...in the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, which were addressed by Mr. Pinchot.

The Pinchot meetings began with a conference of the executive committee of the Pinchot City Committee. This will be followed by a conference of the Publicity Committee. After that there will be a luncheon attended by more than 100 members of the Pinchot City Committee, which will be addressed by the candidate. The Pinchot will conclude the activities of the day with an address at a mass-meeting at 4 o'clock in the Logan Theatre, Broad street north of London, and with another address at a dinner in Masonic Hall, Germantown, under the auspices of the Independent Republican League of Germantown.

Organization of the independent forces in this city will be materially helped up by the various ward organizations which have been perfected by the supporters of John S. Fisher, former State Banking Commissioner, who withdrew as a candidate for Governor, so that opposition to Alter could be concentrated.

Councilman W. W. Roper, field marshal of the Pinchot forces in Philadelphia, outlined the direct-action program when he described today the situation in the Twentieth Ward.

"We will force the same kind of a fight against the city organization and Alter in every ward in the city," he said. "That ward is the special bailiwick of David H. Lane, who symbolizes organization against the city and the independents will be led by Charles DeLany. Mr. DeLany is a banker who won political experience when he was a candidate for Congress in the Third Congressional District in 1916. He is a practical assistance of workers who in former years have made it possible for Lane to carry the Twentieth Ward."

While the Vares forces in this city are shivering under the impending drive of the Pinchot leaders, the leaders in the new McClure-Sprout combination in Delaware County have not yet recovered from the staggering blow dealt by Mrs. J. Claud Bedford, president of the Republican Women's Club of Delaware County, who has been elected to the position of leader, that she desert Pinchot in exchange for a deal on legislative candidates.

Mrs. Bedford's refusal to come to the aid of the Sprout organization in Delaware County threw a chill into the harmony gathering in the Arcadia Cafe last night when the McClure-Sprout forces were the principal speakers on behalf of Attorney General A. T. Riker.

Friday night Mr. Pinchot will start his final swing through the city prior to the primary election May 16.

The candidate's itinerary was announced today by A. Nevin Detrich, one of his campaign managers. It shows he will carry out his campaign in the "enemy" territory.

Saturday Mr. Pinchot will speak in Indiana County, the home county of John J. Fisher, the candidate who withdrew as anti-machine forces could concentrate on Pinchot.

Tour of Western Pennsylvania

Monday and Tuesday the Forester will speak in Western Pennsylvania. His tour will be guided by his committee in Erie, Pa., and will include a whirlwind tour in Fayette County Tuesday, the home of United States Senator Crow, and Tuesday night will address a mass-meeting in Pittsburgh, where Attorney General Alter has his private office.

Wednesday Mr. Pinchot will pound away at the contractor combine, speaking in Dauphin County, where he will address Governor Beidleman and W. Harry Baker are chief satellites of the machine.

Mr. Pinchot will speak in Luzerne County Thursday of next week, and in Berks County Friday. He will address a mass-meeting in Reading on Friday night.

The war against the combine will be carried Saturday into Schuylkill County, home of State Treasurer Snyder, of "I am boss" fame. During the day Mr. Pinchot will speak in Mahanoy City and various towns, and on Sunday will campaign at a mass-meeting in Pottsville.

Sunday the candidate will return to Philadelphia, and Monday and Tuesday will start his Western Pennsylvania campaign. May 10 he will speak in Scranton.

May 11, 12 and 13, virtually on the eve of the primary election, Mr. Pinchot will continue his Western Pennsylvania tour against the Vares organization here. The Philadelphia Pinchot Committee has arranged for the meetings.

May 15, the day before the primary, the candidate will go to his home in Milford, Pike County, there to attend a rally of his townsmen.

The Alter Campaign committee made a belated bow yesterday. The flaming sentiment for Mr. Pinchot has alarmed the bosses and they are now trying to start a backfire.

But even with this the machine leaders showed the truth of Mr. Pinchot's denunciations against the "politics-for-profit" group. All the officials of the Alter committee hold public office.

Colonel Fred Taylor Pusey is chairman of the Alter committee. He is a Deputy Attorney General, and, of course, is a State Senator.

Frank W. Short is secretary of the Alter committee and has charge of the local headquarters on the second floor of the Bellevue-Stratford. Short is active in the city and is generally regarded as secretary to Richard Wedkin, president of Council.

The treasurer of the Alter committee is Thomas S. Boyle, president of the American Bank and Trust Company and a member of the Board of Education.

Last year Phillip C. Eisele, an employee of Senator Vares, was the subject of a Senate investigation. The State Highway Department, seeking facts about his financial standing, wrote to Mr. Boyle at Eisele's suggestion, and the Board of Education member gave the Vares employe a financial O. K.

P. R. R. GIVES 1 P. C. DIVIDEND

Quarterly Payment to Be Given Stockholders May 31

The Pennsylvania Railroad announced a 1 per cent dividend today. It was authorized at the Board of Directors meeting, and the regular quarterly dividend.

It will be paid to stockholders of record May 31, and will be payable on May 31. The dividend is paying 4 per cent a year for some time.

Moving-Picture of Woman on Windy, Rainy Day

By J. P. McEvoy

SCENE: Starts down street bravely. Holds umbrella in front of her and charges against wind.

Runs umbrella into innocent man, knocking off his hat.

Man apologizes. Woman turns and gives man angry glare.

Pursues her destructive voyage. Sudden gust blows skirt above knees. Lets umbrella with one hand to pull down skirt.

