

HOOPER TO ACCEPT FAR DIRECTORSHIP
Cabinet Officer Again Sounded on Personal Feelings Regarding Post
Favorable Reply Would Bring Appeal to Harding
Committee of Six Named to Choose Head of Exposition Meets Today
EARLY U. S. SANCTION SEEN
Philadelphia Delegation Lays Project Before House Committee

Hope has not been given up that Herbert Hoover may be induced to direct the Sequi-Centennial Exposition. Samuel Rea and Edward W. Bok wanted Mr. Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, in Washington yesterday as to whether he would be willing to accept the chief commissionership.
Mr. Rea and Mr. Bok left the Sequi-Centennial hearing before the Exposition Committee of the House at noon today.
It is understood that the renewed offer of the honor was made to learn if Mr. Hoover would consider it seriously as far as personal feeling was concerned, so that President Harding might be approached to see if he was willing to release Mr. Hoover from his cabinet post.
Mr. Hoover later accompanied Mr. Rea and Mr. Bok to the private luncheon given to the delegation at the residence of Senator General James M. Smith. Here the secretary met the distinguished spokesmen of the committee who had represented Philadelphia's interests at the hearing and chatted with them about the project.
Mr. Rea's private car remained on a siding at Union station, Washington, when the remainder of the party left for Philadelphia, and Mr. Rea and Mr. Bok spent the evening in Washington at the Sherman, returning to the city this morning.

Committee of six chosen to select a man to direct the fair is to be gotten together for a meeting this afternoon. It also held a meeting of most of its members at Washington yesterday.
Early Announcement Promised
Mr. Rea has promised that as soon as the president has given an acceptance of the commissionership it is obtained, announcement will promptly be made to the public. A man close to him this morning said today: "Mr. Rea will be sure to announce the acceptance of the commissionership, but we are not now able to say whether Mr. Hoover either accepted or declined."
An event so desirable to make public and a declaration of this or that big man, no matter how good his reasons for declining, because it may affect the attitude of the man that might next be approached. Not that it shows that that effect, of course, but possibly it is human nature. That is the way Mr. Rea feels about it anyway.
Mr. Hoover has a job that is big enough to be offered to Herbert Hoover or Charles M. Schwab is a pretty important one, and the offering of this honor is a big commitment to any man. Mr. Hoover is a great engineer and a great executive and he, like Mr. Schwab, would be ideally suited to the task of directing the greatest world's fair of all time and the celebration of the founding of modern political freedom.

Hope for Best
"We can only hope for the best, and meantime we would greatly prefer not to discuss negotiations with this or that big man. When this thing is settled an announcement will be made."
Bryant Fish, of New York, former president of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce, has written to the Sequi-Centennial Association thanking it for the compliment conveyed through a letter from Mr. Bussard Bellamy, of Middletown, Pa., that he be named Chief Commissioner of the Fair.
He wrote, however, that such an honor was out of the question for him even if it were offered to him, and that he had retired from hard work ten years ago and could not think of undertaking a task of this nature.
Following the Sequi-Centennial hearing yesterday, Mayor Moore expressed himself today as satisfied that the fair could now be expected by the legislative and executive branches of the Government.

Favorable Action Seen
"The House committee," the Mayor said, "will no doubt favorably report the joint resolution in the next ten days or two weeks. We will have final action by the House and Senate in a reasonably short time thereafter. Federal legislation before July 1, and that is what we have been striving for."
Mayor Moore mentioned the many details which the Exposition authorities will have to work out with the Government, such as the admission with out duty of exhibits made in foreign countries.
He also brought up the subject of a special issue of Sequi-Centennial coins by the United States Mint.
"It will be proposed," said the Mayor, "that not only one coin, but three, be issued to commemorate the centennial of the American Republic."
"For Chicago's World's Fair, a special gold dollar, a silver dollar, and a nickel, and a premium course that designed coins be minted for distribution during the Sequi-Centennial. Some of our clever numismatic artists are working on the subject."
Special Sequi-Centennial postage stamps will also be provided for the event of 1923, he said.

Held in Check Fraud
Committee Action Presages Final Approval Tomorrow of Frankford Plan
COMPANY EXTENDS SINGLE TICKET RIGHT TO RHAWN ST.
Public Service Commission to Get Terms as Soon as City Indorses Plan

