

Three Big Local Teams Open Season Tomorrow

D-A BALL PARK IS NEARLY COMPLETED

West Philadelphia Fans Await Opening of New Field at 48th and Walnut

PENN TO PLAY THERE

FOR more than a month half a hundred workmen have been busy on the Donovan-Armstrong ball park, at Forty-eighth and Walnut streets. The entire playing field has been resurfaced with the finest top soil. Grass seed was sown several weeks ago and the field already is taking on an appearance that rivals any ball park in the country.

The field with its green fence in the background, unmarred by any gaudy colors; the big white, gold-topped flag-pole with the American flag above and the Donovan-Armstrong flag below; red and white, underneath, make a picture that is a credit to the club and one that the people of West Philadelphia will be sure to appreciate and patronize accordingly.

The playing field itself was laid out by experts in landscape gardening and experienced in handling big league ball parks. The infield is almost perfect, being a "turtle-back" diamond, having been modeled after the Chicago National League diamond. The left-field fence is 300 feet long, the right-field fence is 200 feet long, the foul line from the home plate to the right field at the Philadelphia ball park.

Comfort for Fan

The grandstands, however, from the spectator's standpoint, are the real feature of the Donovan-Armstrong park. J. A. McFadden, business manager, said: "If there is one thing we are going to give our fans, it is comfort. We have secured seating capacity for 3500 from the University of Pennsylvania. The stands and benches, taken over from the University for the Donovan-Armstrong Field, are the choice seats from the University grounds.

"No so-called bleacher seats will be used. All seats are built in the form of benches, with backs and foot boards and with plenty of room for the comfort of the spectators. Our president, H. M. Donovan, insisted that when we were building the park the comfort of the spectators should be our first consideration.

The University of Pennsylvania will use the Donovan-Armstrong park for all of its important games, beginning with the Penn-Lafayette contests on May 10.

Three Entrances

The park has three entrances—one from Walnut street above Forty-eighth, one from Locust street above Forty-ninth and an automobile entrance at the corner of Forty-eighth and Locust streets. This is an innovation, at least so far as Philadelphia is concerned. It is the only park with three entrances inside the grounds for automobiles, where spectators can sit in their cars and watch the games.

On paper, the Donovan-Armstrong team appears to be one of those that will be in the running for the championship of Philadelphia. Four big league players are on the team—Mogge McCormick, of the New York Yankees; Mike Loan, formerly of the Phillies and later with the Pacific Coast League; Lefty Gullman, of the Athletics and last year with the Hamilton team in the Michigan-Ontario League; and Sam McConnell, who held down second base with the Athletics for a season.

Others on the team who will probably hold down permanent places are Hockenbury, Robinson, Bergrman, Henry, Fossatt, Thiel, Meyers, Young and Rudolph. A number of the above players have been with minor league teams. In addition to the players named, Manager McCormick has quite a few others who are being tried out.

Donovan-Armstrong will open Saturday, April 21, with the Glen-side team, for the last two years champions of the Suburban League.

LOCAL BALL TEAMS TO LIFT LID TOMORROW

Dobson, Nativity and South Phillies Start 1922 Campaign

Three of the city's big local teams will officially lift the lid on the 1922 baseball season tomorrow. They are Dobson, Nativity and the South Phillies.

Flag raisings, street parade and special celebrations will feature the programs. At Dobson Field, Thirty-fifth street and Queen lane, Dobson tackles Chapple Johnson's Royal Stars, and Mike Besse Dobson will raise the flag; and her father, Mr. James Dobson, will toss out the first ball.

At Nativity ball park, Belgrade and Chestnut streets, the upstarts will meet Eddie Williams' Ritron club, and he has a host of minor league stars in his line-up.

The South Phils meet Fleisher, and the contest will be preceded by a street parade and Judge Patterson will toss out the first ball.

Other games are booked in various sections. Bridgeway will play a practice match with Merrill at Richmond and Orthodox streets, and at Fourth and Winghooking streets the North Phils oppose Deley, of Darby.

STILL ONE VACANCY

Manufacturers' Baseball League Organizes With Seven Teams

The Philadelphia Manufacturers' Baseball League organized for the season last night with seven clubs. It was decided to enlarge the schedule by playing two games a week, one of which would be a twilight contest.

