Harlequin styles are worn in shoes. We have slippers in two shades of gray, oxfords in tan and brown. pumps of black kid and gray, or white canvas trimmed with red.

and-and everything like that.

stand." he said uneasily.

"Lucky?"

His puzzled expression heightened.

"Oh, it's that Priscilla Rasp again.

"I really like to have her come.

them-make me realize how lucky

"Oh, you dear old goose, you! You

"Some little surprise party."
"Why, darlin', after Priscilla's been here to call, I can't think of enough things to do to show you how happy I am." She shuddered. "To think what

Can You Tell?

By R. J. and A. W. BODMER

What Asbestos Is

Asbestos is one of nature's most marvelous products. It is a nugget of rock.

as heavy and dense as marble, yet composed of silky fibers which can be carded, spun and woven as easily as wool, flax or silk. Each fiber of this mineral rock is as light and feathery as thistle or eiderdown, yet it is so strong that for the millions of years it has existed in the earth, the forces of time have neither broken its slender thread nor marred its silken sheen while the hardest kind of rock in which it was em-know I'm awfully lucky because I have the best husband in the whole world.

Goodness, but she certainly does live up to all the comic ideas of an old maid, dearest."

"Here again today, f'll wager." Virginia nodded.

Paul. Her acid remarks about mar-riage and men-the 'brutes' she always

Photos by Central News

SARAH D. LOWRIE'S SATURDAY EVENING TALK

Forgiveness Comes Only From a Thorough Understand-

irreparable wrong to—a partially hted wrong.

This is what had happened:
A prisoner was tried before a certain adde and pleaded "not guilty." but testimony was such, or his lawyer's

"Judge, it has been heavy on my call that I cursed you. You gave me beery in that judgment that you first pronounced, and my return for that makey was a curse. I came to myself later and I saw what you saw in the coldence. Everything pointed to my gullt, to you as well as to the jury, and you couldn't do anything else in common justice. I couldn't see that at the time! I thought you all didn't want to give me a show to prove that "Judge, it has been heavy on my could that I cursed you. You gave me should that I cursed you. You gave me should not wait to confess his worse than a blunder in using his power when he was anarry and in using it to confess his worse than a blunder in using his power when he was anarry and in using it to confess his worse than blunder in using his power when he was anarry and in using it to injure a help-less man. So they had a very heart-to-heart talk, and as a result the Judge became offered at the trial the man that he had sentenced was actually innocent and should not be in prison.

In fact, just what that prisoner felt about the Judge—when he came to himpach that prisoner felt about that prisoner felt about that prisoner felt about that prisoner felt about that I pudge—when he came to himpach that judge—when I can hon-estly forgive and actually forget.

And so when I saw for the first time that our Lord's point of view was done in a wint that our Lord's point of view was done there would only think. Evidently mother would have bright that our Lord's point of view was done in a wint that forgiveness based on an understanding of the offender's plight—when they do!"—I had a great light of the wint to give me a show to prove that they do!"—I had a great light of the wint to give me a show to prove that they do!"—I had a great light of the offender's plight—wint they do!"—I had a great light of the wint they do!"—I had a great light of the offender's plight—wint they do!"—I had a great light of the wint they do!"—I had a great light of the offender's plight—wint that they do with a first time would inly think. Evidently mother two will done not need to do evil in order to understand evil. but evil doer before you can forgive him and they do!"—I had a great light of the would allow him one.

If MAKES forgiveness based on an understand evil. but evil the first time would inly the kind why she smokes when the f

WE ALL know how difficult it is to reverse the wheels of justice by the law courts, so in this case, after a very thorough re-examination of all the circumstances, the case was put before the Governor and his pardon for a deed that had never been committed got the man eat of prison. The Judge saw to it that so far as was possible his reparation of his own reversed judgment and a new start in life were publicly given the former prisoner. For himself the fact that he had in an hour of anger the comprehend that what they do with a full intent to injure or defeat, and with a conscious sense of triumphant power, they none the less do ignorantly, not knowing the mestless what they do.

When Heine, sneering a little, gibed at God with the remark that it was "His necessity—som metier—to forgive," he might in honesty—for Heine was a great poet as well as a satirist—have added that, being all wise, He would of necessity be all merciful.

SARAH D. LOWRIE. WE ALL know how difficult it is to "Father, forgive them! For they whis forgiveness and then take steps to undo what he had done, if possible.