The Frankford Elevated lease was approved today by Council sitting as a committee of the whole, and is believed certain of final passage at a special meeting of Council called for tomorrow.
The committee placed its stamp of approval on the lease without a dissenting vote, which, of course, assures its swift passage through the other formal meetings which must consider it under the law.
This afternoon it will be reported in Council at the regular meeting, referred to the Committee on Transportation, to be met immediately. Council recessing for the purpose, and then will be reported back with a favorable recommendation.
This leaves only final passage in Council, which cannot be on the same day. Therefore, Richard Weglein, president of Council, announced a special meeting of this purpose tomorrow.
Little Time Lost in Talk
The favorable report of the committee of the whole was made at the instance of Councilman Gaffney, who made a brief statement.
What is regarded as an important concession to the people of the northeastern section was announced at today's meeting in the extension of the fare zone from Cottman street to Rhawn.
At first the company had intended to charge an extra fare at that point, but today Coleman J. Joyce, counsel for the company, said that he was authorized to announce the extension of the zone.
When the meeting opened Mr. Weglein said:
"We are about to consider the most constructive and important measure ever brought before this Council. The Frankford elevated has been the subject of debate and discussion for years."
Weglein Urges Approval
Mr. Weglein then sketched the history of the controversy and public hearings over the elevated, and finally presented the plan which led to the framing of the lease.
"The approval of this lease would be the very best step that could be accomplished," he said, "and undoubtedly will give excellent service to the people, and will provide the longest ride for the least money which any citizen can expect."
Councilman Hall also spoke on the measure.
"I understand that this lease has been gone into thoroughly by the Mayor, Mr. Mitten and yourself," said Mr. Hall to Mr. Weglein. "I think if we started to argue on it we would make a great mistake. It would be an error to make any changes. There is just one question which I would like to see Councilman McKelvey, of the northeast, and the residents of that section, are interested concerning the Bustleton extension, and would like to know what will be done concerning the extension to Rhawn street of the line."
Mr. Weglein then said he had been informed by Mr. Mitten that this matter would be taken up with engineers and architects, and that he would be City Solicitor Smyth, who was sitting with Mr. Weglein, announced that Mr. Mitten had said he had every desire to comply with the requests of the northeast and would do everything possible.

DEATH HALTS TRIAL
Children Say Father Was Beaten Fatally by Policeman
Sudden death halted the trial of Benjamin Levin, 2008 South Ninth street, before Judge Anderson today.
The coroner's jury, which was called to the scene of the death which was attributed to first natural causes, Levin's two sons, aged four and five, told their mother's policeman struck down on the head with a club and that he had fallen in the street and gone to sleep.
Levin went on trial Tuesday, charged with refusing to pay a $200 fine due Benjamin Reibstein, 425 South Sixth street. Levin claimed some work Reibstein did for him was unsatisfactory, and the case was continued until today, when architects were to have testified.
Levin left his home after lunch Tuesday and nothing was heard there of him until the police reported he had met with an accident.
Held for Auto Death
Driver Drunk in Stolen Car When He Hit Taxi, It Is Testified
Coroner Knight held Charles Anderson, a Negro Carlton street above Fifteenth, without bail for the Grand Jury today after witnesses testified that Anderson, drunk, drove an automobile without the owner's consent at a terrific speed and failed to stop after causing a collision at Sixteenth and Walnut streets, which resulted in the death of Luigi Pompei, 5008 Thompson street, a P. H. T. repairman.
Anderson, it was charged, sped past Walnut street on Sixteenth, April 22, striking a taxicab driven by Harry Feinberg, 2523 Lancaster street. The taxicab toppled over on Pompei, who was working on the tracks. Louis Schlefer, 52 North Edgemont street, owner of the car, said the machine was taken without his knowledge. The police said Anderson was intoxicated.

REPORT WAR FINANCE BILL
House Committee Acts Favorably on Amended Senate Measure
Washington, May 4.—(By A. P.)—The House committee on Banking and Currency today ordered a favorable report on the bill recently passed by the Senate extending the operation of the War Finance Corporation for one year from June 30 next.
The committee, however, amended it to include several of the recommendations recently made by the corporation.

OUT STEALING!
Tramp Slides Into Home, but Finds Man and Wife There
A tramp who for a couple of weeks had been sleeping in a room at the rear of 1727 North Fifth street, stealing in last night, found the room occupied by a man and his wife.
The tramp fled, leaving fall as he did a lighted candle that he carried in his hand. A fire started. The Harrisons awakened and put out the fire.

CONCILIATION K. NEW LEASE ON 'L'
Committee Action Presages Final Approval Tomorrow of Frankford Plan
COMPANY EXTENDS SINGLE TICKET RIGHT TO RHAWN ST.
Public Service Commission to Get Terms as Soon as City Indorses Plan

