

SPRING BOOKS FOR ALL SORTS OF READERS

The German Eulenspiegel Legend Made Over Into a Flemish Epic

THAT a real book will survive all sorts of neglect is proved by the revival of interest in Charles De Coster's "The Legend of Eulenspiegel," a translation of which has just been published by Doubleday, Page & Co., in two volumes.

The Coster was a Belgian, born in Munching while his father was attached to the household of the papal nuncio in the Bavarian capital. His home was in Liege, where he devoted himself to literature and was associated with a number of young men in founding a short-lived literary publication.

Fiction, Fishing and Criticism

M. MORGAN GIBBON has taken a page of life in which to wrap her latest novel, "The Pharisians" (Doubleday, Page & Co.).

The House on Charles Street

"Such delightful people as through these pages, The grace, the urbanity and sane wholesomeness of the anonymous writer illumines every page."

Germany hated E. Phillips Oppenheim, because he was the first writer of fiction to proclaim the Teutonic menace.

The Great Prince Shan

A Fascinating Story of World Politics in 1934

E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM

Another Murder Mystery

THE GREAT PRINCE SHAN

THE HOUSE ON CHARLES STREET

GERMANY HATED E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM

THE GREAT PRINCE SHAN

SIR PAUL DUKES A British spy in Russia, who has told of his experiences in a book

THE REAL THING

Hazardous Adventures of a British Spy in Russia More Thrilling Than Fiction

If Sir Paul Dukes, who served in Russia as a member of the secret service of the British Government, had chosen to write a spy novel based on his experiences he could not have written a more thrilling book than the actual story of what he saw and did, which appears in "Red Dusk and the Morning" (Doubleday, Page & Co.).

BOOK EXCHANGE

Rare First Editions

AN EXTRAORDINARILY CHOICE AND COMPLETE collection of scarce and costly books, first editions, modern and antique, complete and other unbound volumes, available for exchange.

LITERATURE OF OTHER NATIONS

THE BAPTIST BOOKSHOP

1703 Chestnut Street (2d Floor—Take Elevator) A Complete Stock of RELIGIOUS BOOKS—BIBLES and TESTAMENTS CHILDREN'S BOOKS—WORTH WHILE BOOKS OF ALL PUBLISHERS SUPPLIES FOR THE CHURCH and SUNDAY SCHOOL Easter Cards and Booklets

LEONARD MERRICK'S novel ONE MAN'S VIEW

Introduction by GRANVILLE BARKER

HIS DOG

THE BRACEGIRDLE

HIS DOG

THE BRACEGIRDLE

THE BRACEGIRDLE

HIS DOG

THE BRACEGIRDLE

THE SENSATION OF 1922 A Son of Sahara

THE GREATEST OF ALL DESERT NOVELS BY LOUISE GERARD That gives you the real thrill of the Sahara with its Wild Bedouins In Slave Markets The Luxuries of a Sultan's Harem The Capture of a White Woman Her Rescue And the big fight (Spanish Finish) $1.75 net

Clare Sheridan's MY AMERICAN DIARY

INTIMATE, sparkling, gossipy revelations, deliciously frank, of the impressions made upon this famous English society woman and sculptress by our leading men and women of society and letters.

THE PRESBYTERIAN BOOK STORE

Witherspoon Building (Second Floor) Juniper and Walnut Streets

The best books of all reputable American and English publishers.

FIVE BIG NOVELS WHICH YOU MUST NOT MISS

SHEILA KAYE-SMITH'S Joanna Godden

"The most vivid, original, real person that was ever put into a book."—N. P. DAWSON in The Globe, 6th edition.

CHARLES G. NORRIS'S Brass A Novel of Marriage

The power of this novel's unsparring truth is making it tremendously effective.

EDWARD L. WHITE'S Andivius Hedullo

One of the big book dealers reports two novels which men who like a good story are "simply eating up." This is one of them. 7th edition.

ROBERT KEABLE'S Simon Called Peter

Life calls it: "A good book that deserves to be widely read." Thirteenth edition.

BRETT YOUNG'S The Black Diamond

The Tribune says: "Few passages in recent fiction surpass in brilliancy of conception those that give flame and sustained fire to the closing chapters of 'The Black Diamond.'" Each $2.00. At all bookstores. If not, order from the publishers, E. P. Dutton & Co., 681 5th Ave., N. Y.

Clare Sheridan's MY AMERICAN DIARY

INTIMATE, sparkling, gossipy revelations, deliciously frank, of the impressions made upon this famous English society woman and sculptress by our leading men and women of society and letters.

THE PRESBYTERIAN BOOK STORE

Witherspoon Building (Second Floor) Juniper and Walnut Streets

The best books of all reputable American and English publishers.

FIVE BIG NOVELS WHICH YOU MUST NOT MISS

SHEILA KAYE-SMITH'S Joanna Godden

"The most vivid, original, real person that was ever put into a book."—N. P. DAWSON in The Globe, 6th edition.

CHARLES G. NORRIS'S Brass A Novel of Marriage

The power of this novel's unsparring truth is making it tremendously effective.

