CHAPTER V

Revenge HIS amazement Dick found the nsatural bravado that had nerved up to the point of doing a desas he stood there before the man had interfered just in time to went the catastrophe.

to Carey Phelps; he had always looked to Carey Phelps; he had felt a boy-admiration for him, and when appointed his legal guardian, a sahip had developed between the seen which had presisted long men which had persisted long Dick had come of age. might it seemed to Dick as if he more the boy and Carey priend; and the reaction that had be-min to set in made it impossible for him to lie out of the situation. His nerves were going back on him and he had begun to tremble, even his teeth chattered, and finally with a half older, more experienced d, and finally, with a half-d exclamation, he sank into a egether; you mustn't give way, you ashamed of you!" woman, Carey, a woman who hasn't And again Carey feit the uestic to woman. Carey, a woman who hasn't venge sweep over him. What a triany use for me. I've reached a point venge sweep over him. What a triany use for me. I've reached a point venge sweep over him. What a triany use for me. I've reached a point venge sweep over him. What a triany use for me. tell you: I can't live without her:

why couldn't you have let me alone?
Why did you have to come around here tonight?"
"Some day you'll thank me for come."

Some day you'll thank me for com-here tonight." Carey returned quickly. "Why, you're young, Dick; you have all of life before you. Who is this woman? You'll feel better after you've made a clean breast of everything, and, believe me, old man, some day you'll remember this incident as merely a part of life's experience. Wait and see."

Dick shook his head. "Never! You

Dick shook his head. "Never! You Dick shook his head. "Never: Iou don't know Cleo. You've never met any one just like her. She's the kind of woman who tangles herself up in a man's life; she's the kind a man never forgets, and, God, Carey. I was so sure of her, that's what hurts! I was struck all in a heap tonight when she said she didn't care. I was sure she cared because she seemed to like she cared because she seemed to like to be with me. We've been together constantly, and tonight I made her con-I was only one of a number It drove me wild. I didn't fess that I was only one of a number of men. It drove me wild. I didn't care what happened after that; I think I must have been mad with misery."

Dick's disjointed sentences had painted a picture in Carey's imagination of the kind of a girl Cleo was. In his mind's eye he saw Dick in the clutches of a designing woman, a kind of professional vampire, and he was suddenly possessed with a cold fury. Sooner or later he had expected that something of the kind would happen to Dick. The boy was bot-headed and impressionable; he would be putty in the hands of a clever woman, and as the hands of a clever woman, and as he thought, a sudden determination leaped into Carey's brain, a fierce desire to avenge the boy and make the woman pay.

"Nea here Dick" he said quickly.

"Shall I forget about my shabby surroundings and bring all of my men.

woman pay. "See here, Dick." he said quickly, and buried his head in his arms. 'you're tired out tonight, and you must felt suddenly Carey's strong fin- get to bed. Tomorrow we'll talk the whole thing over, but first I want your promise not to do anything desperate Don't be a coward; don't make me enly and his blue eyes were stark the strength to go through with it."

In in love with a The attempted humor was ghastly.

Tomorrow-The Plan

He threw her a hasty suspicious getting the mail out to the branch of-

if I was a bone-and he was a bull-

Virginia tittered nervously summons, interrupted him.

on me, at that, honey.

He was engaged at the ces, and gee whiz, he barked at me as Maybe he was busy—and forgot." That's just it. said Paul, darkly.

"He hasn't any right to forget. Suphe rummaged for a fresh collar. "Gee

And Virginia-well, she just smiled wisely—and patted her big little boy as she kissed him good-by at the door.

Tomorrow-Another Complex

Read Your Character

By Digby Phillips

Selling the Up-crossed "t"

misunderstanding? Shall you take elaborate pains in some roundabout way to Better not waste your time doing any of these things. This man is hopeful, fanciful and imaginative. His tendency is to keep his mind fixed on the future rather than on the present or the past. He's not the type of man to harbor resentment. His hopeful attitude toward the future in many cases amounts to a fault. He's not a hard man to sell if you paint a plausible picture for him. Forget the past. Ig-

Tomorrow-Work for the long and the short-headed

Remember This

nore it and go in and sell him.

regain his confidence in you?

boss certainly does depend

"I always thought

Paul and Virginia By HELENA HOYT GRANT

Grains of Sand WHAT the trouble is with most began Paul, frowning glance-but she was as soper as could

"Oh, mercy, dearest, don't start in like you and the chief that tonight. I just were very friendly, you at the office today, but do try to forget it; you know perfectly well, you old bear, that fifteen minutes after you've had dinner you'll be perfectly all right again."