The Frankford Elevated lease was approved today by Council sitting as a committee of the whole, and is believed certain of final passage at a special meeting of Council called for tomorrow.
The committee placed its stamp of approval on the lease without a dissenting vote, which, of course, assures its swift passage through the other formal meetings which must consider it under the law.
This afternoon it will be reported in Council at the regular meeting, referred to the Committee on Transportation, to be met immediately. Council recessing for the purpose, and then will be reported back with a favorable recommendation.
This leaves only final passage in Council, which cannot be on the same day. Therefore, Richard Weglein, president of Council, announced a special meeting of this purpose tomorrow.
Little Time Lost in Talk
The favorable report of the committee of the whole was made at the instance of Councilman Gaffney, who made a brief statement.
What is regarded as an important concession to the people of the northeastern section was announced at today's meeting in the extension of the fare zone from Cottman street to Rhawn.
At first the company had intended to charge an extra fare at that point, but today Coleman J. Joyce, counsel for the company, said that he was authorized to announce the extension of the zone.
When the meeting opened Mr. Weglein said:
"We are about to consider the most constructive and important measure ever brought before this Council. The Frankford elevated has been the subject of debate and discussion for years."
Weglein Urges Approval
Mr. Weglein then sketched the history of the controversy and public hearings over the elevated, and finally presented the plan which led to the framing of the lease.
"The approval of this lease would be the very best step that could be accomplished," he said, "and undoubtedly will give excellent service to the people, and will provide the longest ride for the least money which any citizen can expect."
Councilman Hall also spoke on the measure.
"I understand that this lease has been gone into thoroughly by the Mayor, Mr. Mitten and yourself," said Mr. Hall to Mr. Weglein. "I think if we started to argue on it we would make a great mistake. It would be an error to make any changes. There is just one question which I would like to see Councilman McKelvey, of the northeast, and the residents of that section, are interested concerning the Bustleton extension, and would like to know what will be done concerning the extension to Rhawn street of the line."
Mr. Weglein then said he had been informed by Mr. Mitten that this matter would be taken up with engineers and architects, and that he would be City Solicitor Smyth, who was sitting with Mr. Weglein, announced that Mr. Mitten had said he had every desire to comply with the requests of the northeast and would do everything possible.

DAUGHTER OF EX-SENATOR CLARK OBTAINS DIVORCE
Is Mother of Boy Who Found $1,000,000 in His Stocking
New York, May 4.—Mrs. Mary Culver Clark Kling, daughter of former United States Senator Clark, copper magnate, has received an interlocutory decree of divorce from Charles Foster Kling, a New York lawyer, who has made his residence for several years in Paris, it became known yesterday.
Mrs. Kling is now said to be traveling in Europe. He offered no defense to the suit. Their marriage occurred in 1905, a year after Mr. Kling had obtained a divorce from his first husband, Dr. Everett Miller Culver.
Mrs. Kling, eldest daughter of the Montana millionaire, whose $8,000,000 home on Fifth avenue is one of the show places of New York, called seven witnesses to support charges of misconduct against her husband in Boston and other cities. The correspondents were not named.
The estranged couple had one son, Gerald Kling, Senator Clark's favorite grandson, who kept the mother and father together long after they ceased to find happiness in each other.
The father, usually called "Uncle," is recalled that when the Klings returned from Europe several years ago, arriving on Christmas Eve, the Senator chartered a vessel to go down the bay to meet the little fellow.
He told him that on Christmas morn he found a million dollars in his stocking. The tiny chap didn't appear to be the least bit affected by this announcement, explaining that he would rather have a dog. But the tremendous gift was there for him when he awoke the next morning.

SHIP WINS BATTLE
Five Months in Gales and Ice, It Is Now Near Destination
After battling five months with ice jams, gales and severe cold, the steamship George W. Clyde, which left this city for Chicago, December 1, will arrive there Saturday. The Clyde is one of the five ocean vessels bought by Chicago steamship lines to revive lake transportation.
Shortly after leaving Philadelphia the ship struck a two-day storm which drove it out of its course. In the Bay of Fundy it buffeted against an eighty-mile gale, and in the Gulf of St. Lawrence it was driven about by a temperature 20 degrees below zero. In Lake Erie it struck a ninety-five-mile gale and in the St. Clair Canal it was blocked by an ice jam.

NEW PARTY IN CONVENTION
Kansas Farmers Hope Mine and Rail Men Will Aid
Topeka, Kan., May 4.—(By A. P.)—A "new party" convention opened here today with the announcement by P. J. Paulsen, of Concordia, chairman, that while the party is "fundamentally" a farmers' party, it is especially interested in the railroad and mine taxation. Included in the announced draft of a platform is a plank against the Kansas Industrial Court. The party would also favor a recall amendment and laws for stabilizing farm marketing.

Fled From Home
Freddie Williams, Nine-Year-Old Inmate of St. John's Home, Has Run Away Again
Prays for Return of Runaway Boy
Invalid Mother of Nine-Year-Old Freddie Williams Paralyzed in Bed
CHILD WAS INMATE OF HOME

Bedridden, her limbs paralyzed below the waist as the result of being struck by an automobile, Mrs. Margaret Williams, 2025 Summer street, rests propped on her pillows praying for the return of her nine-year-old son, Freddie, who disappeared from the St. John's Home, Forty-ninth street and Wyalusing avenue on 9 o'clock Tuesday morning and has not been seen or heard of since.
"My illness and suffering is nothing compared to the loss of my only boy," the mother said this morning, her eyes shining with tears.
"The anguish, the terrible thought of not knowing whether he is dead or alive is what worries me," Mrs. Williams exclaimed.
"Freddie has always been a good boy until the last four weeks," the mother explained.
During the past four weeks he has developed a mania for running away. Twice he was caught by the police of Frankford and once in Camden, where he remained for two days without food or shelter.
Mrs. Williams, employed at the Galco Clothing Company, 2025 Summer street, and her father, who vainly sought the haunting places of his son. He has made trips to the camps and grounds of the various circuses and carnivals in the city, but has been able to find no trace of him.
Mrs. Williams, Freddie's mother, while walking with Freddie and her mother, who is now nearly blind, was struck by an automobile on the Parkway November 27, 1921, and received an injury to her spine which has since resulted in the total loss of the use of both legs.
Judge Stern in Common Pleas Court, awarded Mrs. Williams a sum of $25,000, one of the largest sums ever awarded a woman in this city for damages.

