THEY were talking about a new play Over and over again you crowd some one else out of the place that he has be Carewell appearance. "It's very good, isn't it?" said one sho hadn't seen it. "Yes," replied the one who had, but it's disappointing because she has mch an unpleasant, unattractive part. If only people would retire when they are attractive and charming, and not go on trying to play when they can't do it. If I never see her again, I'll always keep that last impression of her, in that disagreeable, ugly part.

You know, when you stop to think about it, that's rather a heavy thought. Suppose your friends never saw you mgain-what would be their last impression of you?

If you left them, for instance, sudyour lips compressed in anger, and your last words, "Well, all right then if with your head up in the air. your lips compressed in anger, and your last words, "Well, all right then, if that's the way you feel about it!" not yet cold—and then they never saw you wour friends when you bid them good-

What would they think? What would be the impression of you that they would carry about in their minds?

The last time, you know—no chance

Did you ever think about it? THEN suppose the last time they saw pitiful state of indecision.

Suppose some one had asked you, whether you wanted charlotte russe or pression left; always a long road at piece of lemon meringue pie, and you had not been able to decide.

suppose your last appearance to our friends had shown you to be en-thought for some one else who may want thought for some one else who may want a cause, it and may have fewer facilities to get the somewhere else than you have.

A cause, the effect will take care of itself.

Deluded Wives By HAZEL DEVO BATCHELOR

Both Judith Carlyle and Lucy were unconscious of the fact that they were deluded scives until they discovered that both their Ausbands were interested in other scomen. It was then that Judy, at least, realized the truth. She had thought it enough to be just a wife, to cook her husband's meals and mend his clothes, but she discovered that in marriage there is the keenest kind of competition and that a man scants sympathy and under-standing and companionship in a wife as much as he wants her to be a good housekeeper.

"Who Is the Woman?"

don't you tell me what to do?"

Lucy shook her head violently, and enjoyment, protested. "That would be the very worst thing you could do. You must Lacy's unconscious irony, but she said joy of living? nothing, she was trying to think. After all, even though Lucy was entirely un-aware of the fact, she, Judy, was faced with exactly the same problem, and what was she going to do about it? If she had any idea of what she wanted to do she might be nine to help Lucy. but as far as she knew, there was nothing to be done. If Rand wanted to leave her for another woman she would never lower her pride to the extent of begging him to stay.

"I know it's hard for you to put your-self in my place." Lacy was wailing, self in my place, they are. but I can't stand things as they are. I must find out the truth. I want to know who the woman is and just how tertisements written you can cut them far things have gone. How am I going all the same size, fasten them together to find our anything if I don't tell with a paper clip and write your gro-Carl what I know? Will you tell me very lists on them.

blue eyes blazing. "I can see cheese. that I'm not going to get much in the way of mivice from you, so there's no need of staying any longer. But I want to tell you one thing, Judy, when the time comes and you tace such a thing in your own life you'll underatand my feelings."

And before Jusy could stop her.

Lucy had flown out of the room and clammed the door behind her.

Judy turned to the disordered studio and began hastily to clean it up. As she worked she tried to think, but there or Lucy. She had no doubt that Lucy would do exactly as she had threatened. In what she considered her outraged wifehood, she would produce the note and demand an explanation, and the result was inevitable.

With a stale of pain in her heart, Judy recalled the note. It was tender with hidden mennings, it showed an understanding of Carl that Lucy in her whallowness could not comprehend Who was the woman? Did I Did Rand

She wondered if she ought to say anything to Rand about it, but almost as the thought occurred to her, she discarded it. No doubt Rand had own all along, and if that were true, right to, just because you want to be there and can get away with it by

YET you'd hate to think that people are going to say of you. "She certainly was a hot-tempered person. Awfully hard to get along with."

Or, "My goodness, what an exhibition of weakness. I'd bate to be so flabby-willed as she was."

Or, "Selfish thing! Now that she's out of the way the rest of us can have something of our own."

something of our own. Everybody shrinks from voluntarily creating an impression that would leave that kind of memory.

But think how unpleasant it is to have people think of you in that was even over night, or over Sunday.

them to have? Do you remember reading the story.
"The Road of the Loving Heart" to come back and make up or smooth in the Little Colonel books, when you things over.

That's what that was, a striving to be always so kind and true and est that it wouldn't make any differyou in this world you were in a cace what moment happened to be the Diece of lemon meringue pie, and you had not been able to decide.

"Oh. I don't know," suppose you had left was loving and whose intentions were good.

What a picture that would have left you, if it had been your last chance express yourself!

september of lemon meringue pie, and you stretching out behind the traveler whose heart was loving and whose intentions were good.

It isn't easy to keep that road straight and open, and there's always danger of becoming insincerely sweet about it.

about it.
That's almost worse than being sincerely bad or selfish or weak. N ORDER to avoid it, the thing to

That wouldn't be a very worthy footprint to leave on the sands of time!

And lots of times you do find yourself

The character that will make it.

The impression is only an effect, not extend mutual congratulations on being married to each other! These young people are happy.

What is happiness? From the child husband, it is having what we want. But among the many unique answers to this oldest riddle a common one is promissory notes, and, of course, I'd salary man, qualify to shoulder the weeping. Through her tears she wailed it is something else, too. And that have things my way. Oh. I'd like to see him on his knees to me begging for mercy, that's the way I feel."

"But you mustn't do that." Judy protested: "That would be the very we think we would when we do not the see him on his knees to me begging In the nature of things we cannot row money to keep his business going In the nature of things we cannot would be the very we think we would when we do not the see him on the boss has a big expensive car. Relatively he has no more right to boss has no more right to have it. worst thing you could do. You must never let him know that you took that note. He faight not forgive you."

"He'll have to forgive me if I forgive him. Upon my word. Judy Carlyle, you sound as if you biame me instead of Carl for what has happened. I'm his wife, do you realize that? Do you think for a minute you'd stand anything like this from Rand?"

Judy could have laughed aloud at Judy could have laughed aloud at joy of living?

And with love-how precious to those Babylonian court. who are lonely, how very precious to us who have it

Since life must have its "ups and downs" we cheat ourselves of much if we do not live to the utmost the "ups" in conscious happiness.

If You Save

The blank sides of sheets of paper on which invitations are engraved or advertisements written you can cut them into the other woman's arms. Can't in you keep the bags that salt comes strawberry ice cream. Rather timidly in you see that for yourself?'

I drey was quickly the first of the marking, who became delighted with it. Upon Lucy rose quickly, her face flushed and use them to strain jelly or cottage

WHAT'S WHAT

Bu Helen Deci

Unless the bride's parents are wealth; a wedding breakfast is usually limited to the bridal party and the nearest relatives of the bride and bridegroom. The bridal table is decorated with white roses, greenery and white satin ribbon, and the "breakfast" served is an elaborate luncheon.

The Bride's going away suit is of beige satin bordered in dark brown with a wrap to match. Stitching in heavy silk is used as decoration.

EVENING PUBLIC LEDGE PRINTED FOR

Photor by Central News

The tulle veil

shades the hat

and frames

the face.

Paul and Virginia By HELENA HOYT GRANT

The New Problem

Paul-is there anything the mat-

"The boss! As if he has a right to some particular deal: with its toy to the woman with a good say."
Well, dear, of course I'd have to give

Lucy shook her head violently, and enjoyment.

Suddenly her tears stopped and she burst thou fiercely:

But I'll find out, I'll make him "How do you feel?" consciously do confess everything. And after that I'll feel fine? Or are we just indicating that the boss has a big expensive car. Some things are more right to bere gone.

Take good health.

Take good health.

Take good health.

"But that's to carry on the business." Virginia reminded him evenly.

"What of that! Of course, it's to carry on the business." What of that the boss has a big expensive car.

But the boss has a big expensive car. "What of that! Of course, it's to But they both

Can You Tell? By R. J. and A. W. BODMER

WHO ORIGINATED ICE CREAM?

Frozen desserts were made in the days of Babylon. At that time, with the use of goars' milk, honey and fruits, which were placed in a copper bowl, packed in clay and buried in caverns and frozen, they had a sort of cream which was served in the

Since that time through the different who have it!

But when we take it for granted, when we live unthinking with it in the days of Rameses we find frozen that the days of Rameses we find the days of Rameses we f stead of basking in 11, are we not desserts served at dinner. The monks wasting happiness?

Since life must have its "ups and be called an ice cream. The French be called an ice cream. The French be called an ice cream. in the early days made the first real frappe. This was carried through to French and American Ireland, and in 1687 some ice cream was made in Dublin-the first ice cream to be commercialized.

In the United States George Washington's colored mammy, who cooked all his meals, made a dessert of straw-berries and cream one day, which by accident she placed in ice in which there was salt. To her surprise when she came to serve it she had a dish of the occasion of a dinner which he shortly thereafter gave in bonor of General Lafayette he included this novel dessert and started its present popularity. Dolly Madison was toperson to make chocolate les creats in the United States.

The first commercial cream sold in the United States was made by a man named Fussel, and from that time on a struggle to build up the industry took place, for it takes a great many factories to supply the demand for ice cream in the United States. It pos-sesses great food value, and it is estimated that more than three hundred million gallons of ice cream are consumed annually in the United States.

Tomorrow-How Did Man Learn to Shoot?

when he allows himself a big enough THE tragic expression in his face I have to take a part of my salary to lay away to meet the expense of a car."

"Oh. Paul. that sounds like this socialism stuff."

"Nonsense. i t 's common sense. Take

Keep your mind on the cause and the effect will take care of itself.

Through a

Woman's Eyes

By JEAN NEWTON

Do We Know It?

I KNOW a young couple, married five years, who on the first of each month extend mutual congratulations on being Non not hing really the matter, only I wonder if the boss is right about it."

"Well, I haven't said much about it around home, dear, arear."

Oh, you darling, you."

"A car? That might mean was absent, thought-ful, you will that I will never be more than a salary man. At least I'm not bound to this particular salary nor this particular increases my self-respect, or that gives me and my wife pleasure, perhaps I may become more valuable to the boss and consequently to myself. That might mean

But Paul's mouth drooped even more quently to myself. That might mean But Paul's mouth drooped even more extension of my personal value just as extension of my personal value just as the boss often borrows money for the extension of his business or to swing paused for breath.

just "Not having trouble!" And in this not care to do that without consulting negative appreciation we have the key to a mine of happiness—wasted. For "I suppose that's so."

promissory notes, and, quality to another the business of a business even if it is only the business of developing myself?" He laughed shortly. "By Jove, I don't know but what it pays to plunge withit is something else, too. And that is knowing that we have it.

"Why don't you say something, why is type tell me what to do?"

"But, Lucy, I den't know what to type the terms of the cause they appeal definitely to the senses, we can consciously enjoy: a plate of ice cream, for instance, or a beautiful picture.

"I suppose that's so."

"And the boss said today that no salaried man have out a thought of consequences. There's anything. He said a salaried man have out at thought of consequences. There's anything. He said a salaried man have out at thought of consequences. There's anything. He said a salaried man have out at thought of consequences. There's anything. He said a salaried man have out at thought of consequences. There's anything. He said a salaried man have out at thought of consequences. There's anything. He said a salaried man have out at thought of consequences. There's anything. He said a salaried man have out at thought of consequences. There's anything. He said a salaried man have out at thought of consequences. There's anything. He said a salaried man have out at thought of consequences. There's anything. He said a salaried man have out at thought of consequences. There's anything. He said a salaried man have out at thought of consequences. There's anything. He said a salaried man have out at thought of consequences. There's anything. He said a salaried man have out at thought of consequences. There's anything. He said a salaried man have out at thought of consequences. There's anything. He said a salaried man have out at thought of consequences. There's anything. He said a salaried man have out at thought of consequences. There's anything. He said a salaried man have out at thought of consequences. There's anything. He said a salaried man have out at thought of consequences.

"I suppose that's so."

selves ill over the notes every month.'

carry on the business. But the point is have that car before the spring was boots, always trying for the other fel-low's viewpoint. Adopt the viewpoint you want him to take and concentrate your mind on it. Imagine yourself in his position and taking the action you want him to take. Talk along these want him to take. Talk along these lines and you'll find he will follow

Tomorrow-Selling the Uneven Walker

Designers Favor Fuchsia

Read \ our Character

By Digby Phillips

Imitative Gestures

Among the most valuable of character indications to the salesman are the gestures of his prospects. They often give him the clue to character which he has failed to get by casual observation of more or less contradictory in dications of head shapes, coloring and the like. Several gesture indications in have been explained in previous articles.