BOTH the Judges went down to the prison together and the one who and convicted the man went alone to his cell. When he came out he was rabby very much moved, but he said mething until he and his friend were cutside the jail limits, and then as he remained his composure he told what had happened.

He said that the prisoner had sorons.

toward to meet him and before he louid see that what had happened to meet him and before he louid see that what had happened to meet him had see that what had happened to meet him had see that what had happened to meet he louid see that what had happened to meet he louid see that what had happened to meet he way on my louid that I cursed you. You gave me seem natural to understand.

In fact, just what that prisoner felt with P. S. D., I agree that she's the solut the Judge—when he came to himself—is the way I feel when I can how the loan how the themselves in order to comprehend that mering burner for three hours, then let

Stewed Chicken With Dumplings

chicken and let the chicken cool in the Onc-half cup of finely chopped

Simmer slowly until the chicken is

To prepare the dumplings place in Three-quarters teaspoon of white opper.

One-half cup of finely chopped

Two tablespoons of finely mincel

Two tablespoons of finely minced

Fire thin allees of bacon, minced and beat to smooth drop batter. Now place two quarts of water in large flat

One traspoon of salt to the scater, When boiling drop in the dumplings by the spoonful and cover closely and cook for twelve minutes. Then lift carefully with a skimmer to the prepared tough fowl tender and palatable is long.

slow cooking, and to have this done well it is best to cook the chicken the

Adventures With a Purse

T AM and always have been greatly impressed with the importance of dress accessories. I have always claimed, and you will agree with me.

I know, that the daintiest frock in before you need it and you then

The real secret of having the old

Two and one-half cups of flour.

One-half teaspoon of pepper.

Mix by stirring and then add

Three-quarters cup of water saucepan and add

will be sure it is tender chicken.

The chicken and the dumplings.

done, then serve.

Tico teaspoons of sait.

One teaspoon of salt.

mixing bowl

paraley.

Prepare the chicken as for fried

the former prisoner. For himself the seet that he had in an hour of anger SARAH D. LOWRIE. Some Tasty Ways of Preparing Chicken Are Given by Mrs. Wilson This Is the Season in Which These Dishes Are Best and Most The set that he had in an hour of anger SARAH D. LOWRIE. SARAH D. LOWRIE. Third. Just because you go out with one of these chewer fellows you think they are all alike. Fourth. You think you are the Queen of Sheba and Rodolph should go crazy over you. Fifth. If he goes out with you and you act like a lady he treats you like one: but if she gave him the advantage he would be a fool to put it aside. Sixth. You remind me of some girl I know. She can't dance and when some one that can dance trick on you you are trying to make such a statement. Third. Just because you go out with one of these chewer fellows you think they are all alike. Fourth. You think you are the Queen of Sheba and Rodolph should go crazy over you. Fifth. If he goes out with you and you are trying to make such a statement. Fourth. You think you are the Queen of Sheba and Rodolph should go crazy over you. Fifth. If he goes out with you and you are the Queen of Sheba and Rodolph should go crazy over you. Sixth. You remind me of some girl I know. She can't dance and when some one that can dance trick on you go out with one of these chewer fellows you think they are all alike. Fourth. You think you are trying to make such a statement. Third. Just because you go out with one of these chewer fellows you think they are all alike. Fourth. You think you are trying to make such a statement. Third. Just because you go out with one of these chewer fellows you think they are all alike. Fourth. You think you are the Queen of Sheba and Rodolph should go crazy over you. Fifth. If he goes out with you are the Queen of Sheba and Rodolph should go or any over you.

Helpful as a Variation to the Menu

By MRS. M. A. WILSON ight, 1932, by Mrs. M. A. Wilson. All cool in the stock.

When ready to be young cockerels and dresses them for with amount in smoking-hot fat. Serve the markets; the housewife will find hase fowls moderately priced.

The older fowls are usually tough mless cooked properly and often taboo stock; then lift chicken and thicken the the housewife's budget for this rea- stock for gravy, adding was. Yet careful cooking makes these these delicious, and today I am giving some methods used by the practical sewife for cooking the tough fowl.

Barbecue of Fowl

Belect stewing chicken, singe and braw, then wash well. Place in deep theepan with close-fitting cover and

One jagget of soup herbs. One small carrot, cut in bits.