He subsided, but such is the spiritual know something upset personally.

You at the office today.

That's such is the spiritual he was awfully pleasinla could not stifle her curiosity as ginta easily sily as Paul quieted his wrath. "Was it the chief?"

"Huh?"
"Was it something the chief did the office today that annoyed "Of course," said Paul shortly, And resumed his newspaper. "What-what was it, honey?" He lowered the paper and stared at her deliberately, ominously,

"I thought you said I should stop te-and forget about it. She shrugged.

"Well, I don't want you to rave came out to my desk I should sneer at about it, Paul, dear, but you might tell him or—or something like that?"

The telephone bell, trilling its shrill

uence, anyway.

Paul laughed bitterly.

Paul, shortly.

Sure didn't you ever hear of it?' his tone was actually rude. Why-Paul!

"Aw, well, don't ung me, then.

Adventures With a Purse RECENTLY somebody I know gave und fifty the making of sandwiches ame quite an item in a busy houseold. That's how I found out about the caterer who will make your sandfor you. Not the common garden riety of flat. square or oblong sand-iches; oh dear, no! These are dainty elled sandwiches, like miniature pieces you have reason to believe, a poor elly roll. They are filled with olive opinion of you. It may not have been mayonnaise, some have lettuce, cra cheese and, in fact, I fancy you have white or brown bread or some having been fair. Now the situation has arisen where he needs goods you have for sale. He has even written they cost only sixty cents a dozen. Think of the work and fuss saved a you are giving a party! I have some of them and I can speak freely.

The surprising part is that have for sale. He has even written have for sale. He has even written would have for sale. He has even written some of them and I can speak freely.

Those who seem to misunderstand you would be more sympathetic if you w have white or brown bread or some having been fair. Now the situation nty and delicious as these sandwiches they cost only sixty cents a dozen, you an inquiry. You have his letter all, cr phone Walnut 3000 or Main 1601. What tactics shall you pursue? Shall the hours of 9 and 5.

Things You'll Love to Make

Velvet Flower-Bag VELVET FLOWER BAG is VELVET FLOWER BAG is shing new in the bag field. Cut five the bag field. Cut a circle the bag field of cardboard. The carde as the length of each petal. The circle with velvet on one side e circle with velvet on one side h silk on the other. Shir the dges of the petals. Stitch them ircle, overlapping the petals at a-half inch. Stitch the petals where they overlap. Make two sittching through the petals to form a casing. Then

Wishes 'Heaven's Eyes' Some Cheer Wishes 'Heaven's Eyes' Some Cheer
Dear Cynthia—Although I've read your column for quite some time. I've never had the courage to write until I saw "Puppy's" letter. I pity the future generation if they have to depend on them for mothers. What she needs is a good spanking. It does my heart good to read a letter like "Heaven's Eyes." I think she has a whole lot to be thankful for. I've always been opposed to the use of make-up, the way they smear it on nowadays. I hope to hear more from her in the future and I've no doubt that there are some sensible men left. I also echo "Mutt and Jeff's" sentiments. A good, sensible girl is indeed a great treasure these days.

What to Do

How does the world's beauty

keep her hair

in such perfect condition?

How does she arrange

that lovely coiffure?

Frequent

shampoos,

many marcels,

with much brushing

and a weekly

massage,

makes hair

healthy,

girls happy

and is wise.

That's how!

She's Ashamed of Her Home

roundings and bring all of my men friends to my house? I have turned so many nice young men down just for that reason. Will you please, dear Cynthia, DOWNHEARTED. My dear little girl, don't you know ashamed of you!"

Now, now that it's all over. Do you

Dick looked up suddenly. "You

In trouble of any kind?"

