

WOMEN SEEK HONOR IN PRIMARY

Three in Philadelphia Are Certain to Obtain Nominations for Assembly

OTHERS IN HARD RACES

Tomorrow's a big day for the women! The Pinchot-Alice contest isn't the only one of interest to them, they are "down" to the wire. They're wondering just how many of that "hopeful half hundred" of their own sex are going to be successful in their political fights. It's not the first gubernatorial fight Ed Vore, Larry Eyring and the rest of the combine leaders by a long shot. It is for the women, and according to their leaders, they are "all down" with the responsibility. The Legislature has the call among them. Just why that office holds such a strong fascination for the feminine animals is a mystery. Nevertheless, nearly four of the fifty-one want seats in the House. And eighteen of the forty-four are from this city. Twenty-three of the number who filed their petitions at Harrisburg are Republicans, twelve are Democrats, six are Prohibitionists. One woman, Mrs. Rachel C. Robinson of Wilkesburg, is a candidate on the Prohibition ticket for United States Senator. Four—Mrs. Ellen Duane Davis and Dr. Helen Murphy, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Blanche L. Davenport, of New Jersey; and Miss Jane E. Leonard, of Indiana, are candidates for Congress. Charlotte McFarlane, of Philadelphia, is a candidate for the State Senate, while Miss Ella Beomall, of Harrisburg, a Prohibitionist, aspires to be Secretary of Internal Affairs. Among the forty-four candidates for the Legislature are some of the most prominent women in the State. Miss Martha G. Thomas, of Whitehall, is treasurer of the Pennsylvania League of Women Voters and chairman of the Chester County League of Women Voters. During the war she organized and was chairman of 124 twenty-six organizations connected with the women's committee of the Council of National Defense. Miss Helen Grimes, of Knoxville, Allegheny County, formerly was president of the Congress of Women's Clubs of Western Pennsylvania. Miss Gertrude McKinney, of Butler County, is a member of the State Board of the Federation of Pennsylvania Women. Among the Democratic candidates in West Chester, vice chairman of the Democratic Party of Pennsylvania in 1921, and a member of the Committee of Seventy-two which drew up the Democratic harmony State ticket. Mrs. Rosa E. Hagerman, of Bradford County, an active worker for suffrage; Miss Sarah M. Gallagher, principal of Ebersburg High School, Cambria County; Miss Edith M. Stein, of Tamaqua, vice chairman of the Schuylkill League of Women Voters; Mrs. Annie Miller Mitchell, of Swarthmore, field secretary of the Republican State Committee; Mrs. Mary L. Worrell, of Boothwyn, Delaware County, an active worker in the Children's Aid Society; Mrs. Florence M. Dornblaser, former school visitor in Philadelphia, and Mrs. Minnie Stewart Just, legislative chairman of the Federated Clubs of Montgomery County, are some of the other women legislative aspirants with State-wide reputations. Several of these women have splendid chances to be nominated, while the others, of course, will get only experience as their reward. Three Philadelphia candidates are practically certain to sit in the Legislature when it convenes next year. They are Mrs. Martha G. Thomas, First District, wife of an Assistant District Attorney; Mrs. Rosa E. De Young, Seventeenth District, and Mrs. Lillie H. Pitts, Twenty-first District. All have the support of Senator Vore. Woman Denies Withdrawal Mrs. Mary L. Morrell, of Delaware County, a candidate for the Legislature, denied emphatically today rumors that she had withdrawn from the race. "These reports are untrue, and were put out by some of those opposing me to bring about my defeat," she said. Mrs. Morrell said she favors the direct primary and full support of the prohibition amendment.

A valuable new office handbook

—a yardstick for measuring the right grade of bond paper for each business need

LETTERHEADS and office forms to be ordered! Several hundred papers from which to choose! Which one combines the necessary longevity, opacity and weight—with the lowest cost? Typewriter papers! Which will best stand erasure, make the best carbons—at a price? In almost every business organization, expensive papers are being used where quality is least necessary. Important letterheads, by which the whole prestige and standing of a firm are often judged, are on cheap stock. Permanent records are yellowing and crumbling away. In every department, the usual care in buying is lacking when it comes to paper. Yet there are many concerns whose annual paper purchases run into the tens of thousands of dollars. A book that solves the problem. In the past, the thousands of overlapping brands and grades of paper on the market have made intelligent paper buying almost impossible—even for an expert. No one manufacturer has made a full well-balanced range—a paper for every need. Today, out of this chaos has come what is being seized upon as the first definite measure for paper content and value—the first guide in buying. The whole long list has been boiled down into a master line of nine papers—the Eagle-A Specification Bonds. Every real difference in grade! Every price level! Every necessary weight, color and size! Showing which of these nine papers should be used for each business need, a remarkable new book has been prepared. This book, pictured above, is called "The Correct Use of Bond Papers for Business Purposes." It analyzes, in ready reference form, the qualities a paper must have for each business need—each type of letterhead, each office or factory form, each kind of direct-by-mail matter. In a tenth of the time—with the assurance you are getting the one right paper—with the knowledge that large scale production has given you the best value—your paper selection is made. START today to work with your Printer, Lithographer, Stationer or Engraver in putting your paper buying on a sound basis. He has already demanded an intelligent standard for selection. Get his advice on specifying the right Eagle-A Bond for each requirement. Call him up today and ask him to send you a copy of the book. It will open your eyes to wastes and inefficiencies which perhaps you never before realized. AMERICAN WRITING PAPER COMPANY The Paper Service Manufacturing Institution Holyoke, Mass.
