Increases the action of the intestines

Hundreds of men and women have already found freedom from laxatives by eating Fleischmann's fresh yeast.

Doctors are now agreed that proper elimination of waste matter should be brought about by food. One doctor comes right out and states plainly that the indiscriminate use of cathartics is one of the causes of constipation.

Physicians all over the country are recommending Fleischmann's fresh yeast because it is a fresh yeast, rich in those elements which keep the intestines healthy. In one case of tested cases, normal functions were restored in from 3 days to 3 weeks.

Try it out for yourself. Begin by adding 2 or 3 cakes of Fleischmann's yeast to your everyday bread. It is so easy and so effective. You will find it a most interesting and profitable experiment.

CHELSEA TO HAVE DOUBLE-DECK PIER

New Project Included in Development of Former Penrose Property by Syndicate

CLUBWOMEN IN CONVENTION

Atlantic City, May 3.—A $5,000,000 development for the lower beach, taking in an entire block between Boston and Providence avenues, with a later construction of a mammoth pier, was announced yesterday by a new syndicate headed by Benjamin Fox, who has promoted several big projects about the resort in the last five years. The property taken over had been held in fee by Dr. Charles Penrose and included one of the few unrestricted sections along the beachfront where no park deeds have been signed giving the city rights for playground purposes.

The "sapper," "shifter" and other new wrinkles have been entirely overlooked in the program of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs scheduled to open here today in Haddon Hall to continue until Saturday. The clubwomen will confine their attention to "more serious problems."

Lillian Russell will be among the speakers. The opening address will come from Mrs. Nancy Schoonmaker on "The Old Trail and the New Road."

Motion pictures will come up for general discussion tomorrow afternoon when Dr. Henry M. Rose, of the Church of the Redeemer, Newark, will take the side of the public. Others will consider the viewpoint of the censor and producer.

Lady Astor is now trying to arrange her speaking schedule so that she may address the convention at one of its sessions.

"There ought to be a law preventing national bank directors from being connected with savings banks," James H. Manning, former Mayor of Albany and president of the National Savings Bank there, said at the opening sessions of the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks at the Ambassador here yesterday.

"Directors of national banks are not interested in the work of savings banks and thrift promotion," he said. "When these men, the servants of money-making institutions, are ousted as trustees in savings banks, such banks will get back to the purpose for which they were intended."

According to reports from a well-founded source, Halliday Jackson, supervising principal of the Ventnor public schools, has been invited to resign as a result of his recent criticism of the sum appropriated for school purposes.

Charged with being an accomplice in a $10,000 jewel robbery at a beachfront hotel, Margaret Steip, alias Peggy Leavoy, was held under $2000 bail yesterday. The girl, who is nineteen years old, is alleged to be implicated with Samuel Leavoy, who was recently brought back from New York and is now out under $10,000 bail. She was trailed to Chester, Pa., and was about to start for the South when arrested.

A splendid Stradivarius, 300 years old and valued at $2000, meant nothing to Gustavo Spelele, thirty-eight, even though he was a talented musician, when he was goaded to a point of frenzy by fellow members of an orchestra here yesterday.

He waited around until the other players had left the orchestra pit and then proceeded to smash every instrument in sight, using the "Strad" as the final weapon to complete the act. When arraigned before Magistrate Paxson last night Spelele, who is a Spaniard, replied: "Dey giva me what you call a d razz!"

He was held in $1000 bail on the charge of malicious mischief.

MAN WHO KILLED WIFE AND HIMSELF BELIEVED INSANE

Boston Manager for R. G. Dun & Co. Principal in Tragedy
Newton, Mass., May 3.—(By A. P.)—Explanation, other than insanity, of the tragedy in which William B. Powell, manager in the Boston district for R. G. Dun & Co., shot and killed his wife and himself last night, was still lacking today. A coroner of police was maintained about the Powell mansion through the night.

Mrs. Powell, before her second marriage several years ago, was the widow of R. H. White, founder of the department store business at Boston which bears his name. Her home originally was in Georgia, from which she came as Lena Hibbard a quarter century ago.