In trouble?" The boy looked up won't shoot myself tonight. I haven't uddenly and his blue eyes were stark ashamed of you!"

Dick looked up suddenly. "You needn't tell me I'm a coward. I ad not your home? If they give you up be cause your home is shabby, then they won't shoot myself tonight. I haven't

you cannot expect to keep your friendship.

the strength to go through with it." Let the next one who asks come, and do not applogize for anything. If you are cordial and entertaining he will not notice your surroundings. No doubt you are overly sensitive about them anyhow.

In Love With Three Men at Once Dear Cynthia—I have read your letters for a number of weeks, so I have decided to bring to you one of my per-sonal problems. I have reached the sonal problems. I have reached the Free Age," Cynthia, and by the rest of my letter you will learn that I am a girl. Having thus described myself, I will proceed.

This letter may sound impossible Cyntha, but I assure you that it is only too true. Well now, the real problem is I am in love with three boys. The boys are chums, and are exceedingly good looking. They are all about the same height, and while their eves and hair are not all the same shade, they all have light hair and blue eyes. Each one light hair and blue eyes mains not so long as if the hair were all have hight hair and blue eyes. Each one knows that I go with the other two, and each has asked me to marry him. Now Cynthia, I love them all, and would like to marry all if that were possible. It will be utterly impossible for me to choose one by character because they are all a man should be. They each have a college education and each is morally an additional brushing before it goes.

The truth of the matter probably is my dear that you love all three and are not in love with any of them. There's a difference, you know. You are still very young: ask them to wait another year. But do not let any of them get the idea that he is engaged to you. makes me so preved when he pulls this high and mighty stuff." 'High and mighty stuff?'
'Yes! He had some figuring to do oday and I went in to ask him about the idea that he is engaged to you Another Letter From "Puppy Dear Cynthla—A little epistle to my mning little "Patent Leather Boys." cunning little "Patent Leather Boys." Thanks for them kind words. I certainly needed those after reading other letters you yourselves get me, but I will endeavor to explain to those who don't.

Every normal girl at my age is like me. I'm not bad, far from it. I know exactly where to call a halt. I am very enthusiastic about everything; that is why every one who knows me likes me. Girls like me are usually the ones who get the pick of husbands. When I am married I intend to be true to my husband and do the right thing by him in every case.

Where there's more of singing and less of sighing.

Where there's more of giving and less of sighing.

"Well, honey, what was it, this ""Oh * * oh * * well, nothing. In an awful jam o' work down at the office and phones up to ask if I'd mind coming down to help him out. I'll have to ask you to just cook me up some eggs or any old thing that's quick, dear, and under the control of the young men of today. They go out, kiss a girl, smell a cork and the next morning to their special friends, "Wild party last night." Then all his friends take it for granted that the young lady when you come home," insisted Virtials. of supper and a few wicked steps is absolutely taboe. Oftentimes it is the man who makes the girl's reputation and not she herself. If a few more of you were like, and had as broad a view of things, as the "Patent Leather Boys" the world would go around much more greenly. would go around much more smoothly.

"Sir Hector." I don't have to wear fancy hosiery to attract atention to my limbs; they are good looking enough without them. You are wrong about my doing the Scandai Walk. I don't. I have a little creation all my own. Quite simple to get on to, but appears very tricky to onlookers. My power to interest is not artificial, either, it is perfectly natural. And, D. I. C., I go to just gobs of frat their high standards, in spite of being attractive and well educated. What is dances with young men who come from the best of families. Their mothers think me giddy at times, but like me to be What would you do in a situation with their sons because I am so frank.

Some time ago you had a business looking girl had no brains. That is impossible. A girl could not be good-look. disagreement with a man who has since, you have reason to believe, a poor opinion of you. It may not have been your fault, but from any point of view have and an excuse to suspect you of not having been fair. Now the situation have noticed that he crosses a "t" with an upward slanting stroke. You are going to see him and try to sell him.

