WALSKA MAY WED HAROLD M'CORMICK

Diva to Get $300,000 and Paris Mansion in Divorce Settlement

ALSO KEEPS COSTLY GIFTS

New York, May 3.—By September 15 next, the second anniversary of her ill-starred marital venture with Alexander Smith Cochran, Mme. Ganna Walska Cochran, daughter of a humble Polish-Russian family, may become the wife of Harold F. McCormick, mistress of the Harvester trust millions and stepmother of three of John D. Rockefeller's grandsons.

Coincidental with the discovery by a reporter of the approximate terms of settlement in the Walska-Cochran matrimonial imbroglio, it became known that the recently divorced president of the International Harvester Company and the tall, blond, sinuous Walska expect to be married this summer or fall.

The terms of this settlement leave Cochran, possessor of a fortune estimated as high as $700,000, practically unscathed financially. The terms, as unofficially outlined, follow: First, Cochran will settle upon his wife a sum of not more than $300,000.

Second, Cochran will withdraw a divorce complaint signed by him last March and agrees to contest a suit to be brought by Walska in the French courts on technical grounds. This suit may be instituted late in May.

Third, Walska retains title in two homes, one in New York, a legacy from her second husband, Dr. Joseph Krauskel; the other, the former home of James Gordon Bennett, in Paris, which she now occupies.

Fourth, Walska will retain possession also of the valuable jewelry, furniture, automobiles, etc., lavished upon her by Cochran both before and after their marriage.

Mr. McCormick expects to sail for Europe by June at the latest. His marriage to Mme. Walska is expected to follow as soon as the French courts grant a divorce to Cochran.

Mr. McCormick beamed happiness yesterday when seen at the Hotel Plaza. He refused to discuss plans for his forthcoming marriage to Mme. Walska, saying merely:

"I have no concern with the troubles of Mr. and Mrs. Cochran. As to my future plans, I can, of course, say nothing."

DAMAGE TO PENNA. FRUIT LESS THAN WAS FEARED

Chester County Peaches Almost Untouched by Frost

Harrisburg, May 3.—(By A. P.)—Damage to the fruit crop of Pennsylvania by recent frosts is reported by the Bureau of Plant Industry of the State Department of Agriculture to be less than feared, a survey having been undertaken under direction of Prof. W. A. McWhorter. The report says:

"The killing of blossom buds has been far less widespread and complete than first reports indicated, though many orchards suffered severely, even to the extent of total loss of crop. Such damage has been local in most cases. The damage has been entirely 'spotty' and the advantage of slopes or elevation as a protection from frost was clearly indicated. Over the entire area south of the mountain the low-lying level or pocketed orchards have been hardest hit."

"Adams County escaped remarkably well. Chester County—E. F. Poire, of West Grove, has found but small indications of injuries to peaches in that district."

"Columbia County—Damage in this county has been slight. Cumberland and Dauphin Counties—Considerable bud killing on cherries, peaches and apples in the low-lying sections."

$800 VANITY CASE VANISHES

Mrs. Edith Kelly Gould Reports Loss to Police

New York, May 3.—Mrs. Edith Kelly Gould, divorced by Frank Gould in the French courts, who now lives in New York, reported to the police last night the loss of a solid gold vanity case, richly studded with diamonds, valued at $800.

She said she had gone from the hotel to a fur house and back to the hotel in a taxi before she discovered that the case was missing.

The vanity case is of elaborate design, she told Detective John Garrity, and on one side is worked in diamonds the name "Edith" which she said was one of her nicknames.

Mrs. Gould was accompanied by a man whose name she did not reveal, but who later was with her at the police station, when she made her trip to the fur store.

Mrs. Gould could give the police little information concerning the taxicab. Detective Garrity thought it unlikely that the police could find it.