Two onions, Three cups of boiling water.

Cover closely and steam slowly until tender; this usually requires about two parsley.

and a half hours, using the simmering Two burner. Do not attempt to hurry the onion.

cooking of this fowl, for if you do it Fire thin silces of will become tough, and no amount of fine and nicely bronched. ender, let cool in the saucepan, then take from pan and rub well with shortlavor. Then place in hot over to brown ickly, basting with following mix-

One-half cup of vinegar. One oup of boiling water. One-half cup of chili sauce. One-half cup of grated union. Bring to boil and use to baste the

Chicken Pot Pie With Puffy Crust Binge and draw fowl and steam until Place the cut chicken in deep will

Two small patatoes that have been soled and parboiled for each person.
Two small onions for each person. paring the onions same as potatoes. One-half cup of finely chopped pars-

Thicken and season gravy well and the world can be ruined by the wrong the chicken in the baking dish. collar and cdfs. And by the same Now place in small saucepan. Three-quarters cup of water.

in the water and bring to a boil. When belling add Three-quarters cup of sifted flour.

is to form a ball on the spoon. cooking. Cook for three minthen turn in mixing bowl and beat cold; then add three eggs, adding org at a time and beating in each well; drop by the small spoonful the top of the prepared chicken in the top of the

ing of the Offender and His Offense

EARD something about forgivethe other night at a dinner that a revelation to me about the meanthe sect. A Judge told it as a sociates on the bench; in fact, thank had happened to one of his asseciates on the bench; in fact, the sect of his days on the bench. The hearing of them has made me "go wonderingly" ever since. It just happened that everywhere I turned the week after I heard this the facts that Holy Week and Good Friday commemorate joined them selves on to the facts of this story, until on Good Friday the first sentence that they was received in the rest of his days on the bench. So much for the facts! The hearing of them has made me "go wonderingly" ever since. It just happened that everywhere I turned the week after I heard this the facts that Holy Week and Good Friday commemorate joined themselves on to the facts of this story, until on Good Friday the first sentence that the weather and howl as though I was hearing it for the first turned the irreparable wrong to—a partially steed wrong.

This is what had happened:

A prisoner was tried before a certain as though I was hearing it for the first turned the weather and howl about their girls being too expensive.

Here's hoping, Grummy, that your views will widen. Drink some of that homogeneous and please BUMIO. "Bumio' Enjoyed 'Grumio's' Remarks testimony was such, or his lawyer's time.

"Father, forgive them! For they have was such, that the jury brought in the verdict of guilty. The Judge, case that made a light rather than the bear of the prisoner than the verdict of guilty. The Judge, case that made a light rather than the bar of the work of the prisoner on him and cursed him. Upon which breach of order the Judge changed the sentence to the maximum penalty of the law, eight years.

About a year later this Judge sought to have done that he was most unhappy over that he had done from sheer anger, for, however out of order the prisoner's reception of his leniency had been, his respection of his leniency had been both cruel and ethically unjust. He had it had been both cruel and ethically unjust. He had it has been done the last without sympathy for the doer of the wrong. When I have done that kind of lofty "I-forgive-you" business, "but I never want to see your face again!" I've had a hateful time, and never nectually digested the forgiveness.

Well, there you are! It has not been been only the had it has been done that his forgiveness and then take steps the undo what he had done, if possible.

In make disappear temporarily up my sleeve or under the table, while I loftily you can do with the undesirable mother is sleeve or under the table, while I loftily you can be the nather of the work as a mother who has a very irritable temper. When she girl for more than two years. She has a mother who has a very irritable temper. When she girl for more than two years. She has a mother who has a very irritable temper. When she girl for a well-will she had to some the dead of the warm as a part of the simply without stopping for air.

One day we went together to the park for a walk. As we just got there she kicked a stone or s

"EVERYBODY."

Sends Ten Answers

Dear Cynthia—After reading your column on April 15 kindly allow me a little space for a few lines to Disgusted With Men.

With Men.
So the more you go out with men the more you hate them. Well, it's my turn to tell a joke.
First. You paint and powder and make the men think what you ain't.
Second. Just because some one played a mean trick on you you are trying to make such a statement.

one that can dance tries to with her she treads all over his feet. Then she says,

"Oh, he can't dance."
Seventh. I hope you didn't go out with a gentleman from the slums.
Eighth, Read number seven twice for this answer. Ninth, Not so bad, but I don't see

When ready to fry, lift from stock SUALLY about this season the and roll lightly in flour. Dip in egg flappers driving around in a slow truck.