BAY STATE ADMITS WOMEN
Four Seated in Massachusetts Episcopal Diocesan Convention
Boston, May 4.—For the first time in the history of the Episcopal Diocese of Massachusetts women yesterday were admitted to a diocesan convention in Europe. Today four women thus seated will vote in the election of a Bishop Coadjutor. A two-year struggle for a change in the canons of the Episcopal church, which had barred women from the vote, was voted for woman suffrage. The convention favored the innovation by a vote of 88 to 58, and the lay delegates by a vote of 40 to 22.

WIFE SAYS RICHES ROUTED REAL LOVE
Mrs. Clara L. Roberts, Who Defeated Divorce Plea, Aspects Spouse Became Proud WERE HAPPY WHEN POOR
"It was all because he thought I was out of place among the people he wanted to go with. It was so different and so lovely when he wasn't making much money and we were living just comfortably."
This was the version of things given this morning by Mrs. Clara L. Roberts in the park near City Hall, where she is being held for trial on a charge of bigamy. Yesterday Judge Stern had thrown out the plea of her husband for divorce. The six had been brought on the ground of adultery by Mrs. Roberts, who is the wife of a prominent lawyer and the artistic and gastronomic sensibilities of her spouse.
For instance, she wore a switch and kept three new hats from him until after they were safely married.
And in the nights when he came home late with a haggard appetite she gave him to eat only tea and rolls or boiled macaroni, for which in one of his bigamy confessions he had confessed a fondness.
The real trouble, according to the wife's sobbing sentences today, was that she husband was a social climber. In the beginning he had been only a modest railway clerk, earning just about enough to support them comfortably, and she was happy.
"It was the year that changed him most," she said. "But before that he was beginning to have lots of money to spend and he wanted to start playing around with the country club set."
"I know of him," she said, "in the manner of those people. I come from the same sort of everyday folk like my husband. I was not good at bridge parties and teas, and I suppose that I did things and made mistakes that made Clarence angry."
"But nothing serious happened until the war. He came back a captain of engineers and it had gone to his head. It was the war that changed him most. He was coming. He didn't even kiss me, didn't even kiss me. Just packed his clothes and went off to his fancy party."
RATS DISLIKE MINE STRIKE
Hazleton, Pa., May 4.—Persons whose homes are located near coal mines are loud in their complaint over a menace which followed the mine suspension. Many homes are being invaded by armies of rats, who, driven from the mines by starvation, have come to the surface seeking food. Supplies of stored goods have been eaten, while the rats, which are unusually large, are apparently not afraid of humans.

WIFE SAYS RICHES ROUTED REAL LOVE
Mrs. Clara L. Roberts, Who Defeated Divorce Plea, Aspects Spouse Became Proud WERE HAPPY WHEN POOR
"It was all because he thought I was out of place among the people he wanted to go with. It was so different and so lovely when he wasn't making much money and we were living just comfortably."
This was the version of things given this morning by Mrs. Clara L. Roberts in the park near City Hall, where she is being held for trial on a charge of bigamy. Yesterday Judge Stern had thrown out the plea of her husband for divorce. The six had been brought on the ground of adultery by Mrs. Roberts, who is the wife of a prominent lawyer and the artistic and gastronomic sensibilities of her spouse.
For instance, she wore a switch and kept three new hats from him until after they were safely married.
And in the nights when he came home late with a haggard appetite she gave him to eat only tea and rolls or boiled macaroni, for which in one of his bigamy confessions he had confessed a fondness.
The real trouble, according to the wife's sobbing sentences today, was that she husband was a social climber. In the beginning he had been only a modest railway clerk, earning just about enough to support them comfortably, and she was happy.
"It was the year that changed him most," she said. "But before that he was beginning to have lots of money to spend and he wanted to start playing around with the country club set."
"I know of him," she said, "in the manner of those people. I come from the same sort of everyday folk like my husband. I was not good at bridge parties and teas, and I suppose that I did things and made mistakes that made Clarence angry."
"But nothing serious happened until the war. He came back a captain of engineers and it had gone to his head. It was the war that changed him most. He was coming. He didn't even kiss me, didn't even kiss me. Just packed his clothes and went off to his fancy party."
RATS DISLIKE MINE STRIKE
Hazleton, Pa., May 4.—Persons whose homes are located near coal mines are loud in their complaint over a menace which followed the mine suspension. Many homes are being invaded by armies of rats, who, driven from the mines by starvation, have come to the surface seeking food. Supplies of stored goods have been eaten, while the rats, which are unusually large, are apparently not afraid of humans.

WU WINS BATTLE NEAR PEKIN WALL
Defeats Chang on Three Fronts, Capturing Changaiint, His Stronghold
MANCHURIAN ARMY IN GENERAL RETREAT
Gates of Capital Closed—Victorious Troops Surround City
Special Cable Dispatch
Copyright, 1922, by Public Ledger Company
Peking, May 4.—General Chang Tso Lin's forces were defeated last night on three fronts by the army under Wu Peifu, the Central Chinese leader. The Central Chinese army is now less than twelve miles from the city, and the gates have been closed.
General Wu's forces brilliantly turned the flank of the Manchurian army, which began a general retreat toward Fengtai from Changaiint, which it had held for several days.
Communication has been cut between this city and Tientsin, and reports of the fighting are meager.
Peking, May 4.—(By A. P.)—The troops of Wu Pei-Fu have surrounded Peking. General Chang Tso-Lin's army in the vicinity of Peking has been scattered. All railroad traffic out of Peking has been suspended.
President Hsu Shin-Chang made another effort today to end hostilities between the armies of General Chang Tso-Lin, military governor of Mukden, and General Wu Pei-Fu, military leader of Central China, who are fighting for the control of Peking. President Hsu, after a meeting of the Cabinet, sent telegrams to both generals appealing a truce to consider the welfare of China and end the civil war.
"As the diplomatic body has given three warnings to the Government regarding the present war," the President's communication read, "the rival leaders should set aside their personal differences and strive to live up to the expectations of the Powers. As both leaders favor unification of the North and South, they should suspend their war at once and discuss with the Government the procedure of negotiations."

WU WINS BATTLE NEAR PEKIN WALL
Defeats Chang on Three Fronts, Capturing Changaiint, His Stronghold
MANCHURIAN ARMY IN GENERAL RETREAT
Gates of Capital Closed—Victorious Troops Surround City
Special Cable Dispatch
Copyright, 1922, by Public Ledger Company
Peking, May 4.—General Chang Tso Lin's forces were defeated last night on three fronts by the army under Wu Peifu, the Central Chinese leader. The Central Chinese army is now less than twelve miles from the city, and the gates have been closed.
General Wu's forces brilliantly turned the flank of the Manchurian army, which began a general retreat toward Fengtai from Changaiint, which it had held for several days.
Communication has been cut between this city and Tientsin, and reports of the fighting are meager.
Peking, May 4.—(By A. P.)—The troops of Wu Pei-Fu have surrounded Peking. General Chang Tso-Lin's army in the vicinity of Peking has been scattered. All railroad traffic out of Peking has been suspended.
President Hsu Shin-Chang made another effort today to end hostilities between the armies of General Chang Tso-Lin, military governor of Mukden, and General Wu Pei-Fu, military leader of Central China, who are fighting for the control of Peking. President Hsu, after a meeting of the Cabinet, sent telegrams to both generals appealing a truce to consider the welfare of China and end the civil war.
"As the diplomatic body has given three warnings to the Government regarding the present war," the President's communication read, "the rival leaders should set aside their personal differences and strive to live up to the expectations of the Powers. As both leaders favor unification of the North and South, they should suspend their war at once and discuss with the Government the procedure of negotiations."

WU WINS BATTLE NEAR PEKIN WALL
Defeats Chang on Three Fronts, Capturing Changaiint, His Stronghold
MANCHURIAN ARMY IN GENERAL RETREAT
Gates of Capital Closed—Victorious Troops Surround City
Special Cable Dispatch
Copyright, 1922, by Public Ledger Company
Peking, May 4.—General Chang Tso Lin's forces were defeated last night on three fronts by the army under Wu Peifu, the Central Chinese leader. The Central Chinese army is now less than twelve miles from the city, and the gates have been closed.
General Wu's forces brilliantly turned the flank of the Manchurian army, which began a general retreat toward Fengtai from Changaiint, which it had held for several days.
Communication has been cut between this city and Tientsin, and reports of the fighting are meager.
Peking, May 4.—(By A. P.)—The troops of Wu Pei-Fu have surrounded Peking. General Chang Tso-Lin's army in the vicinity of Peking has been scattered. All railroad traffic out of Peking has been suspended.
President Hsu Shin-Chang made another effort today to end hostilities between the armies of General Chang Tso-Lin, military governor of Mukden, and General Wu Pei-Fu, military leader of Central China, who are fighting for the control of Peking. President Hsu, after a meeting of the Cabinet, sent telegrams to both generals appealing a truce to consider the welfare of China and end the civil war.
"As the diplomatic body has given three warnings to the Government regarding the present war," the President's communication read, "the rival leaders should set aside their personal differences and strive to live up to the expectations of the Powers. As both leaders favor unification of the North and South, they should suspend their war at once and discuss with the Government the procedure of negotiations."

