that he was a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man.

Victor Stovell, another woman was hearing black stories about him. She was sure that he was a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man.

Victor Stovell, another woman was hearing black stories about him. She was sure that he was a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man.

Victor Stovell, another woman was hearing black stories about him. She was sure that he was a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man.

Victor Stovell, another woman was hearing black stories about him. She was sure that he was a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man.

Victor Stovell, another woman was hearing black stories about him. She was sure that he was a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man.

Victor Stovell, another woman was hearing black stories about him. She was sure that he was a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man.

Victor Stovell, another woman was hearing black stories about him. She was sure that he was a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man.

Victor Stovell, another woman was hearing black stories about him. She was sure that he was a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man.

Victor Stovell, another woman was hearing black stories about him. She was sure that he was a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man.

Victor Stovell, another woman was hearing black stories about him. She was sure that he was a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man.

Victor Stovell, another woman was hearing black stories about him. She was sure that he was a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man.

Victor Stovell, another woman was hearing black stories about him. She was sure that he was a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man.

Victor Stovell, another woman was hearing black stories about him. She was sure that he was a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man.

Victor Stovell, another woman was hearing black stories about him. She was sure that he was a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man.

Victor Stovell, another woman was hearing black stories about him. She was sure that he was a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man.

Victor Stovell, another woman was hearing black stories about him. She was sure that he was a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man.

Victor Stovell, another woman was hearing black stories about him. She was sure that he was a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man.

Victor Stovell, another woman was hearing black stories about him. She was sure that he was a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man.

Victor Stovell, another woman was hearing black stories about him. She was sure that he was a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man.

Victor Stovell, another woman was hearing black stories about him. She was sure that he was a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man.

Victor Stovell, another woman was hearing black stories about him. She was sure that he was a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man. She was sure that he would be a great man, and she was sure that he would be a great man.

Is Man's Law Too Hard for the Woman in the Case? Is Conscience Enough Punishment for Him, While She Pays the Legal Penalty?

In This Frank and Gripping Story the Man, as Judge, Sits in Sentence on the Girl Tried for Their Sin.

The piazza, the days being long and the evenings warm.

The Deemster was uneasy about the case they had tried the day before, and talked much about it. A farmer had killed a girl on his farm after every appearance of gross ill-usage. The crime and the motive had been clear and therefore the law could show no leniency. But there had been external circumstances which might have affected the man's conduct. Down to ten years before he had been a right-living man, clean and sober and honest and even religious. Then he had been thrown by a young horse and kicked on the head and had had to undergo an operation after he came out of the hospital his whole character was found to have changed. He had become drunken, dishonest, a sensualist and a foul-mouthed blasphemer, and finally he had committed the crime for which he now stood condemned.

"It makes me tremble to think of it," said the Deemster, "that a mere physical accident, a mere chance, or a mere spasm of animal instinct, may crush any of us at any time to act in a way that is utterly contrary to our moral character and most sincere resolutions."

"It's true, though," said the Governor, "and it doesn't require the kick of a horse to make a man act in opposition to his character. The loudest outcry a man hears is the call of his physical nature, and law and religion are of no avail."

"But suddenly they became aware that something was happening. Quietly, noiselessly, almost before they were conscious of what he was doing, Victor Stovell, who had been sitting at the end of the Deemster's pew, had risen, stepped across to the reading desk, put a soft hand on the Vicar's arm, and was reading the lesson for him."

"Saul and Jonathan were lovely and pleasant in their lives, and in their death they were not divided. * * * I am distressed for thee, my brother Jonathan; thy love to me was wonderful, passing the love of women. * * *"

People who were there that morning said afterward that never before had the sublime lament of the great King, the great warrior and the great poet, for his dead friend and dead enemy, been read as it was read that day by the young voice, so rich and resonant, that was ringing through the old church.

But it was not that alone that was welling through their bosoms. It was the thrilling certainty that out of the greatness of his heart the son of the Deemster (of whom too many of them had been talking ill) had covered the nakedness of the poor stricken sinner who had sunk back in his surplice to a seat behind him.

When the service was over, and the clergy had returned to the vestry, the congregation remained standing until the Governor had left the church. But nobody looked at him now, for all eyes were on the two who followed him—the Deemster and Victor.

back, with a beaming face, into the carriage at the gate.

"Thou need have no fear of thy lot, I tell thee. The Ballanore will outlive, and too soon it came.

To be continued tomorrow

(Copyright, 1921, International Magazine Co.)

back, with a beaming face, into the carriage at the gate.