COMBAT EPIDEMIC OF FOREST FIRES

Villagers in Two States Toil All Night—Hazleton Cemetery Menaced

GAME FLEE TO FARMYARDS

Special Dispatch to Evening Public Ledger

Lancaster, Pa., May 3.—Four hundred residents of Brownstown, New Holland and other villages at the edge of the Welsh Mountains turned out all night to fight forest fires raging in the hills over timber land in a belt ten miles in circumference. Farm buildings on fifteen farms were threatened.

During the night the flames broke through to Cedar Lane, threatening a small settlement there. Fire companies from New Holland and Blue Ball answered an alarm at 10 o'clock. More than 200 acres, a portion of its valuable young timber, has been burned over. The fire started early yesterday after smoldering since Sunday, and is thought by farmers to be of incendiary origin.

Cape May, N. J., May 3.—Forest fire broke out in the cedars along the Delaware Bay shore yesterday afternoon and for a time threatened the villages. Men fought the flames for hours until late into the night before the fire was under control.

Forest fires have been raging for two days near Bellefonte, twenty-six miles north of this city. The fire has burned over many acres of woodland, doing thousands of dollars of damage. Villagers for miles around, assisted by railroad trackmen, have fought the flames. Train crews arriving here this morning over the West Jersey and Seashore Railroad say the fire seemed to be under control.

Rabbits and other woodland game driven out of the woods by the flames have sought refuge in the villages, some of their feeding with the chickens in the yards.

Hazleton, Pa., May 3.—(By A. P.)—A brush fire broke out yesterday within the boundaries of this city, sweeping eastward before a high wind toward the Ashmore engine terminal of the Lehigh Valley Railroad. Fire wardens and Boy Scouts combined their forces and prevented the blaze from getting beyond control and drove it away from the Hebrew Cemetery.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., May 3.—(By A. P.)—Fire at the United States artillery reservation at Tobyhanna became so threatening yesterday that a call was made upon the 10th Field Artillery of this city and vicinity to turn out to fight the spread of the flames.

Altoona, Pa., May 3.—(By A. P.)—Fire which started on the north side of Upper Loop Mountain near Hollidaysburg yesterday, is taxing the strength of seven crews of forest fire-fighters.

HAILS AMERICAN DAMSELS

"Smart in Mind as in Dress," Miss Royden of Britain, Says

New York, May 3.—American girls received a message of cheer when the Aquitania sailed yesterday, with Miss A. Maude Royden, Britain's first woman minister. "You flappers, look at them," she exclaimed, pointing to a deckful of specimens.

"These girls dress smartly, but their secret is that they are as smart in mind as they are in dress. They have brains. I have watched them since I have been in your country, with awe. If American girls will only take up religion as seriously as they have dress and business, religion will have the greatest revival of its history."

FOOD PRICES IN RUSSIA

Ten-Dollar Packages From U. S. Sell for 40,000 Rubles

Moscow, May 3.—Ten-dollar food packages sent to Russia by individuals in America are being sold by the recipients for from 40,000 to 50,000 Soviet rubles each in some of the famine districts. This practice has been carried on for some time despite efforts to check it by the American Relief Administration.

The A. R. A. rules prohibit persons in America or elsewhere buying food packages for individuals in Russia who have funds of their own, but the various offices have no way of telling the circumstances of those to whom packages are addressed.

After-Dinner Tricks

No. 152—Vanishing Tumbler

A tumbler is covered with a piece of newspaper, which is pressed firmly around the glass so that the shape of the tumbler may plainly be seen. Suddenly the newspaper is crushed down flat on the table. The tumbler has disappeared!

In covering the tumbler with the newspaper (Figure 2) the operation is performed near the edge of the table. When the paper has been shaped about the glass the whole object is carelessly drawn toward the performer until his hands, still holding the paper over the glass, hold it over the edge of the table. At that instant the tumbler is allowed to drop secretly from the paper into the cup (Figure 3). The paper, however, still retains its shape and is immediately set down on the table. The tumbler appears to be beneath it. To bring about the magical disappearance of the tumbler, the performer has merely to crush the paper with a sudden blow of his fist.