What factics shall you pursue? Shall

WHAT'S WHAT

She had cut her finger, and consequently had had to protect it afterward with adhesive plaster. But, the next day, when she found it was mending well enough to leave this off, she rubbed in vain with soap and water, trying to remove the marks of the stickiness. Funny how there's always a kind friend who comes along with a suggestion, isn't it? But it was rather nice in this case, because all she had to do was to apply a speck of turpentine, and there was a perfectly clean finger.

EASY TO UNDERSTAND RADIO It's simple as A B C. There's nothing simicult about it. Proye it yourself by read in Herry M. Neeiy's daily radio articles, entitled Radio in the Home. Neely is an appearance of the substant in the substant for the substant in the substant for a cupful of that Louisiana frence of the substant in the substant for a cupful of that Louisiana frence of the substant in the substant for a cupful of that Louisiana frence of the substant in the substant in the substant for the substant in the substant for a cupful of that Louisiana French coffee!) Western and Southern hospitality is more pronounced than its North-easiery equivalent, even at this date, so that there is a freshment rule which poles with equal force to all sections.

Yes, the charming actress, voted by not affect the color of the hair. artist and layman the most beautiful specting her hair dresser's claim, the surprise party for mother on her birthgirl in the world, has her own little hair troubles too.

The charmong actress, voted by not affect the color of the hair. Renight, and how they were parting a specting her hair dresser's claim, the surprise party for mother on her birthtone of her hair and is healthful.

Gradually the truth began to come

To begin with, her hair is of that To begin with, her hair is of that extremely fine texture that requires hair than to wash it," says the beauty, more attention by reason of its wilkiness. It is not of great length, coming a little below the shoulder blades, but growing quite abundantly from out her scalp. It is quite without natural curl, much to the beauty's great sorrow, for therein lies most of her troubles of colffus. She has to have it less consistently regular scalp massage.

"It actually takes longer to dry my to the closest daughter work and her friends meant more to work and her friends meant more to her than her home.

"It actually takes longer to dry my to the closest daughter work and her friends meant more to her than her home.

And at last she wrote the family the news that they had known would come news that they had known would come sooner or later.

"I've got to come home. I can't stand it alone any longer."

WHAT a lot of trouble we do give and consistently regular scalp massage.

an additional brushing before it goes of the back and pins that pretty well are all a man should be. They each have a college education and each is morally fine. I do not know if they have told each other that they have "popped the question," but I do not believe they have. I have given each one two months to wait for an answer, and the two months of the first boy will have ended on May 20. What am I to do? Oh, that it were possible for a woman to have many husbands. Why is there not a state like Utah, where a woman can have as many men as she loves? P. I. GEE her head is immersed in a bowl of warm water—not hot. A lather is produced by reducing a white soap to liquid, pouring it over the hair and into the scalp, and rubbing. Three different lathers and rinsings are indulged in then a spraying with lukewarm water. lathers and rinsings are indulged in then a spraying with lukewarm water is given, and a final rinse in a weak solution of white vinegar. This, she believes, provides fluffiness and luster. The final rinse with every fourth part of the head until it assumes just the view of a different part of the head until it assumes just the view of height and line here. shampoo is of a different nature. The the right degree of height and line behair dresser buys henna leaves in fore the net is put over it: It may whole quantity, a handful of which sound much more complicated than the she adds to a big pail of water, steeps procedure really is, and the success of them lacking in those attributes desirable in a hus-

and and father. Girls, also, seem to them rather fresh" and bra-gen in their cater.

ing frankly to these ideal - less fellows.

They-the two sis-

HARPER COOLEY ters, aged twenty and twenty-two respectively-find that they are lonely and forlorn, because of the matter? Do girls demand too much found in the Northwest. Where are they? We are modest girls, but we see no harm in seeking fine characters elsewhere, as modern crowded city conditions preclude girls finding such in the big, selfish cities. You cannot imagine the loneliness and stupidity of the average girl's life, when she holds herself aloof from the cheap, gay men."