But have you ever run across the bod have you ever run across the same fuchsia which most of us rejected

By Digby Phillips

Puchsia promises to go through the second summer with less danger than that a mean every much and I am sure they will give consent to either or them to easier they know I came they will give consent to either or them them.

Their parents like me very much and I am sure they will give consent to either partner, because they know I came they know I came they know I came they will give consent to either or them to either them.

Pichesia promises to go through the second summer with less danger than that a may sure they will give consent to either or them them.

Their parents like me very much and I am sure they will give consent to either them.

Their parents like me very much and I am sure they will give consent to either them.

Their parents like me very much and I am sure they will give consent to either them.

Their parents like me very much and I came to select as my life partner, because they know I came they will give consent to either them.

Their parents like me very much and I am sure they will give consent to either them.

Their parents like me very much and I am sure they will give consent to either them.

Their parents like me very much and I am sure they will give consent to either them.

The parents like me very much and I am sure they will give consent to either them.

The parents like me very much and I am sure

Some Varied Recipes for Custard Are Offered Today by Mrs. Wilson

It Is Possible to Get That Delicious Browned Top by Following Directions Carefully

By MRS. M. A. WILSON
Copyright, 1982, by Mrs. M. A. Wilson.
THE delicate quaking custard of our grandmothers' day is a dainty descrit that has a real food value and is oven until the custard is set. Then remove from the oven and dust the top of the custard lightly with powdered sugar and place in the broiler for a few seconds to brown lightly.

It is necessary to watch the custards carefully, for they will burn very quickly.

Heat hard with eggbeater for six minutes, then turn in the prepared pie plate and bake in slow oven until the custard is set. Brown in a flash heat.

To test the custard to know when it is baked carefully insert a silver knife, and if the custard does not cling to the I grandmothers' day is a dainty dessert that has a real food value and is easy to digest. If the custard is to be boiled it should be cooked in a double quickly.

Keep in mind that a flash heat boiler, and cooked for the entire length of time just below boiling point; this is very necessary. To bake custards suc-cessfully use a slow oven, and set the tard; if you do not have a broiler to brown the custard then make a salacustard in pan of water to help keep the temperature at the lowest possible degree that is sufficient to bake the water to prevent too rapid cooking. Now this temperature will not produce that nice brown top that the housewife is always anxious to secure, so for this place in double boiler, and add one and presson I will tell you just how the chef

Plain Boiled Custard

Rinse the top part of double boiler with cold water and then place in position over the lower compartment which contains plenty of water, else while the ustard is cooking the boiler will cook ry and burn.

Place in top part of double boiler

Two cups milk,

Four level tablespoons of cornstarch,

One-quarter teaspoon of salt.

Stir to dissolve and bring to boiling oint. Cook for five minutes. Now

The yolks of two eggs, and beat in hard
Five tablespoons of sugar,

One teaspoon of vanilla And when well blended beat in the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs, and cook slowly for three minutes; rinse custard cups with cold water and pour in the custard. Chill and serve with either whipped cream or plain vanills.

Quaking Custard Place in double boiler
One and one-half cups of milk,
Four tablespoons of sugar,
Four scell-beaten eggs,
One tablespoon of butter.

Whip constantly with a wire whip and cook until so thick that the mixture will coat a spoon, then flavor, rinse the custard cups with cold water and pour the custard in. Chill and serve.

Plain Baked Custard Place in mixing bowl Two cups of milk, One-quarter teaspoon of salt, Three tablespoons of sugar, Tieo eggs, Yolk of one ean

Whip with egg-beater for five min-utes to blend, then pour in well-but-tered custard cups; set the custard cups one inch wide around the edge to build

Please Tell Me What to Do

To "P. C. P." Better do as your parents advise.

To "Salome"

No. do not elope. It's better not narry against your parents' wishes.

Why don't you say something, why type don't you say something, why to know what an. And no all you says gets a raise or commissions or something, and the money comes just at you have not interest to goodness knows what an. And no all you says gets a raise or commissions or something, and the money comes just at you have not interest to someth hour to meet his obligations."