WU WINS BATTLE NEAR PEKIN WALL
Defeats Chang on Three Fronts, Capturing Changaiint, His Stronghold
MANCHURIAN ARMY IN GENERAL RETREAT
Gates of Capital Closed—Victorious Troops Surround City
Special Cable Dispatch
Copyright, 1922, by Public Ledger Company
Peking, May 4.—General Chang Tso Lin's forces were defeated last night on three fronts by the army under Wu Peifu, the Central Chinese leader. The Central Chinese army is now less than twelve miles from the city, and the gates have been closed.
General Wu's forces brilliantly turned the flank of the Manchurian army, which began a general retreat toward Fengtai from Changaiint, which it had held for several days.
Communication has been cut between this city and Tientsin, and reports of the fighting are meager.
Peking, May 4.—(By A. P.)—The troops of Wu Pei-Fu have surrounded Peking. General Chang Tso-Lin's army in the vicinity of Peking has been scattered. All railroad traffic out of Peking has been suspended.
President Hsu Shin-Chang made another effort today to end hostilities between the armies of General Chang Tso-Lin, military governor of Mukden, and General Wu Pei-Fu, military leader of Central China, who are fighting for the control of Peking. President Hsu, after a meeting of the Cabinet, sent telegrams to both generals appealing a truce to consider the welfare of China and end the civil war.
"As the diplomatic body has given three warnings to the Government regarding the present war," the President's communication read, "the rival leaders should set aside their personal differences and strive to live up to the expectations of the Powers. As both leaders favor unification of the North and South, they should suspend their war at once and discuss with the Government the procedure of negotiations."

WU WINS BATTLE NEAR PEKIN WALL
Defeats Chang on Three Fronts, Capturing Changaiint, His Stronghold
MANCHURIAN ARMY IN GENERAL RETREAT
Gates of Capital Closed—Victorious Troops Surround City
Special Cable Dispatch
Copyright, 1922, by Public Ledger Company
Peking, May 4.—General Chang Tso Lin's forces were defeated last night on three fronts by the army under Wu Peifu, the Central Chinese leader. The Central Chinese army is now less than twelve miles from the city, and the gates have been closed.
General Wu's forces brilliantly turned the flank of the Manchurian army, which began a general retreat toward Fengtai from Changaiint, which it had held for several days.
Communication has been cut between this city and Tientsin, and reports of the fighting are meager.
Peking, May 4.—(By A. P.)—The troops of Wu Pei-Fu have surrounded Peking. General Chang Tso-Lin's army in the vicinity of Peking has been scattered. All railroad traffic out of Peking has been suspended.
President Hsu Shin-Chang made another effort today to end hostilities between the armies of General Chang Tso-Lin, military governor of Mukden, and General Wu Pei-Fu, military leader of Central China, who are fighting for the control of Peking. President Hsu, after a meeting of the Cabinet, sent telegrams to both generals appealing a truce to consider the welfare of China and end the civil war.
"As the diplomatic body has given three warnings to the Government regarding the present war," the President's communication read, "the rival leaders should set aside their personal differences and strive to live up to the expectations of the Powers. As both leaders favor unification of the North and South, they should suspend their war at once and discuss with the Government the procedure of negotiations."

Going to Aid Stranger, Finds Husband Dying
Wife Called to Locate Doctor for Victim of Vertigo Recognizes James Thompson in Stranger's Automobile
Called from her home at Carpenter and McCallum streets last night in answer to the knock of a stranger who was inquiring for the nearest doctor to treat a man he had found injured in the streets, Mrs. Julia Thompson looked into the stranger's car to find that it was her husband, James Thompson.
Mr. Thompson died in the German Hospital at 2 o'clock this morning. He was seventy-six years old, a former Common Councilman and superintendent of a department and oldest employee in this city of the Midvale Steel Company.
Mr. Thompson, and she hurried to the car and then rang the nearest doorbell to ask about a physician.
"I wonder if it is my husband," exclaimed Mrs. Thompson, and she hurried to the car and leaped that it was.
Mr. Whitman helped Mrs. Thompson get her husband into his home, from which he was taken to the German Hospital at 2 o'clock this morning. Physicians there said that his death was due to an attack of vertigo. Mr. Whitman said Mr. Thompson fell as though he had been suddenly stricken. Mr. Thompson had gone to a monthly meeting of a building and loan association. Mr. Thompson was superintendent

WOMEN JURORS FAVOR DEATH FOR SLAYERS
LOS ANGELES, May 4.—Calvin Powell and James W. Heaton, two of five men accused of having slain two policemen here December 6, 1921, were found guilty of first-degree murder. The jury, on which there were three women, recommended life imprisonment. It was stated the women favored the death penalty.
MOUNT ETNA IN ERUPTION
CATALINA, SICILY, May 4.—Mount Etna has broken out again with eruptions of increased violence and is emitting continuous roars which can be heard for several miles. Dense black smoke is filling the sky.

