BLUSHES AT "DRY" ACTION

"The Church made a serious mistake in refusing to admit women as delegates to the Diocesan Convention." said Mrs. Esther K. Bradford today.
Mrs. Bradford was one of three wemen members of a commission of eight which has been studying the matter for blieves sore gums, sweetens be breath. A white powder. At te last year. Its report, favoring the admission of women to the convention, was rejected by a majority of one vote yesterday in the annual convention of the Episcopal Diocese of Pennsylvania, at the same time that the Episcopal Convention in

"Women do a great deal of the active work of the church," Mrs. Bradford continued. "and their climination from the convention as delegates and all responsibiliti deprives them of a free field of action. The position of non-respon-sibility in which the women are kept by this action will also keep the church nailed down tight and retard it in its

I am very discouraged about the burch this morning," and Mrs. Bradford sighed.

"It seems to me that a matter of even more consequence is the failure of the church to take a definite stand in support of prohibition. The blindness of the church on this moral issue is nothing less than alarming.

Ashamed of Anti-Dry Speech "If Mr. Francis Wood's speech in opposition to the Volstend act is cor-rectly quoted it is enough to make one blush. These men know nothing of the conditions or the situation today.

In my opinion the church is not "In my opinion the church accomplishing what it should and I think it will not until the reactionaries pass away and people of breadth and vision take their places."

Mrs. J. Alison Scott, who has always been active in Episcopal Church work. "It was really not to be expected that the measure admitting women as dele-cates would be passed this time, close as was the vote. There had been no real preparatory work for it, he-The bishop is strongly in favor of it, and so are most of the clergy. Only the lairy and a few of the women are opposed to it. Personally, I am strongly in favor of its adoption as soon as the time is ripe. In the meanwhile, it must wait through the next two conventions, for it requires the approval of two conventions to become a law Dry Move Tabled

A resolution calling for density prothition enforcement was defeated in the closing hour of the convention. Clinton Rogers Woodraff, or the Civil Service Commission, introduced the resolution favoring law enforcement that had been adopted by the American flar Association. The statement in the resolution that enquoyens of probability resolution that enquorents of prohibition are premoting "anarchy, toob violence, robbery and bemteide." brought a sharp retort from Mr. oWod, pr. atterney, who is a torner member of the Standing Committee of the Diocese. He contended the prohibition in was "onius, unrighteens, and not in accordance with the spirit of the Christian resultation."

Other members of the convention agreed with Mr. Wood, apparently, for incinent later they swept the Wood-Another champion of prohibition, the Another champlon of prohibition, the Rev. Dr. varl E. Grammer, rector of St. Stephen's Church, immediately came forward with a resolution consilerably milder than the one introduced by Mr. Woodruff, accompanied by an argument that it would be hartful to the Episcopal Church to have it hold back on this question of law enforcement when organizations like the American Bar Association were taking American Bar Association were taking a firm stand for law enforcement. Dr. tiraminer's argument impressed the dep-uties and his resolution was adopted.

STYLE M (5 feet) $1375 A SIZE STANDARD

True grand pianos are "grand" because of length that permits the extension of strings, with sounding boards under them of sufficients size to produce finest tone quality. We catalogue Steinway Style M as "the miniature," because it is the smallest of the six grand pianos made by Steinway & Sons. But this small Steinway is miniature only in name. Its 5 ft. 7 in. length can be placed in any modern home; but pianos of its proportions are often catalogued "baby grand"—and sometimes, even "parlor grand." Although exceeding the tiny "grand" in size, style M is the most fairly priced of all small grands. Made by the greatest pianomakers of all time; built for generations of service; exquisite in design and finish, it costs hardly more than the ordinary piano. Time payments.