But I don't know what and. And no all ways gets a raise or commissions or something, and the money comes just at you have not interest to something, and the money comes just at you. There are some things which, be'I suppose he's right.'' murmured you something, and the money comes just at you. There are some things which, be'I suppose he's right.'' murmured you something, and the money comes just at you. There are some things which, be'I suppose he's right.'' murmured you something, and the money comes just at you. There are some things which, be'But I don't know whether he is or not.'' rasped Paul, suddenly alert, pugnot.'' ras of others. Imitative instincts, you know, influence thoughts as well as actions.

Take the thought leadership at once with a person of this type. He is the kind of person who mentally is always putting himself in the other fellow's boots, always trying for the other fellow's viewpoint. Adopt the viewpoint

Does It Lack Respect?

Dear Cynthia—Please answer one or two questions for me. Does the follow-ing letter treat the recipient of it with respect? If it does not (and it so ap-pears to me), will you explain why? What does the exclamation point at the end mean?

end mean?

My dear Mr.

Your letter reached me several days ago and was, indeed, very much of a surprise to me. I do appreciate your very kind invitation, but I feel that a day, such as you suggest, would be accepting entirely too much from you. I am sorry to disappoint you, but I could not under any circumstances think of going. Will you not forget all about it, please:

Sunday afternoon, Cordially. READER

The letter does not lack respect at ii. Since Cynthia does not know what, he writer is refusing, she cannot it is in answer to an invitation to If it is in answer to an invitation to spend a day somewhere as the writer's guest, it seems a thoroughly proper answer. Girls should not go away on trips to Atlantic City or New York for a day. Especially should they not allow such a trip to be paid for by a man. The exclamation point is used, I should say, to impress that fact that she does not want the invitation, whatever it say, to impress that fact that she does not want the invitation, whatever it was, repeated again.

Which Shall He Choose?

Dear Cynthia—I am a student, twenty-five. Have been going with a girl two years my junior for two years. She is considered not wonderfully good looking, but passable, and not finished high school yet. She can cook, sew, act hostess, knows shopping, is domestic, frugal and has every quality of a good housewife.

wife.

But she has a sister of sweet nineteen, awfully cute, pretty dark eyes.

divine height and full of "pep."

Because of my constant calling and long acquaintance I have found from different reliable sources that both of them are crazy about me, and I love them both, though I have never talked such serious matters as marriage with

mander out of a clean shovel or heavy griddle cake turner, heating the shove The correct baking temperature for baking custards is 225 degrees Fahren-heit with the custard set in a pan of custard.

necessary to brown the top quickly so that this heat will not affect the cusuntil the water is absorbed and the rice tender; now turn in buttered baking dish and add the prepared custard; bake slowly until the custard is firm, brown the top as for the baked custards.

The standard formula for preparing the custards for the above puddings is as follows: Place in mixing bowl

Two cups of milk, Three eggs, Five tablespoons of sugar, One-quarter teaspoon of vanilla, One-quarter teaspoon of nutmeg. Beat well with the eggbeater before pouring over the mixture in the cups or beking dish.

Apple Custard

Apple Custard

Place in double boiler
One and one-quarter cups of milk,
Two level tablespoons of cornstarch,
Six tablespoons of sugar.
Stir to dissolve and bring to boil.
Cook for five minutes. Let cool. Now

Two well-beaten eggs. One tablespoon of melted butter, One teaspoon of vanilla.

One-quarter teaspoon of nutmeg. Beat well to mix. Now line a deep pie plate with plain pastry, cover the bottom of the pastry when nicely fitted to the pie plate with either well-drained canned fruit or cooked dried fruit, or other fresh fruits in season, then pour over the custard and bake in slow oven until the custard is set. To prevent the lower crust from being soggy rub well with melted butter just before putting in the fruit. Salad oil or other good shortening may be used in place of the butter if desired.

Custard Pie

The Woman's Exchange

To the Editor of Woman's Page: To the Editor of Woman's Page:

Dear Madam—Having never used a cream on my face and wishing to do so now. I am uncertain as to whether or not it is harmful to the skin. Fortunately, I am not troubled with black-heads or pimples, but my skin is at times sallow and becomes very rough and chapped after bathing. I will not buy a cream until I receive your answer, as I have perfect confidence in your spiendid advice. Kindly tell me the best thing to do to improve my skin. What is the best kind of cream to use, if any?