The Powells had been in their summer home only a day, having abandoned their winter apartment in Boston a few days after Mrs. Powell's return from a trip to the Bahamas for her health. Servants were said to have heard a slight quarrel yesterday, and in the early evening saw Powell chasing his wife around the house.

Shots were heard, the servants rushed to the library and found their mistress dying on the floor and her husband leaving the room. An automatic pistol found in the library proved to have jammed, and Powell apparently went to his own room upstairs to get another weapon. He killed himself with a revolver, found near his body.

The District Attorney announced that the medical examiner had indicated informally to him that Powell had gone insane.

VETERANS ASSAIL MAJOR

Call Officer's Conduct in War "Vicious and Brutal"
Boston, May 3.—(By A. P.)—Veterans of the Twenty-sixth Division, gathered here, adopted a resolution made public today protesting to Congress the promotion to colonel of Lieutenant Colonel Duncan K. Major, formerly the division's chief of staff.

The resolution protests: "Because of the vicious and brutal way in which he acted toward the junior officers and men of this division during the war, which indicates beyond all question his unfitness to be an officer of the United States Army and to be in command of men," and "because of his proven hostility to the citizen soldier, who under our form of government and our military policy now laid down must be the mainstay of our country in time of war."

THREAT TO SLAY BY LEAH MUMFORD

Girl Suicide Planned to Kill Delaware Student, Warnings Said

HIS FORMER SWEETHEART

Special Dispatch to Evening Public Ledger
Newark, Del., May 3.—What the relations were or had been between Harry S. Martin, former service man and at present a student in the Rehabilitation Division, University of Delaware, and Miss Leah Mumford, of Lebanon, Pa., that caused the latter to kill herself yesterday afternoon will be inquired into at the coroner's inquest to be held late this afternoon.

Miss Mumford shot herself in the right breast with a .32-caliber revolver on the porch of the Rehabilitation Division Building after she had tried in vain to find Martin. Martin had talked with Miss Mumford earlier in the day and promised to see her again. It was when she realized that her old sweetheart had left the building by the rear door to avoid her that Miss Mumford ended her life.

Miss Mumford alleged that Martin is the father of her nineteen-months-old child, now in Lebanon. To State Detective Moore, Martin refused to admit that he was the father of Miss Mumford's child, but admitted that he had paid her $150 more than a year ago when she had him arrested in Lebanon for the support of the child. He said she signed a paper releasing him from all responsibilities as to the child.

Miss Mumford left the child with a relative of Martin's in Lebanon when she came to Newark. This relative warned Martin by telegraph that Miss Mumford intended to kill him. Last night, some hours after the shooting, Martin received a special delivery letter from his mother in Lebanon warning him that Miss Mumford had bought a revolver and told friends that she intended to kill him.

Martin admitted that he and Miss Mumford were sweethearts several years ago in Lebanon. Martin has a wife and two children here, one child a baby two days old.

JERSEY PARDON COURT LENIENT TO 59 CONVICTS

Several Camden Men Among Those Granted Paroles
Special Dispatch to Evening Public Ledger
Trenton, May 3.—Paroles were granted to twenty-six convicts in this State, including several murderers, and thirty-three other convicts were ordered released at the expiration of their minimum sentences, now near at hand, it was announced today by the Court of Pardons.

James Haney, of Camden County, and William Archer, of Cape May County, both colored, each convicted of having killed his common-law wife, were paroled from prison. Haney had been sentenced to serve from fifteen to thirty years. He was received at the prison December 13, 1912. Archer began serving a sentence of from eight to thirty years October 4, 1916.

The Court of Pardons did not act on the application of Paul Wendell, a former Trenton lawyer and son of a clergyman, convicted of perjury in connection with a case in court and serving nine months in the Mercer County workhouse.

Convicts to be paroled at the expiration of their minimum sentences include the following: James A. Holly, of Camden County, sentenced to from five to thirty years for murder, to be paroled November 2 next; Francis Sher, of Camden County, sentenced to from one to three years for impersonating an officer, to be paroled May 20, and John Dorsey, of Mercer County, sentenced to from two to seven years for breaking and entering, to be paroled on September 12.

Among the South Jersey convicts immediately paroled were the following: Joshua Brown, Camden County, breaking and entering and larceny; Henry Elliott, Cumberland County, breaking and entering; Albert Leeman, Cumberland County, breaking and entering; Samuel Perrine, Cumberland County, breaking and entering; Robert Neal, Gloucester County, atrocious assault and battery; Saelo Pondke, Mercer County, statutory offense; John Letting, Monmouth County, atrocious assault and battery.

These convicts will be paroled on the dates designated: Edward Fitzmaurice, Atlantic County, statutory offense, April 28; Edward A. Buzzard, Burlington County, breaking and entering and larceny, August 16; Allen, Camden County, attempted robbery; William M. Hall, forger, June 10; Ralph Parsons, Camden County, grand larceny; Howard Case, May 22; Charles A. Warner, Ocean County, carrying concealed weapons, December 18.

Joseph James Patterson, of Salem County, convicted of the illegal sale of liquor and sentenced January 2, 1921, to from two to seven years in State Prison, will be paroled at the expiration of his minimum term on September 9.

CHESTER FOLK SWINDLED: WARRANT OUT FOR MAYO

Said to Have Got $19,000 There in Fake Promotion Scheme
Nearly three-score residents of Chester say they were swindled by Hoy A. Mayo, New York, who was arrested at Stamford, Conn. Efforts are being made to bring him to Chester tomorrow for a hearing.

Mayo, who has gained considerable notoriety on account of his business and marital difficulties, was a resourceful promoter, according to Dr. Gustave Villig, 607 West Third street, Chester.

"He sold stock in a so-called ink manufacturing company," said Dr. Villig, "but all he had was photographs of the plant. He was well dressed and easy-going and could make any one believe black is white."

"He sold stock to a large number of poor persons here, including named veterans of the World War."

The warrant for Mayo's arrest was sworn out by Harry Derbe, a ship-builder.

Mayo, it is said, obtained upward of $19,000 by fraudulent methods. He was indicted in Delaware County last August.

FIRE SWEEPS MARIENVILLE

$100,000 Blaze Destroys Twelve Buildings in Pennsylvania Town
Kane, Pa., May 3.—(By A. P.)—Twelve buildings housing families, factories, a newspaper office and other business concerns were destroyed by fire at Marienville early today. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

John V. Ventur, chief of the Kane Fire Department, and four other men were injured when their automobile overturned near Froot while they were en route to Marienville.

First reports were to the effect that the fire was caused by sparks from a forest fire, but investigation showed that it started in one of the buildings. The forest fire was still burning today in the hills six miles from Marienville.

JAILED FOR THEATRE FIRE

Manager of New Haven House Found Guilty of Manslaughter
New Haven, Conn., May 3.—(By A.

P.—Lawrence W. Carroll, who was manager of the Riata Theatre when it was burned on Sunday night, November 27, 1921, with the loss of ten lives, was found guilty of manslaughter today. He was fined $1000 and given one year in jail, with execution of the sentence suspended pending an appeal to the Supreme Court of Errors.

BURLINGTON COUNCIL PLANS PROBE OF MAYOR AND COPS
Investigation Resolution Passed at Stormy Session
Burlington, N. J., May 3.—Passage last night in a stormy session of Common Council of a resolution to "investigate the methods of the Police Department and Mayor Mooney" was the latest move in the political battle that has been waging since Mayor Thomas S. Mooney took office in January and promised the city to divorce the police from politics.

Excitement in the council chamber, jammed to the doors with citizens, reached a climax when Mayor Mooney, who was present, asked the privilege of the floor and defended the police, but declared their efficiency was being constantly impaired by the efforts of certain Councilmen to use the department for their own political purposes.

The Johnson-Brois embroglio grew out of a clash over the use of the five-pointed star on the coat of arms of the city. A public hearing will be held on the Brois charges next Tuesday evening.