WIFE SAYS RICHES ROUTED REAL LOVE
Mrs. Clara L. Roberts, Who Defeated Divorce Plea, Aspects Spouse Became Proud WERE HAPPY WHEN POOR
"It was all because he thought I was out of place among the people he wanted to go with. It was so different and so lovely when he wasn't making much money and we were living just comfortably."
This was the version of things given this morning by Mrs. Clara L. Roberts in the park near City Hall, where she is being held for trial on a charge of bigamy. Yesterday Judge Stern had thrown out the plea of her husband for divorce. The six had been brought on the ground of adultery by Mrs. Roberts, who is the wife of a prominent lawyer and the artistic and gastronomic sensibilities of her spouse.
For instance, she wore a switch and kept three new hats from him until after they were safely married.
And in the nights when he came home late with a haggard appetite she gave him to eat only tea and rolls or boiled macaroni, for which in one of his bigamy confessions he had confessed a fondness.
The real trouble, according to the wife's sobbing sentences today, was that she husband was a social climber. In the beginning he had been only a modest railway clerk, earning just about enough to support them comfortably, and she was happy.
"It was the year that changed him most," she said. "But before that he was beginning to have lots of money to spend and he wanted to start playing around with the country club set."
"I know of him," she said, "in the manner of those people. I come from the same sort of everyday folk like my husband. I was not good at bridge parties and teas, and I suppose that I did things and made mistakes that made Clarence angry."
"But nothing serious happened until the war. He came back a captain of engineers and it had gone to his head. It was the war that changed him most. He was coming. He didn't even kiss me, didn't even kiss me. Just packed his clothes and went off to his fancy party."
RATS DISLIKE MINE STRIKE
Hazleton, Pa., May 4.—Persons whose homes are located near coal mines are loud in their complaint over a menace which followed the mine suspension. Many homes are being invaded by armies of rats, who, driven from the mines by starvation, have come to the surface seeking food. Supplies of stored goods have been eaten, while the rats, which are unusually large, are apparently not afraid of humans.

WIFE SAYS RICHES ROUTED REAL LOVE
Mrs. Clara L. Roberts, Who Defeated Divorce Plea, Aspects Spouse Became Proud WERE HAPPY WHEN POOR
"It was all because he thought I was out of place among the people he wanted to go with. It was so different and so lovely when he wasn't making much money and we were living just comfortably."
This was the version of things given this morning by Mrs. Clara L. Roberts in the park near City Hall, where she is being held for trial on a charge of bigamy. Yesterday Judge Stern had thrown out the plea of her husband for divorce. The six had been brought on the ground of adultery by Mrs. Roberts, who is the wife of a prominent lawyer and the artistic and gastronomic sensibilities of her spouse.
For instance, she wore a switch and kept three new hats from him until after they were safely married.
And in the nights when he came home late with a haggard appetite she gave him to eat only tea and rolls or boiled macaroni, for which in one of his bigamy confessions he had confessed a fondness.
The real trouble, according to the wife's sobbing sentences today, was that she husband was a social climber. In the beginning he had been only a modest railway clerk, earning just about enough to support them comfortably, and she was happy.
"It was the year that changed him most," she said. "But before that he was beginning to have lots of money to spend and he wanted to start playing around with the country club set."
"I know of him," she said, "in the manner of those people. I come from the same sort of everyday folk like my husband. I was not good at bridge parties and teas, and I suppose that I did things and made mistakes that made Clarence angry."
"But nothing serious happened until the war. He came back a captain of engineers and it had gone to his head. It was the war that changed him most. He was coming. He didn't even kiss me, didn't even kiss me. Just packed his clothes and went off to his fancy party."
RATS DISLIKE MINE STRIKE
Hazleton, Pa., May 4.—Persons whose homes are located near coal mines are loud in their complaint over a menace which followed the mine suspension. Many homes are being invaded by armies of rats, who, driven from the mines by starvation, have come to the surface seeking food. Supplies of stored goods have been eaten, while the rats, which are unusually large, are apparently not afraid of humans.

WIFE SAYS RICHES ROUTED REAL LOVE
Mrs. Clara L. Roberts, Who Defeated Divorce Plea, Aspects Spouse Became Proud WERE HAPPY WHEN POOR
"It was all because he thought I was out of place among the people he wanted to go with. It was so different and so lovely when he wasn't making much money and we were living just comfortably."
This was the version of things given this morning by Mrs. Clara L. Roberts in the park near City Hall, where she is being held for trial on a charge of bigamy. Yesterday Judge Stern had thrown out the plea of her husband for divorce. The six had been brought on the ground of adultery by Mrs. Roberts, who is the wife of a prominent lawyer and the artistic and gastronomic sensibilities of her spouse.
For instance, she wore a switch and kept three new hats from him until after they were safely married.
And in the nights when he came home late with a haggard appetite she gave him to eat only tea and rolls or boiled macaroni, for which in one of his bigamy confessions he had confessed a fondness.
The real trouble, according to the wife's sobbing sentences today, was that she husband was a social climber. In the beginning he had been only a modest railway clerk, earning just about enough to support them comfortably, and she was happy.
"It was the year that changed him most," she said. "But before that he was beginning to have lots of money to spend and he wanted to start playing around with the country club set."
"I know of him," she said, "in the manner of those people. I come from the same sort of everyday folk like my husband. I was not good at bridge parties and teas, and I suppose that I did things and made mistakes that made Clarence angry."
"But nothing serious happened until the war. He came back a captain of engineers and it had gone to his head. It was the war that changed him most. He was coming. He didn't even kiss me, didn't even kiss me. Just packed his clothes and went off to his fancy party."
RATS DISLIKE MINE STRIKE
Hazleton, Pa., May 4.—Persons whose homes are located near coal mines are loud in their complaint over a menace which followed the mine suspension. Many homes are being invaded by armies of rats, who, driven from the mines by starvation, have come to the surface seeking food. Supplies of stored goods have been eaten, while the rats, which are unusually large, are apparently not afraid of humans.