Tarmer gathers the older fowl and roll in fine bread crumbs. Fry a any men in this city for you.

> Popular Note of Red Sounded on This Twill

If all the control of the prepared chicken in aking dish and place in hot oven the prints of the prepared chicken in the prints of the pri

Paul and Virginia By HELENA HOYT GRANT merry mood as he kissed her.
"We do netually do Paul tweaked her

"We do actually do it, and we've been married almost a whole year," she cried triumphantly.

Paul regarded her in astonishment.

Paul tweaked her pretty chin and kissed the glowing spot.

"And, Paul, she tried to chide me today and almost said I was fibbing when I in astonishment.
"Actually do told her that we love was fibbing when I hat?" do told her that we love each other even more now than we did the good-by in the morning, and 'hello' when you get home, and you call me pet names of everything like that."

Indeed everything like that."

The wood and the day we became engaged."

"She didn't dispute you, really, did she?"

Paul demanded a little

Paul demanded a little warmly.

"My dear, she virtually called me a liar. Believe that or not. But she real-ly did." Virginia laughed. "Oh. but what of it? I told her you always kissed me several times a day, and the must have come as a shock to her that poor girl blushed; and I told her, too, he loved some one else, and still she that you call me honey 'most all the time when you don't call me darlin', and she had the nerve to say that was merely affectation and that you probably never thought of me a bit all day

"Silly woman. She should-"
"But, oh, Paul, think of her life? 'Fierce." he agreed.

"Paul, are men like that, too?"

"I mean the single fellows you know —do they think you're in a terrible fix—because you're married?"
"Sure—but that's all a monumental, traditional bluff. That's the way with the lone-hand players after they're thirty or so." He twinkled at her and shook a play ful warning finger.
"Now! What is it she's after, and-" "Darlin', I don't want a thing but to have my old man sit right down to a good dinner, because I've made quick biscuit and I sent for some sweet but-ter and everything you like."

"Sour grapes, isn't it, dearest?"
"Surest thing in the world," Paul greed as he hugged her to him comfortably.

Monday-Another Incident

WHAT'S WHAT

By Helen Decie

bedded was slowly worn away.

One of the most valuable properties know, that the daintiest frock in the world can be ruined by the wrong collar and cuffs. And by the same token no matter how pretty and smarty your Peter Pan sweater is, if your collar and cuffs are not right, your sweater will be spoiled. That is why if want to tell you about the collar and cuffs set have found. To my way of thinking, they are just right. They are of a good heavy linen, which means that they will launder well and lay nice and flat. Around the eiges are embroidered dots in bine or red—you may take your choice. The price of these ests is $1.

Have you seen the Chinese good luck rings indeed they are very nice looking. They resemble slightly signed they are some Chinese emblems signifying good luck and health. These rings for the result in a not beige background for small French does do head and look and health. These rings good luck and health. These rings for the result in a not beige background for small French does do head and look are the chainteen from the restrict of the enables it to resist decay and destruction in under almost every condition of heat and moistare. It forms the basis to resist decay and destruction under almost every condition of heat and moistare. It forms the basis to resist decay and destruction under almost every condition of our dreprocoing methods of today.

For centuries asbestos was but a curiosity. The ancients, 'living in what our curiosity. The ancients, 'living in what a curiosity. The ancients, 'living in what a curiosity. The ancients, 'living in what is the 'Dark Ages.' held it in a we. It is related that the great Emperory of the ancients, 'living in what a curiosity. T of asbestos is its indestructibility, which enables it to resist decay and destruc-Where little strawberry

By HAZEL DEYO BATCHELOR Judith Carlyle and Lucy Ran-dolph were deluded wives because they both believed that in marriage

Deluded Wives

they both believed that in marriage a woman doesn't have to exert herself to hold her husband. When they discovered that both their husbands were interested in other women, Judy awoke to the fact that she loved Rand too much to give him up. Yet, when he told her the truth, she was too proud to let him know how she felt. As for Lucy, she was determined to hold Carl, whether he loved her or not, and her attitude drove him practically into the arms of the other woman. Rand succeeded in preventing Carl from doing anything precipitate, and because of his interest in his friend, saw his own affair in a new light.