This fine, frank letter shows a great change in womankind. There certhinly is something new under the sun! Girls are new. A few years ago, in the days of our grandmothers or even of our mothers, girls would have died rather than admit freely and simply that they wanted male companionship and love. But why should not woman seek a mate? It is beautiful and nat-

THE problem of finding good husbands is indeed a serious one, and an outsider is at a loss to advise. Theoretically, one knows of the needs of the thousands of Western men for wives—but how are Eastern girls to meet them? It is doubtless true that there is a certain real breadth and a

There's where the West begins.

WINIFRED

TWO young girls write me that they Where there's more of giving and less of buying. And a man makes friends without half disgusted with modern men. Evidently the fast, There's where the West begins!" dissipated, the ma-terialistic young men whom they find in modern metro-politan life seem to

ONE can only wonder if the modern girl, equipped with a business or a profession, would not be wise to become a feminine knight errant, and go forth into the broad prairies, seeking a legiti-mate, wholesome Western existence. finding friends and work, as seems nor-mal, rather than to die of dry rot in the stiffing Eastern cities, perhaps in idleness, attending tens and matinees? Such a break from one's old environ-ment involves initiative, and some risk -but the faring forth into the un-known would have its advantages, and be a great broadener and developer o

French Costume of Beige Crepe and Black Moire

warm-hearted generosity in the people of the mountain and plain. A poem expresses this rather charmingly:
"Out where the skies are a trifle bluer, expresses this rather charmingly:

"Out where the skies are a triffe bluer, Out where friendship's a little truer.

There's where the West begins.
Out where a fresher breeze is blowing.
Where there's laughter in every the fact from the drawing itself hear the description.

the description.

The mainland of this costume is composed of sand colored crepe de chine, Where there's more of reaping and less There's where the West begins.

"Out where the world is in the making.
Where fewer hearts in despair are aching.

West begins.

"Out where the world is in the making.
Where fewer hearts in despair are aching.

The Oldest Daughter Chose the Way That She Thought Would Be the Easiest

But It Wasn't Long Before She Found, Like Everybody Else Who Tries This, That It Was Even Harder Than the Other Way

WHEN the family moved away to another city, the oldest daughter decided that her good position and her friends meant too much to her to be "Well, if you people move away. I won't go with you. No, sir, I'll stay,

So she stayed behind, took a room in a boarding house and held on to her and go to work," we may have said.

Her friends were very nice to her, but, after all, there was no change in her condition as far as they were concerned, and it wasn't long before things went back to their old casual state

And then she began to realize what she had done.

She couldn't expect people to treat her as a guest always, and yet when it just happened that there were no parties to go to in the evening, and no friends chanced to drop in, why, she was the loneliest person in the world! Whenever she happened to pass the old house where the family had been so happy together she felt as if she were alone in the world. Even letters from the new home didn't cheer her up as they should have; they only made her realize more keenly the distance between her and the family, the difference between a room in a boarding house and a room in her own

BEFORE long even the good position began to pall.

The people in the office didn't seem to care whether she was unhappy or not;
they just went heartlessly on telling her about what fun they had at home last night, and how they were planning a surprise party for mother on her birth-

one of her hair and is healthful.

"It actually takes longer to dry my to the older daughter who thought her to the older friends meant more to work and her friends meant more to

WHAT a lot of trouble we do give ourselves just because we cling so hard to an idea of our own! Sometimes I think it is more the de-

Can You Tell? By R. J. and A. W. Bodmer

What Makes Us Hungry Have you ever wondered what causes the hungry feeling, and the thing we know as hunger pains? When this happens the stomach is having peristaltic or "worm-like" contractions. These movements or contractions are not at all similar to the muscular contractions which take place in the stomach when food is going through the process of digestion. The contractions of the stom-ach during the process of digestion are comparatively slow, but when the stomach is empty these movements or contractions are stronger, and after a little time become so severe that we become quite conscious of them.

ing we have is one of hunger.

If these contractions increase in severity, as they will if we do not supply the stomach with food, we notice a feeling of pain. This is caused by the contraction of the "pylorus"—the lower and right opening of the stomach leading to the small intestine. As a rule these hunger pains are felt three or four hours after eating, and disappear very quickly when food is taken. Hunger quickly when food is taken. Hunger pains are sometimes felt early in the morning, but are more apt to be felt at later hours in the day.

time without eating.
The lower and right opening of the stomach, called the "pylorus," from 2500 to 3000 contractions during the digesting of a meal. These contractions begin just as soon as the liquefied particles of food reach this part of the stomach. Hunger pains can be stopped immediately by drinking water, or taking acid or sugar into the mouth.