The teams admitted were: Keystone Telephone, Edward B. Stern & Co., Rosatto-Harry Company, Jewish Schulte-Koewring Company, Franklin Sugar and John T. Lewis. Most of these teams have been identified with industrial baseball for years.

The following officers were elected for the season: President, Albert Kramer, Keystone Telephone Company; vice president, Joseph Harry, Rosatto-Harry Company; secretary, John J. Donay, and treasurer, James Hunter.

There is still room for one team, and applicants are requested to get in touch with James Hunter at Hoopers & Townsend Company, Phone Poplar 2208.

Reach A. A. Organizes

The Reach A. A. has organized for the season and has signed some well-known players with minor-league experience. They expect to make some of the best home teams seen to win. Reach is a member of the Philadelphia Baseball Association and games can be booked through Art Wagner, 1124 Chestnut street, or J. H. Danner, 710 Belgrade street, Kensington 1201 W.

PENN-MAR-DEL TO START TOMORROW

Will Open 1922 Baseball Season With East Philly Professionals

PLAYS TWILIGHT CONTESTS

Penn-Mar-Del Club will open its fourth season on the diamond tomorrow at its new field Fifteenth and Spruce streets, with the East Philly Professionals.

The home club will have even a stronger team than last year when thirty-six out of fifty-one games played were won, including victories over Carroll Brown's Ventnor City Collegians and the strong Chester Springs Club.

The club has secured the services of J. A. Cairns, a former first-baseman of Strawbridge & Clothier team, as manager. Manager Cairns has signed the following players: Catchers, Rodgers, of Standard Steel, and Pusey; pitchers, Deakener, of Bethany; Davis, of Wenhaw Military Academy; Warren and Barrett, of Yeadon; first base, Miller, of Wildwood, N. J.; and Wallen; second base, Cromie, from Erasmus High School; shortstop, Brown; third base, Mercer, coach of Pont High School, and Boyd, of Atlantic Reining Company.

The outfield will be practically the same as the one of last year, which went through the season with eight errors for the fifty-one games, and will consist of Cairns, Ferguson, Levy and Leonard.

Games will be played Tuesday and Thursday evenings and Saturday afternoons.

NEVILLE TO LEAD CLIFTON HEIGHTS

Independent Club Will Fill Place Left Vacant by Delaware County League

TO OPEN WITH SHANAHAN

Jimmy Neville has stepped into the independent baseball lime-glare once more. The former youthful manager of Donovan-Armstrong is being signed to manage Clifton Heights.

Clifton Heights was a member of the Delaware County League last season, but the circuit disbanded. So the suburban town was left without a team. However, Neville has stepped in, announced that he will have a speedy team, intends to play the best in this vicinity and expects to join the Philadelphia Baseball Association.

Clifton Heights, with Neville at the helm, is sure to have a crack next year. He will have almost the same players that worked for him last season.

The infield will be composed of Ellis Schneffer, second; Jack Ryan, short; Bucky Henratty, former M. E. Smith player, third, and Neville himself on first. All of these boys can field and are heavy hitters.

Gen Reeves will cover left field. He is the only player in the garden that worked under Neville last season. The other two fielders, Fritz Inces, center, and Eddie Verrel, right, played with Rockdale last season.

Johnny Fahey, ex-Shanahan star, will do the catching. Fahey ranks high in independent ranks, and has a wonderful throwing arm. His hitting and receiving, too, is clever. Clifford, Villanova's catcher, will be carried as a utility man.

So far Neville has signed four twirlers. Johnny Dougherty, of Georgetown, and Sid Sweeney, of Villanova, will be his best bats in the box. Eddie Bartlett, Upper Darby High star, also is on the roster, and will take a regular turn in the box. Bob Carney, well-known left-hander, probably will be signed, along with a couple of other prospects Neville has in view.

The opening home game will be played at Clifton Heights April 30. Shanahan Catholic Club will be the opponent.

At Summer is doing the booking for Neville, and is lining up the best home and traveling teams in Philadelphia and vicinity. He can be reached at 1524 Chestnut street.