EDWARD L. WHITE'S Andivius Hedullo

One of the big book dealers reports two novels which men who like a good story are "simply eating up." This is one of them. 7th edition.

ROBERT KEABLE'S Simon Called Peter

Life calls it: "A good book that deserves to be widely read." Thirteenth edition.

BRETT YOUNG'S The Black Diamond

The Tribune says: "Few passages in recent fiction surpass in brilliancy of conception those that give flame and sustained fire to the closing chapters of 'The Black Diamond.'" Each $2.00. At all bookstores. If not, order from the publishers, E. P. Dutton & Co., 681 5th Ave., N. Y.

A Spring Fiction List

THE SCARLET Tanager

A consummate mystery story; with threads marvelously and ingeniously tangled; Seafalcon the elusive quarry, and plotters, counterplotters and the beautiful Scarlet Tanager, chasing madly through the plot. $1.75

CHILDREN OF THE MARKET PLACE

By Edgar Lee Masters This remarkable book is above everything else a study of Douglas and as such it is not only able and fascinating, but strangely timely. A picture humanly attractive and far reachingly instructive. —Edwin Bjorkman in The New York Herald. $2.00

MARIA CHAPDELAINÉ

By Louis Hémon "A delicately wrought tale—a simple, slender theme, but one treated with rare grace, having a background of the Canadian country that stands out like a painting."—The Outlook. "A good book, a great book and a true book."—Life. $2.00

THE HOUSE OF RIMMON

By Mary S. Watts A novel of youth and genius and the struggles of a young poet to preserve his ideals in the brilliant artistic circles of New York. $2.00

THE PRISONERS OF HARTLING

By J. D. Beresford "Exquisite artistry—a succession of delicate strokes that suggest with extraordinary nicety the personalities and emotions he tries to evoke."—Amy Loveman in The Literary Review. $1.50

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY

64-66 Fifth Avenue New York City

No woman has ever wielded greater influence over those in her care—influence for a superb womanhood—than the author of Spiritual Pastels. A New York father was so impressed with the worth of Spiritual Pastels and with the graces and endowments of its author that he sent his daughter to the Philadelphia college where J. S. E. guides. With such a guide, such an exemplar, he is happy in the assurance that the one he loves will surely be something more than an educated snob in this socially shallow age.

SPIRITUAL PASTELS

By J. S. E.

Literally the heart and soul communings of an intelligent, educated, cultured woman—a Nun—with an all-wise Christ, the Christ of the masses—of the poor, the Christ of Lent, not the golden crossed Christ now shekel owned by the richest men in the world and capitalized by them and others as a means to an end.

Just the book for daily reading—particularly ideal for Lenten reading. If your prayer book is mislaid take "Spiritual Pastels" to church instead. If you don't go to church—if you are agnostic, even atheistic, "Spiritual Pastels" won't argue or quarrel with you, but it will—positively will—inspire and comfort you. If you are inclined to sneer at "the kind of religious stuff the servants buy," read "Spiritual Pastels" and then you will commend it to your domestics—and to yourself.

"Spiritual Pastels" is as foreign to kitchen theology and drawing-room cant as Heaven is to the Rogues' Gallery.

Fifth Edition Ready April 3d Beautifully Illustrated. Price $1.50 Net, $1.60 Postpaid.

Edition after edition of this really inspiring work has been sold. "Spiritual Pastels" will be sent to any reader of the Public Ledger, and your money promptly refunded if even slightly disappointed. At Bookstores or

THE DEVIN-ADAIR COMPANY, Publishers, 437 Fifth Avenue, New York

SAINT TERESA

By Henry Sydnor Harrison

A few of the controversial reviews that are making this the most talked of book of the season.

"The book contains a chapter the sensational nature of which can seldom have been equaled in English fiction. The reaction of women to this chapter will be one of shocked disgust. They will allow no excuses to be found for Teresa De Silver and they will accept no explanations of her conduct. And the fact that they are wrong will make not the slightest difference." —Grant Overton in the New York Herald.

"This young lady and young gentleman, after trying to outwit each other for many chapters, finally engage in a rough-and-tumble fight. . . . This is a fight surely worthy paying $2.00 (no war tax) to see. I would not have missed it for anything. . . . A rattling good story. . . . a remarkable piece of fiction, a well-wrought work of art." —William Lyon Phelps in the New York Post.

"In every way, one of the most notable American novels of recent years." —Worcester Gazette.

"This book is of absorbing interest from the first page to the last. . . . There never was anything better and truer and more sincere than the terrible, long, hand-to-hand fight which is the inevitable climax of the book. There will be a lot of criticism of this—criticism of the type that 'that sort of thing doesn't happen.' In some people's lives apparently nothing ever does happen that is not agreeable to discuss at a dinner table." —Alice Duer Miller in the New York Tribune.

The storm of praise and denunciation that has greeted SAINT TERESA is in itself the best proof of its extraordinary power and absorbing interest.

HOUGHTON MIFFLIN COMPANY

My Memories of Eighty Years

No other American could write such a book of reminiscences

At all bookstores. $4.00.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS, Fifth Ave., New York