Comorrow-Why Does Blue Serge Look

GOLDEN SYRUP The popular flavor of sweet sugar cane is always appreciated.

Refining Company

"A Franklin Cane Sayar for every use"

Granulated, Dainty Lumps, Powdered, Confectioners, Brown, Golden Syrup

To the Editor of Women's Page;

Dear Madam—Through neglect wors a dark brown tricotine dress without shields. Now I find that under the arms of the dress the material has turned sort of white. Would you please be so kind as to let me know through your very helpful column if there is anything I can do to remedy this?

The Egg Shampoo

To the Editor of Woman's Page:

Dear Madam—Will you please tell me how to wash the hair with an egg. How should one do this using only one egg! Is there any result when using the one egg? Should the white be separated from the yolk?

A READER

remember that threat which everybody e'se has forgotten and think that we must live up to it.

IT WOULD be so much easier to live I and move and have our being if we always did what we know is right, instend of trying to do something else and pretend that we think it right.

Half the time we chest our the policy of the special service of the egg form into white particles.

pretend that we think it right.

Half the time we cheat our consciences by making believe that we have interpreted their warnings, when all the time we know we are just putting our hands over their mouths and going on regardless of them.

The oldest daughter must have known that she should have gone with the family, to help them get settled, to break in the new home, to get acquainted with the new neighbors along with the rest of them.

But she was established there in the old home town, she had her friends and her position all made.

It was the easiest thing to do!
And how often we choose that in a weak moment, only to find it harder than anything we ever dreamed of.

For the Teeth

To the Editor of Woman's Page:

Dear Madam—I would like to know what would whiten yellow teeth. I have very yellow teeth and have tried different tooth pastes. What is the best one for the teeth, which will clean them without hurting them?

Can you please tell me the meaning of the following pames? Sarah, Natalle, Dorothy, Helen and Fannie? S. D. F.

If you use prepared chalk on your teeth it will whiten them considerably. You may buy this at any drug store, where they will also recommend to you a good tooth paste.

The meaning of Sarah is a princes.

The meaning of Sarah is a princes.

The meaning of Sarah is a princes.

The meaning of Natalle?

Cotton Wash Goods

Sale Extraordinary Less than wholesale costs—values up to 45c yd. A wonderful opportunity to secure these splendid summer materials just in time for spring sewing. Mostly remnant lengths but large enough for a dress or apron pattern, and the price alone will clean them out quickly, better come early.

Included are: Voiles, Ginghams. Chambrays, Muslins, Domet Flannels, Ripplettes, Outings, Eden Cloths, Romper Cloths, Cheviots and Percales for Shirts and Dresses.

No Mail or Phone Orders on These W. H. SMITH & SONS, 914 Walnut St.

Philadelphia Atlantic City Wilmington

"MILLARDS" The Shops of Sensible Prices

For Clearance!

Tweed Cape and Dress Costumes

Tweed Sports Suits Man-tailored and Silk-lined

A Few Cape Suits

These values are below cost for final clearance

127 S. 13th St.

PHILADELPHIA AND

Chestnut St. Breadwalk Shop-Atlantic City-Brighton Block

ASCO

ASCO

1337

The "Good Morning" Cup

There is nothing better to help one start the day right than a good cup of coffee. It is a mental stimulus, a disseminator of optimism. It dispels the morning frown and leaves in its place the smile that breeds accomplishment—the cheerfulness that really makes the morning a "good morning."

But, of course, it must be good coffee. Asco Coffee has a rich full flavor, a fragrant aroma—a most delicious quality of satisfaction that can't fail to put one in a better frame of mind.

And Asco Coffee is always the samethe same high-grade coffees—the same careful blend—the same unvarying roast. Try a cup-you'll learn what good coffee really means.

"You'll taste the difference!"

Sold in Asco Stores only, all over Philadelphia, and throughout Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland