THE season of conserving the fruits is very short, and the housewife who is anxious to conserve them for minter supply will need to start at once nd look over the equipment she has a hand. This will prevent failure and of materials as well as time. For successful results in counting plan ripe, rather than full-ripe.

Canned Strawberries Without Sugar

If you have never tried this method by all means put up a few jars in this manner. In my personal opinion they are most delicious this way. Select inge ripe berries and wash in plenty of cool water to remove the sand, turn on eloth to dry, then stem, stemming bemer washing causes a part of the flavor and juice to escape in the water.

Place three quarts of strawberries in preserving kettle and add one cup of boiling water. Cover closely and cook for ten minutes. Fill into jars filling the jars full, adjust subber and lid and then partially tighten the lid. Place in het water bath and process for twentyfive minutes. Counting the time from the minute the water in the water bath starts boiling rapidly. When time limit expires lift jars promptly from the bath and fasten securely, now turn upside down and test for leaks. When cold dip the tops of the jars so as to cover the seam between the jar and the lid, well in melted parawax.

Cook slowly until the fruit is very soft, now rub through a fine sleve to remove the seeds, measure the pulp and return to the preserving kettle and add

Two-thirds cup of sugar for every cup of the pulp.

Bitr to dissolve the sugar and bring slowly to a boil, now add
One-half package of seedless raisins, One-quarter cup of preserved pinger, cut in small bits,
One-half cup of candied cherries cut in they pieces.

Simmer slowly and cook until thick like jam, about 220 degrees Fahrenheit

Strawberry Fruit Juica Wash the berries and stem, place in the preserving kettle and add one quart the preserving kettle and add one quart of water to every three quarts of berries. Crush with a wire potato masher and heat slowly to boiling point. Cook for ten minutes and then turn in jelly bag and let the juice drip through; if not clear and sparkling filter; then place in the preserving kettle measuring the juice first. To every quart of the prepared juices add

One cup of sugar.

Stir to dissolve and bring to boil, cook for five minutes, skim and fill while hot into sterilized bottles. Place bottles in the preserving kettle and fill with cold water, having the water up to the necks of the bottles, bring to boiling point and keep boiling for twenty minutes. Now seal each bottle just as you remaye it from the water bath. When cold dip the tops of the bottles in melted parafin, covering the scam between the bottle and the cork.

Store in cool dry place. This makes a very refreshing beverage if used in the same manner as grape and other fruit juices.

A Short Visit With a Lasting Memory

"I never know what to make for dessert when the maid's away." said Mrs. Martin as sive glanced at the clock and put aside her sewing. "Let me get it for you." said Mrs. Blair, who was visiting her for a few days. "I'd love to do it." Dinner time came and Mrs. Blair who had insisted on making the dessert with utmost secrecy, left the table and returned with a rich brown chocolate blanc mange.

chocolate blanc mange.

"Tastes even better than it looks," said Mrs. Martin delightedly. "How did you make it?"

"Why, it's Puddine," replied Mrs. Blair mysteriously, "wonderful puddine.
"I insist upon knowing all about ful puddine.

"I insist upon knewing all about it. Where did you get it and what is it?" laughed her friend.

"I'll tell you. I slipped out and got it at your grocer's," said Mrs. Blair. "Jack loves cornstarch pudding, and if there was one thing I couldn't make it was cornstarch pudding or blane mange. Then I heard of Puddine."

"Is it hard to make, or expensive?" interrupted Mrs. Martin.

"Oh. no. indeed. All you have to do is to add milk, either fresh or condensed; and sugar and boil for three minutes. Then when it's cool you have a firm, rich mound of delicious, creamy dessert. And a 15c box of Puddine will serve 15 people, or a 10c box seven people."

propie, or a 10c box seven people."

"The only thing is." objected.

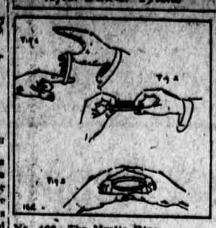

Mrs. Martin. "the children are not so fond of chocolate, and I guess it's really too rich for them anyhow."

"Oh, no," exclaimed Mrs. Blair.

"It isn't too rich. Why, it's so pure and wholesome you can let them have as much as they want—and it comes in any number of flavors—rose vanilla. orange, lemon—and you can make all sorts of things with Puddine—creamy cake and ple fillings and smooth ice cream."

"That being the case." smiled Mr. Martin, who had listened to their conversation with interest. I rote for Puddine. It certainly is good."

The illustrations explain the movements. From Fig. 1 the hands take the position of Fig. 2. The ring is then held quite firmly. Still holding the position, the clus of the foreingers and the ends of the thumbs are brought together. They are then opened as in Fig. 3 and the ring falls free. If the trick is done rapidly no one will be able to follow the movements and you will have freed the ring without spreading your fingers apart.

A Summerland World of Fresh New Frocks Unfolds With Mid-May

New ginghams, with an air of sunshine and whole-someness, have popped up by the hundred—small checks, club checks and two-tone checks. Some are in straight-line style with narrow belts; others have wide sashes of organdie. Red, green, navy, Copenhagen, brown, lavender and black-and-white among them. Sizes 14 to 44 at $2.50, $8, $4 to $8.

Hundreds of Summery Silks Printed crepes are as cool as dresses can be. Crepes de chine and Canton crepes are made in scores of charming ways. And what is softer than a frock of Georgette crepe? A wide choice in the serviceable navy blue and delightful things in flesh pink, white, beige, silver gray and periwinkle blue. $10, $11.25, $15 to $25.

Gingham, 18c Yard

In checks, stripes, plain colors and some two-tone checks. 26 inches wide. A good quality for children's bloomer dresses, aprons, etc.

Percale, 22c Shirting stripes and small figures on white grounds-36

Printed Batiste, 25c Sheer material printed in small allover designs, many of them so well covered that one would, at a little distance, take this for plain-color material. 30 inches wide.

Sale of Bungalow Frocks

Gingham and percale frocks in a charming slip-over style are gathered onto wide belts in front with loose sash ends in back, so that you can tie them to fit. The materials are excellent quality that will launder well and are in cheery plaids and checks in practically all colors. Another style (sketched) has two little sashes which tie at the sides.

White Bungalow Frocks, $1

Women's Exquisitely Fine Soft Nightgowns, $1.50

These are low in price, but their greatest appeal to women of discriminating tastes is their soft daintiness. The round necks and sleeves of fine white batiste nightgowns are bound with dotted batiste in blue, rose or orchid.

Pink batiste nightgowns are finished with floss picoting and bows

Nightgowns of pink, lavender or blue batiste have bindings of striped volle around the square necks and the sleeves.

All-Wool Trousers of Hard-Finished Worsteds $6.75

Marked at this low price because a maker bought short ends of some fine hard-finished worsted and made them up especially for us in the good Wanamaker way. Do not confuse these with the ordinary worsted or cheviot trousers at this price; they are not to be compared. Hard-finished worsted is about the most durable material used in men's clothes, and trousers made of it should wear like iron.

You will find them in black with fine white stripes, blues and various other dark mixtures. All regular sizes. (Gallery, Market)

Belts Are More Varied Than Ever-

at 50c

Black, pink, blue, tan, green, white, brown, gray—a belt for every sweater. It seems that they are all here and leathers and fin-ishes are almost as varied. Some are plain, some are perforated and many have pretty pearl-like buckles. New white belts of patent leather or kid are especially desirable for Summer sweaters.