What Rand Found

should not. He knew that for Lucy's own good it would be unwise for Carl to find her here when he returned, and finally by showing her sympathy and making her understand that he at least 1 them.

Dear Madam—I am a young girl, and in some of my spare time I paint postal cards just for the pleasure of it. I have quite a few birthday cards and would like to know how and where I could sell them.

Carl, to remonstrate with him. Rand wondered that a woman could have so little pride, and at that moment he remembered the way Judy had played the game. No matter how she had felt she had not whined and pleaded. Even if she did not care for him, it had held her head high.

For some unknown reason he turned his steps back to the apartment. He abead and make it. did not analyze his thoughts. Perhaps it was only curlosity that drew him, but at that moment the turbulent emotion that he felt for Carlotta was stilled. He knew that it would be only a question of time before it broke out again, but even if it had been possible he would not have gone to her now. The beauty of his passion had been dulled by the sordid happenings of the evening, and he wanted only to rest.

Almost noiselessly he let himself in with his key, and stepping inside closed the door softly behind him.

There he stopped in amazement.

Judy was lying face downward on the couch where he had slept last night. She had wrapped herself in a heavy piece of crimson silk shot with gold, one of the pieces of drapery that he used for his models, and her beautiful reddish gold hair was loose around

He stood still in the shadows by the door for a long time and then satisfied that she had fallen asleep he went forward on tiptoe, until he stood by the side of the couch looking down at her.

It was a long time since he had seen her with her hair loose around her. Always she had worn it tightly braided at night, a style even uglier than the close knot she wore in the daytime, but now it rippled around her in beautiful disarray.

Rand as always was stirred by its dipped into the little sugar dish before ry, had an asbestos tablecloth, with the little sugar dish before hich he used to astonish his guests by rowing it into the fire and taking it again as good as new.

About the year 1250 A. D. Marco do, the famous explorer, was making scoveries in many new lands of the sate of using it for many purposes.

While many theories have been admeed to account for its formation, the lost generally accepted is that its deposits took ape during the prehistoric cooling of the earth's surface, and that either after or steam is responsible for the saking apart of the original rock former.

Many theories have been admeed to account for its deposits took ape during the prehistoric cooling of the earth's surface, and that either saking apart of the original rock former.

Many theories have been admeed to account for its formation, the lost generally accepted is that its deposits took appendix of the control of the

The Lunch Room Was Very Crowded. But There Were Two Who Didn't Know It

For Them the Place Was Empty and Silent, for They Had Just Found Each Other and Could See No One Elec

FIRE lunchroom was crowded with had never been taught appreciation There was an unbroken hum of voices which seemed to rise up and hang overhead like a very curtain of sound.

What little pauses there might have been now and then were effectually filled in with the rattle of fork against plate, spoon against cup, lid against dish. anything, anyhow. In fact, they looked as if they had very few advantages of a financial na But they had something that mean nothing to the other boy and girl bet everything to them—they had each Occasionally an orchestra would make Evidently they had only recently di the confusion more rhythmic by pound-ing out a peppy selection of dance covered the fact, for they had that just-rescued-after-going-down-for-the-third time expression, so common to newly-confessed lovers. THEY were refreshing, there in the midst of that mixed and jumbled ing out a peppy selection of dance music.

Not a table was unoccupied. Saturday, at noon, with all the shoppers and business people released from their labors and hastening to relieve that gnawing feeling amid more luxurious surroundings than usual.

Yes, shopping is a labor on Saturday morning when everybody else in the world seems to have had your own elever idea that "Oh, Saturday's a half holiday, people will all be out, not in the shops!" crowd.

Near them was a dull-looking family, attacking its food silently but firmly, conversation being for the present laid aside.

At the next table sat a mother and daughter, mother insisting upon crope de chine, while daughter held out for any acceptance.

BUT there was one table in almost the center of that huge, noisy room, at which there were only two persons.

And to them that whole room was empty except for "him" and "her."

No noise could possibly have drowned out the words which came from across the table.

Rather, across the corner of the table, for they did not allow even the width of a table to come between them.

No orchestra was ever so musical as a table to come between them.

No orchestra was ever so musical as that voice which spoke the words.

What the clattering dishes held made little difference, and if the waitress had been slower even than her busy day made her, it would have had no effect upon their thorough enjoyment of life upon their thorough enjoyment of life in general and each other in particular, in general and each other in particular.