"Thou need have no fear of thy lot, I tell thee. The Ballanore will outlive, and too soon it came.

To be continued tomorrow

(Copyright, 1921, International Magazine Co.)

back, with a beaming face, into the carriage at the gate.

"Thou need have no fear of thy lot, I tell thee. The Ballanore will outlive, and too soon it came.

To be continued tomorrow

(Copyright, 1921, International Magazine Co.)

back, with a beaming face, into the carriage at the gate.

"Thou need have no fear of thy lot, I tell thee. The Ballanore will outlive, and too soon it came.

To be continued tomorrow

(Copyright, 1921, International Magazine Co.)

back, with a beaming face, into the carriage at the gate.

"Thou need have no fear of thy lot, I tell thee. The Ballanore will outlive, and too soon it came.

To be continued tomorrow

(Copyright, 1921, International Magazine Co.)

back, with a beaming face, into the carriage at the gate.

"Thou need have no fear of thy lot, I tell thee. The Ballanore will outlive, and too soon it came.

To be continued tomorrow

(Copyright, 1921, International Magazine Co.)

back, with a beaming face, into the carriage at the gate.

"Thou need have no fear of thy lot, I tell thee. The Ballanore will outlive, and too soon it came.

To be continued tomorrow

(Copyright, 1921, International Magazine Co.)

back, with a beaming face, into the carriage at the gate.

"Thou need have no fear of thy lot, I tell thee. The Ballanore will outlive, and too soon it came.

To be continued tomorrow

(Copyright, 1921, International Magazine Co.)

Springtime in the Nursery

Don't brighten up all the rest of the house and leave the nursery dingy. Come see the new, attractive furniture we specialize in. Make the nursery fresh and sanitary and see the kiddies thrive.

Dougherty's Faultless Bedding
Hair Mattresses Box Springs Bedsteads
1632 Chestnut Street

Is Your Kitchen All-Gas?

In these days of labor-saving, comfort-promoting devices, no woman should be without the convenience of a Gas Range, Gas Water Heater and Gas Iron.

When all the kitchen work is done by means of gas heat, you can be sure of greater convenience, cleanliness and economy.

We now have on display new Gas Ranges, with many attractive features. Some are finished in enamel. All are built according to American Gas Association specifications, insuring good material and workmanship and perfect cooking results.

Call or ask us to send a representative

THE UNITED GAS IMPROVEMENT COMPANY

Watch These nice effects

Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

Compare your teeth now with your teeth in 10 days. Judge how you like the change.

Then read the reason for each new effect. Consider what they mean to you in the years to come.

You will know then what is best for you and yours.

This Gift Test Brings a revelation—make it now

This offers you a delightful ten-day test—and free. It is a test which has taught millions a new method of teeth cleaning.

The glistening teeth you see everywhere now are due in large part to this method.

It shows the way to whiter, cleaner, safer teeth. And all in your home, as long as they live, may be benefited by it.

The film on teeth

One purpose is to fight the film on teeth—that viscous film you feel. That is what dims teeth and destroys them. Most tooth troubles are now traced to film.

Film clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays. The tooth brush used in old ways leaves much of it intact. So most folks find that teeth brushed daily still discolor and decay. In fact, tooth troubles have been constantly increasing.

Makes teeth dingy

It is the film-coats that become discolored, not the teeth. Most teeth are clouded by it, more or less. Film is the basis of tartar.

Film holds food substance which ferments and forms acids. It holds the acids in contact with the teeth to cause decay. It breeds millions of germs, and they, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

So the enemies of teeth and their beauty are largely developed in film.

Two film combatants

Dental science, after long research, has found two film combatants. Able authorities have proved their efficiency. Now leading dentists, nearly all the world over, are urging their daily use.

These methods are embodied in a dentifrice called Pepsodent—a tooth paste which meets every modern requirement. So every application effectively fights film. It combats this tooth-destroyer as nothing else has done.

Also starch and acids

Gummy starch deposits also cling to teeth. In fermenting they form acids—the acids which cause decay. Brushing rarely removes them all.

Nature puts a starch digestant in the saliva, to digest those starch deposits. It puts alkalis there to neutralize the acids. But they need stimulation.

Pepsodent multiplies that starch digestant. It multiplies the alkalis. Thus it increases markedly these natural protective agents.

For beauty's sake

Everybody should use Pepsodent, if only for beauty's sake. Film-coated teeth mar the beauty of millions. Remove the film and see.

But dental science has far greater objects. Very few people have escaped tooth troubles. Some of these troubles are alarming in extent. That is what has led men to this dentifrice reform.

