

JUROR MAY WALT KNOX TRIAL

Walt Knox trial will have to repeat sensational testimony if illness is serious

DARES SHADY PARTS OF LIFE

Special Dispatch to Evening Public Ledger. Knoxville, Va., May 2.—On the recovery from an illness he felt victim to yesterday, W. H. English, a member of the jury trying Miss Sarah E. Knox for the murder of Mrs. Margaret L. Eastlake, a former Philadelphian, the continuation of the sensational trial depends.

Should his illness render necessary English's segregation during the introduction of a part of the evidence, the trial will be illegal, and all of the evidence thus far introduced will have to be repeated before a new jury.

For six hours yesterday Roger Eastlake, the navy petty officer, who was exonerated from complicity in the murder of his wife, occupying a witness stand, Eastlake will resume his testimony today.

Eastlake maintained his composure the entire day. Without hesitation he testified in a confident and forthright manner to him and his own mendacious traits.

Witnesses of the whole northern neck of Virginia swarmed into Knoxville during the day as the news that Eastlake was on the stand spread.

People jammed into every corner of the room and then refused to leave, pressing to miss lunch rather than a part of the testimony. One woman fainted when a bench collapsed.

A note showing that Miss Knox loomed Eastlake's trial was introduced. The witness admitted he had never recalled it. Eastlake said also that the prisoner had loaned money to his wife.

Eastlake admitted he was indicted for procuring, when several discrepancies in his letters were brought out. In answer to questions, Eastlake declared he met his new bride in January, becoming engaged in February and married her the 4th of March.

Eastlake admitted he joined the church and became a teacher in the Sunday school the year following the beginning of his relations with the prisoner.

Asked what the "S" used by him in the salutations of several letters he wrote Miss Knox most represented, the witness professed ignorance, claiming he wrote the letter "S" without thinking about what he was doing.

The defense introduced the will of Miss Knox, which had been deposited in a trust company in Philadelphia. The will bequeathed a large part of the prisoner's property to Mr. and Mrs. Eastlake.

DRIVE FOR PEKIN CONTINUED BY WU

General in Each Army Stain. President's Warning Disregarded

LOSS OF LIFE IS HEAVY

By the Associated Press. Pekin, May 2.—Wu Pei-fu's drive for Pekin was vigorously resumed in the vicinity of Changning, twelve miles south of the capital, yesterday afternoon as the Chinese, gallantly and striving to turn both of the enemy's flanks.

The Fengtieners, under Chang Tso-Lin, at first were handicapped by a shortage of ammunition, but staving off the attacks until supplies were brought up from Fengtai.

The casualties of the Fengtieners were severe, and the Changning station is filled with wounded. No details have been received regarding the losses of the Chinese.

There has been brisk fighting on the Hun River at Kuan, forty miles south of the capital, the Chinese driving General Chang Tso-Lin's forces from the town.

It is reported that General Tung Chang-Kun, of the Chihli forces, and General Lian Chou-Tung, of the Fengtieners, were killed.

A dispatch to the Chinese Legation at Washington yesterday announced that an agreement had been reached between Generals Wu Pei-fu and Chang Tso-Lin, to exclude Pekin and Tientsin from the field of military operations.

Tientsin, China, May 2.—The commanders of the Northern and Central armies continue to bring their operations, ignoring President Hsu Shih Chang's proclamation demanding that they cease fighting and withdraw their troops.

General Chang Tso-Lin is in complete control of the Pekin-Mukden railway zone.

Washington, May 2.—Civil warfare in the heart of China may imperil some of the major results of the Washington Conference. Already the Chinese Government has requested the Powers to postpone the inquiry looking to abolition of extra-territoriality.

The Powers are hardly likely to look with favor upon an early withdrawal of their troops from China, which is a scheme for reforms of the Chinese tariff system and postal service also must inevitably be delayed pending resumption of normal conditions around the central seat of government.

Negotiations were quietly being some weeks ago by young Dr. Wu, son of Wu Ting-fang, formerly Chinese Minister to the United States, and Foreign Minister of the South China Government at Canton, Dr. Wu, who declined to be a Chinese delegate to the Washington Conference, visited General Chang at Mukden.

General Wu Pei-fu, scintillating between Canton and Chang, decided to march upon Pekin and establish his power there before the project to abolish of northern and southern military and political forces could be effected.

There is no reason for showing clemency in this case merely because the defendants are women, said Magistrate Coward.

Mrs. Day Attacks Alter Candidacy

This, to me, is the only and the greatest drawback. "Any man, no matter what his past record, personal or in office, who would allow himself to be put up as a candidate in the way Mr. Alter was, through the contractor forces of the State, is not a man who can be trusted."

Mr. Pinchet, Unfettered. "As for Mr. Alter's opposition to suffrage, that is a past question except for the fact that the opponents of woman suffrage are practically the same. I insist that at the present time the question is not solely that of fitness, but of the voters of the State who are back of the candidate, and surely the Republican leaders are not so stupid as to back a man who is not the organization that we should follow."
