be young of old.

But De Mar had comething more. He had the will to win and believed the sy to win was by strict training. Many who are compelled to write themselves there could and would have succeeded had they but concentrated on the set in hand. De Mar's triumph is an object lesson not only to athletes, but men in every walk of title.

You cannot get anywhere unless you try.

HARRY WEBER IS MANAGER

The Media A. A., of West Philadelphia, will open the baseball season on their new grounds, at Pifty-ninth and Oxford streets, on Tuesday, May. 2, with one of the classiest combinations of players that has ever represented the club.

Harry Weber, who has managed the team for four years, is back on the job, and George Leeb will assist. He has arranged games with the leading teams in the Philadelphia Baseball Association, of which Media is a member.

The groundkeeper has been getting the field in shape for a month, and the carpenters have about completed their work on the stand, which will accommodate 4000 fans.

Lee Sharkey Strengthens 1921 Dr. Orton Predicts Carnival Will Be Like Olympics in a Few Years

CATCH MAY TAKE THREE DAYS

Dr. George W. Orton, director of th University of Pennsylvania relays for the last two decades and a participant a few years every country in Europe which boasts of athletic teams will compete in annual relay carnival here.
"It is my belief with the rapid growth of the relay carnival that every year within a few years will be virtually ap Olympic meet," mid Orton this morning. That seems a little farfetched, but the average track follower would be surprised to know that the carnival held here yearly is almost as much talked about abroad as the Olym-

"When the financial end of the governments on the other side rights itself it would not be at all surprising to me to find them all sending relay teams or individual entries here. We have had the English twice, the French once and would have had the Italians this year had it not been for the lack of centralised athletics in that country.

"The English and French are certain to come here again. Matter of fact I expect the Oxford-Cambridge athletes next year. The French are rapidly developing athletes capable of meeting the best in the United States and next year they, too, may come. An international one, two or four mile relay race in the future is a strong possibility. The colleges in this country could name two or three of the best teams to meet the invaders.

"Canada, which will be represented this year by the Hamilton Institute team, will have relay teams in a few years ready to meet the best college teams in this country. South America, because of the large number of American college men there on business, is getting the athletic bug in its bonnet and should within a few years be able to send strong teams here.

"Yes, it sure looks to me as though we are going to have a regular international event yearly for the relays, with a wealth of individual entries."

May Be Three-Day Affair

At a meeting of the umpires last night it was also decided to wear arm bands with the insignia of the Philadelphia Baseball Association, and the arbitrators ratified the action of their committee, consisting of Eddie Gottlieb, of the Sphas; J. J. Corrigan, official representative of the umps, and Phil Lewis, the neutral member, regarding salary and other details.

It was agreed that two umpires of the same classification will divide money equally, while a team composed of a Class A man and a Class B man would divide 60 and 40 per cent, respectively, the same rating applying to other grades of umpires when unequally paired.

Thousands of the carnival from a two to a three day affair.

"This year we have been forced to move the starting time on Friday and Saturday a half hour forward in order darkness falls over Franklin Field.

"With the new stadium, which will be capable of holding close to 55,000 past because of lack of seats have been unable to witness the races."

Thousands of tickets for the two days already have been ordered by graduates and students of the University. The public sale of the precious pasteboards will start Monday of next week.