Saturday at noon is a glorious the

THEY were not like the jaded boy and when you're young and in love, and that they couldn't appreciate them and ing multitudes.

The Woman's Exchange

Things You'll Love to Make

A Plano To the Editor of Woman's Page:

Dear Madam—Do you know of any one who would like to have a square plano? It is in good condition and the only cost would be for the hauling. It would be fine for a child to practice on. MRS R. S. M.

I am sure that some one will want to take advantage of this extremely generous offer, so I am keeping your name and address on file and will forward any letters that may come for you. Thank you so much for allowing my readers the benefit of it. Some one is going to be mighty grateful.

Read Your Character By Digby Phillips

Selling the Variable Slant

Suppose you're one of those tailors who do considerable business with men who live out of town. You have machine, wiping off all the lint and their measurements, and every once in dust, and then oiling it. Run it for a the control of the control their measurements, and every once in dust, and then oiling it. Run it for a a while they write you for samples, few seconds to make the oil circulate pick out a suit and tell you to go and in the morning before using exam-abead and make it.

Suppose you have just received a letter from one of your customers, and you note that his writing has that helter-skelter appearance, due to the fact that the strokes slant sometimes one way and somtimes another. The writing in some places looks as though it might be classed as vertical, in others decidedly Spencerian.

Would this tell you anything about what you ought to do in submitting samples to him? It ought to. It ought to tell you something very important. In a previous article you have probably noticed that this variable slant type of writing indicates a variable mind. It indicates the man who is prone to make up his mind and then change it afterward. You don't want to send him too many samples. The more you send him the more he will hesitate in coming to a choice and the less likely he will be to write you afterward to tell you about it. Study your past business with him and narrow the samples down to just as few as you can send Monday-Selling the Cold Handshake.

A Striking Sash

Some of the new sashes are made of taffeta ribbon in a plain dark color, with a decoration at each end embroid-ered in bright-colored and metallic in beautiful disarray.

Rand as always was stirred by its beauty, but even as he looked down at it he remembered with bitterness in his heart, that day when he had come upon Judy with her hair loose around her and she had shrunk from the passion of admiration in his voice as he had lifted a strand of hair to his lips. How little she had ever understood him. Her chaste purity had erected a barrier between them, for he had felt in her always passiveness no glad response to his love for her. Even now if by chance she should awake, she would shrink from him angrily because he had surprised her with her hair loose, and her slim body outlined in the rich material. Judy was afraid of love, while Carlotta—at the thought of her all the old passion came surging over him, he wanted her?

Wants to Go on v....

To the Editor of Woman's Page:

Dear Madam—I have been reading the continued story, "The Master of Man," and unfortunately have missed Saturday's installment. As it is impossible to buy a copy of the Evening Pusticulation would be able to inform me as to how I could get it.

L. F. F.

You can get back copies of the Eventhal Company of the Circulation of the Monday of th have to cut them here or there in order to interlace them. Glue them to your bag. By using different colored letters you can get some won-lerful effects in a MONOGRAM PURSE. FLORA.

The Sewing Machine

There are many of us, no doubt, who realize that it is easier to take the right making her understand that he at least was her friend, he persuaded her to let him take her home.

He left her at the door of her apartment, a lonely little woman. At the last she had begged him to speak to last she some of the sort of care of things we use constantly, and many probably who think it is to careful and dainty you ought to have no trouble in disposing of them in this worth while. Take one's sewing manually the last she had begged him to speak to last she had begged him to speak to last she she had begged him to speak to last she had begged him to speak to last she had begged him to speak to some of the sort of care of things we use constantly, and many probably who think it is to the sort of care of things we use constantly, and many probably who think it is to the sort of care of things we use constantly. right needle, using attachments according to directions, it will last almost indefinitely and never give any trouble.

Two much oil is not good; on the other hand, nothing wears machinery out faster than lack of proper lubrica-ine well, and wipe away any surplus of

POMPEIAN OLIVE OIL Sold Everywhere

Boudoir Lamps

Mahogany, Pottery, Polychrome, Metal $4 to $15

Wright Tyndale & van Roden 1212 Chestnut Street

Remember The Name

ITS STRENGTH, PURITY AND FRAGRANCE ARE UNEQUALED

The Seeled Packet is your safeguard