Send this coupon for the 10-Day Tube. Watch the change in a week. Then judge by clear results. This is most important to you. Cut out the coupon so you won't forget.

Five Things Happen With Every Application

1—Film removal.

2—High polish.

3—Increased salivary flow.

4—Multiplied starch digestant in the saliva.

5—Multiplied alkalinity, to neutralize all acids.

10-Day Tube Free

THE PEPSODENT COMPANY, Dept. S-159, 1104 S. Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill. Mail 10-Day Tube of Pepsodent to

The finest butter in America!

45¢ lb

Sold only in our Stores

AMERICAN BUTTER

CLEANSING

Finest Gowns Real Laces Coats Skirts Spats Gloves for Women

Suits Overcoats Spats Ties Fancy Waistcoats for Men

Blankets Lace Curtains Draperies Portieres Rugs and all Household Fabrics

DYEING

All the latest Paris shades

Also Exceptional Laundry Work on Collars and Shirts

LEWANDOS

America's Greatest CLEANSERS and DYERS

PHILADELPHIA SHOP 1633 Chestnut Street Telephone Spruce 4679 Delivery Service

Boston New York Philadelphia and All Large Cities of the East "You Can Rely on Lewandos"

Next morning the Deemster returned from Douglas, and the afternoon, the Governor arrived. They took tea on the piazza, the days being long and the evenings warm.

The Deemster was uneasy about the case they had tried the day before, and talked much about it. A farmer had killed a girl on his farm after every appearance of gross ill-usage. The crime and the motive had been clear and therefore the law could show no leniency. But there had been external circumstances which might have affected the man's conduct. Down to ten years before he had been a right-living man, clean and sober and honest and even religious. Then he had been thrown by a young horse and kicked on the head and had had to undergo an operation after he came out of the hospital his whole character was found to have changed. He had become drunken, dishonest, a sensualist and a foul-mouthed blasphemer, and finally he had committed the crime for which he now stood condemned.

"It makes me tremble to think of it," said the Deemster, "that a mere physical accident, a mere chance, or a mere spasm of animal instinct, may crush any of us at any time to act in a way that is utterly contrary to our moral character and most sincere resolutions."

"It's true, though," said the Governor, "and it doesn't require the kick of a horse to make a man act in opposition to his character. The loudest outcry a man hears is the call of his physical nature, and law and religion are of no avail."

"But suddenly they became aware that something was happening. Quietly, noiselessly, almost before they were conscious of what he was doing, Victor Stovell, who had been sitting at the end of the Deemster's pew, had risen, stepped across to the reading desk, put a soft hand on the Vicar's arm, and was reading the lesson for him."

"Saul and Jonathan were lovely and pleasant in their lives, and in their death they were not divided. * * * I am distressed for thee, my brother Jonathan; thy love to me was wonderful, passing the love of women. * * *"

People who were there that morning said afterward that never before had the sublime lament of the great King, the great warrior and the great poet, for his dead friend and dead enemy, been read as it was read that day by the young voice, so rich and resonant, that was ringing through the old church.

But it was not that alone that was welling through their bosoms. It was the thrilling certainty that out of the greatness of his heart the son of the Deemster (of whom too many of them had been talking ill) had covered the nakedness of the poor stricken sinner who had sunk back in his surplice to a seat behind him.

When the service was over, and the clergy had returned to the vestry, the congregation remained standing until the Governor had left the church. But nobody looked at him now, for all eyes were on the two who followed him—the Deemster and Victor.

back, with a beaming face, into the carriage at the gate.

"Thou need have no fear of thy lot, I tell thee. The Ballanore will outlive, and too soon it came.

To be continued tomorrow

(Copyright, 1921, International Magazine Co.)

back, with a beaming face, into the carriage at the gate.

"Thou need have no fear of thy lot, I tell thee. The Ballanore will outlive, and too soon it came.

To be continued tomorrow

(Copyright, 1921, International Magazine Co.)

back, with a beaming face, into the carriage at the gate.

"Thou need have no fear of thy lot, I tell thee. The Ballanore will outlive, and too soon it came.

To be continued tomorrow

(Copyright, 1921, International Magazine Co.)

back, with a beaming face, into the carriage at the gate.

"Thou need have no fear of thy lot, I tell thee. The Ballanore will outlive, and too soon it came.

To be continued tomorrow

(Copyright, 1921, International Magazine Co.)

back, with a beaming face, into the carriage at the gate.

"Thou need have no fear of thy lot, I tell thee. The Ballanore will outlive, and too soon it came.

How to Write a Story