PINCHOT MEANS WAR OF FRAUD
Crooked Work at Polling Places Must Stop, Roper Declares
"TO PROSECUTE VIOLATORS IF IT TAKES TEN YEARS"
Johnson, Montgomery County Leader, Joins Grist to Boom Forester

Because of the turning over of Montgomery counties in the interior of the State from the Alter to the Pinchot column, Vare leaders are desperately at work today trying to line up a big vote for Alter in Philadelphia.
They feel that a big machine vote here will be needed to overcome Pinchot's lead in the State.
Recognizing the last-hour moves of the Vare leaders, Councilman Roper, director of the Pinchot campaign in Philadelphia, sounded a warning today against fraud, declaring that violators of the law would be prosecuted to the hilt.
"It has been the practice of division leaders," said Roper, "indiscriminately to mark the ballots at local elections. We intend doing everything in our power to see that the pernicious activity is not carried out on May 18."
"Indiscriminate marking of ballots has been especially flagrant in the first district wards of the city and in the Nineteenth, Twentieth, Thirtieth, Thirty-sixth and Thirty-ninth wards. The latter is the home ward of Senator Vare."
Has Names of Violators
"I have the names of the men who have been making a practice of unlawfully marking ballots and I wish to serve notice now that any assistance to voters which is against the law will be returned to the full extent provided for such violations."
"Moreover I want to say with equal intensity that any proven violation of the election law will not end with a margin of votes. It will be followed up and convictions sought if it takes ten years."
"The malicious abuse of public confidence that has characterized elections in the past has got to stop. At primary election no voter is entitled to assistance unless he first makes an affidavit as to the character of his disability and the only disability which permits assistance is the voter's inability to read the names on the ballot or by reason of physical disability to mark his ballot."
"If, therefore, is the duty of the judge of election to refuse assistance to any voter not so making an affidavit without making this affidavit violates the election law in that he discloses the secrecy of his ballot."
Liable to Imprisonment
"Assistance given without this affidavit is a violation of the law and the judge of election who permits it subjects himself to a fine not exceeding $1000 and imprisonment for not more than one year or both."
"Any voter making a false affidavit is liable to a conviction on a charge of perjury and subject to a fine of $500 and imprisonment not exceeding seven years and to be thereafter disqualified from being a witness in any court."
Republican organization leaders backing Attorney General Alter are in a real panic today over the defection of Congressman W. C. Grist, the veteran leader of Lancaster County and Charles Johnson, the leader of Montgomery County. These leaders whom the organization had counted on for support are now working for Pinchot's nomination.
The fact that these two leaders have joined the Pinchot colors is admitted.

IRISH LEADERS AGREE TO 4-DAY ARMY TRUCE
Agreement Provides That All Aggressive Operations Cease By the Associated Press
Dublin, May 4.—A truce between the rival Irish republican army forces has been declared, it was announced this afternoon.
The truce is operative from 4 o'clock this afternoon until 4 P. M. Monday with a view to giving both sides of the army an immediate opportunity to discuss a basis for army unification.
"The previous cessation of hostilities is the result of the truce," said a spokesman.
"All operations except training and ordinary army routine will cease."
"Clause 2. All provocative operations will cease."
"Both sections will co-operate to maintain order and prevent acts of aggression against persons or property."
The document is signed by Owen O'Duffy and Rinn Lynch, the chiefs of staff of the rival forces.
Yesterday's remarkable action of the Dail Eireann in ordering the opposing sides in the Irish Republican Army immediately to cease their hostilities and the unexpected accession to the movement of Eamon de Valera, Republican leader, gave hope that peace really might be in the offing. In his speech Mr. de Valera made the significant statement that "if advantage is taken of our opportunity we can have a Government in this country which will be a credit to the country and restore the reputation we had five or six months ago."
A peace committee consisting of five representatives each of the Provisional Government and the dissidents was appointed by the Dail, to put the resolution into effect.

SEIZE 'SOVIET SPIES'
Vast French Espionage Charges
Paris, May 4.—(By A. P.)—Arrests have been made and others were momentarily expected after it was learned that the French government has a vast organization for the espionage of the Soviet government.
The organization is headed by a Frenchman, and its members are active in various parts of the world. The French government has been working to uncover this organization for some time, and the recent arrests are a significant step in this effort.

SEIZE 'SOVIET SPIES'
Vast French Espionage Charges
Paris, May 4.—(By A. P.)—Arrests have been made and others were momentarily expected after it was learned that the French government has a vast organization for the espionage of the Soviet government.
The organization is headed by a Frenchman, and its members are active in various parts of the world. The French government has been working to uncover this organization for some time, and the recent arrests are a significant step in this effort.