Umbrella swerves, knocking off two hats.

Two men apologize. Gives both of them angry glare alike. Skirt turns around and walks backward.

Woman turns around and walks backward.

Wind tugs at umbrella. Skirt back to normal.

Woman tugs at umbrella.

Wind wins.

Umbrella inside out.

SUB-TITLE: (Not passed by the board of censors.)

Woman tries to turn umbrella inside out.

unconventional in my conduct of the case, and I believe this can be substantiated by the two nurses who attended Mrs. McClure. I have done nothing that I am ashamed of."

Prosecutor Wolverson stated that Mrs. McClure had complained to him, and that he was investigating.

"It is my opinion," said Mr. Wolverson, "that Mr. McClure is in a hospital in Philadelphia or some other city, and I do not know. But I am going to find out."

Brother Went With Him

"March 18 he went away and I presume he did go to Atlantic City. He took David along, and I believe that David resolved he had a chance to get away with me."

"I received no message from my husband March 16 or 17, and on the 17th, the day for my weekly allowance, I got no message to call on Mr. McClure's office and talk with Miss Mary McCarter, who for seventeen years has been in her McClure's employ and inquirer of her if she had seen anything of her husband."

"She replied that she had and would send my allowance by mail. I received a check for $12. My husband had been allowing me $60 a week to run the house."

"March 18 I sprained my ankle, and was unable to get about. March 20, not having heard from Mr. McClure, I had my neighbor call up Miss McCarter for his address. I needed funds."

"Miss McCarter refused to give the address. I even had a police sergeant call up, and he was refused information."

"March 23 I had a lawyer stop at Mr. McClure's office, and there he found my husband, his brother and the stenographer. I was unable to go to him because of my injured ankle, and when I sent word requesting that he be sent to his home I was informed that a Philadelphia physician had ordered him away again."

"The next day after that word was unknown to all but one person, the stenographer, who knew everything, while the wife was living on a $12 a week allowance and knew nothing."

Took Husband Home

"March 24 I received a telephone call from the Hampton Hotel, telling me that David McClure had just taken my husband in there, looking very ill. I immediately called a taxicab and managed to get there, dressed him and brought him home. He was not in a condition to tell me anything about where he had been or whom he had been with."

"March 25 Dr. Moore came to the house and he told me that my husband had had a fall, mentally and physically. He inquired if Mr. McClure had a safe deposit box and I told him that I did not know. He said it would be well to get the box and if there was one to have it opened only in my presence."

"He advised getting a nurse for Mr. McClure, and I did so at once. "She became so derelict that I dismissed her. She refused to accept his dismissal and told me that she was working under different orders and went to Dr. Moore at his home."

"For my own protection I called in Mayor Kramer, of Woodlyn, to prevent the nurse creating any scene in the house. While the Mayor was there he called away by phone to Dr. Moore. Upon his return he said to me: 'Folks, there is going to be trouble. Dr. Moore has called the prosecutor's office and is detouring my coming to take Mr. McClure to the hospital.'"

"I was surprised, because Dr. Moore had been there in the morning and made no mention of a hospital or of my husband's condition being alarming. While the Mayor was talking to me at the door, the brother slipped around at the side of the house and my husband was going to be taken to a hospital. My husband said, 'I can't understand it. Dr. Moore must have seen an awful change in me this morning.'"

Art Week Program Today Also Includes Lectures

Andrew Wright Crawford will speak at a public meeting at 8:30 o'clock tonight in the Academy of the Fine Arts on the "Art Opportunities of the Sesqui-Centennial." Mr. Crawford is chairman and secretary of the Philadelphia Art Jury and secretary of the City Park Association.

This is one of two lectures today in connection with Art Week at the Academy of the Fine Arts, at Broad and Pine streets. Dr. Samuel Woodhouse will lecture at 4:15 o'clock on "Sheffield Place," at the Graphic Sketch Club, 710 Cathedral street, 8 o'clock tonight, there will be an exhibition of rhythmic dancing by girl students.

Throughout the week until Saturday the School of Design of Industrial Art, and of the Department of Industrial Art, have opened their classes to the public at certain hours.

The Associated Artists of Philadelphia are advertising an exhibition of advertising art at 1630 Sansom street to continue throughout the week. The Photographic Society of Philadelphia, which is the oldest organization of the kind in America, is holding for 8 o'clock tonight, there will be an exhibition of rhythmic dancing by girl students.

CREDIT MEN PLAN DRIVE

National Body to Observe April 27 as Membership Day

Members of the National Association of Credit Men, organized twenty-five years ago, for bettering business conditions are asked to observe April 27 as national membership day, and devote themselves to the work of explaining the association to other credit men and enlisting their support in the movement for better credit conditions and the spread of economic ideas.

D. R. Carson, of the Central National Bank, who is chairman of the local membership committee, will have charge of the work here. The officers of the local association are: A. T. Rickards, president, and David A. Langacre, secretary.

SKETCH BABY ELAND

Born at Zoo, Painted Six Times Before Eyes Are Opened

A baby eland that was born at the Zoo this morning had a distinction accorded to few animals or otherworldly. Before his eyes are fully opened he had his portrait painted a half dozen times.

By arrangement with C. Emerson Brown, superintendent of the Zoological Garden, a life class from the Pennsylvania School of Industrial Art painted the newcomer under the direction of a teacher.

An eland is exactly an antelope and not exactly a gazelle, but not alien to either. When they grow up they have long horns curling gracefully in front of them. There are but a few of these animals in captivity.