Keeping Skin Smooth

did advice. Kindly tell me the total to do to improve my skin. What is the best kind of cream to use, if any?

D. E. T. Before applying powder it would be wise to use a vanishing cream as this will keep your skin smooth. They will recommend a good one to you at any drug store.

She Fears a Double Chin

but they both knew that they would it always helps a man in making friends. Most girls like to dance.

To the Editor of Woman's Page:

Dear Madam—Kindiy tell me through your column how I can get rid of a double chin. I am fifteen years of age, and as yet have not got double chin. I am fifteen years of age, and as yet have not got double chin, but the fiesh under my chin is getting teen go to clubs and dances? What time should a girl of sixteen do? What time should as girl of sixteen do? What time should as girl of sixteen do? What time should she be home? Where am I to go and when?

A BROKEN-HEARTED GIRL.

If I were

If I were you I shouldn't worry about getting a double chin, at least until there are more symptoms of its development. There are exercises you can take which pull on the muscles of the throat and work the doubleness away, but there is plenty of time to take those later on. At your age, it is much better to worry about keeping your general health good, and let such things as double chins take care of themselves. As you lengthen out and grow taller, it will disappear.

No the vaseline will not hurt your eyes at all, if you are careful in applying it.

To the Editor of Woman's Page: Dear Madam—On giving a miscella-neous shower to a coming June bride what is a good wording for the invitations?
This being a surprise affair, what is a good way to fix the presents while bride-to-be is absent?

EVERYDAY READER. Word your invitations this way: Seand-So requests the pleasure of Miss Alice Brown's company at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Anne Smith on Saturday afternoon, April 29 R. S. V. P. Put this in the lower left-hand corner.

Do things a little differently and save the shower presents until the refresh-ments are served. Then the bride-to-be will see in the middle of the dining room table a doll dressed as a bride, with a long maline veil, which swirts all around the tissue-paper-wrapped presents, so the tissue-paper-wrapped presents that they peep out from beneath it. the gifts are generally given before this time, they will be a complete surprise to she discarded it. No doubt Rand had known all along, and if that were true, of course, Carl knew all about Rand and Carlotta. The thought was humiliating. It made Judy clench her breaks, and a hot flush of shame crept into her cheeks.

Tomorrow—The Terrible Truth

Women in Church

A recent Sunday service in a leading Afterward, the parameter of the chief of the wided grant attendance of the weeking service in the course of the weeking service in the course of the weeking service in a leading and the course of the weeking service in the course of the weeking service in the course of the weeking service in the course of the service with the cour

One-quarter teaspoon of nutmeg.

and if the custard does not cling to the knife it is baked. Care must be taken when making this test not to injure the

Two eggs. One teaspoon of vanilla, lower crust in pies.

One-half cup of supar,
One and one-half cups of milk,
Two level tablespoons of cornstarch.
Stir to dissolve and bring to boil.
Cook for five minutes. Now let cool,

Platters Vegetable Dishes Comports Bread Trays

Trivets Gravy Boats and other articles

Sheffield

Wright Tyndale & van Rode 1212 Chestnut Street

QUALITY FURS

Platinum $50 Squirrel $9.50 Mink Scarfs ... $14.50 Fox Scarf Scarfs ... $8 00 Stone Marten $27.50 Baum Marten $40.00 One-Skin Scarf .. $40.00

BORYNACK, KOTZKY & CO.

1318 CHESTNUT—2D FLOOR—REPAIRING REMODELING Clanley KORRY-KROWEG

MARY JANES IN PATENT COLT For the Kiddies' Easter Sunday

ACCORDING TO SIZE Ask your neighbors whose children have worn Korry.

Krome shoes.

"Nowadays"

It is "SALADA" for breakfast, for dinner, for supper and five o'clock Tea the Continent wide

Delicious in Flavor, Rich in Ingredients, Creamy in Substance, Nutritious MAKE IT A PART OF YOUR REGULAR MEALS

Sold by all dealers at 12c, 30c, 50c and 95c

THE HEART OF YOUR COFFEE QUESTION

100 Per-Cent

to a perfect salad"