

BALTIMORE MARBLE SHARP DROPS CLOAK OF SECRECY

Frank McQuade Shines Up His "Steelies," Looks Up Philadelphia on Map and Is Ready for Championship Bout Saturday

By a Staff Correspondent

Baltimore, May 17.—The identity of Baltimore's demon marble shot who will oppose the Philadelphia champion in that city next Saturday has been discovered.

He is Frankie McQuade, of 2041 North Washington street, and he comes of a marble-shooting family.

Not only does Frankie possess all the other Baltimore qualities in skill, but his father, Frank J. McQuade, was a deadly shot before him, and his four-year-old brother Morrison already gives promise of following in his footsteps.

Frankie is twelve years old. He has a calm, luminous brown eye; a clear, tanned skin and white teeth.

He conveys the impression, in short, of being a cool and determined opponent, and one not to be regarded lightly by any foe.

"I'm not saying I'll win," he remarked, "but I intend to hazard a contest on the outcome of my Saturday day's match. That I'll try as hard as I can."

This statement will indeed have an effect on those accustomed to the just-before-the-bell approach of boxers and candidates for public office.

His present position among marble shooters of this city was won through a series of decisive victories in the recent contest which ended Saturday. Since that time he has been preparing himself for new words to conquer.

Frankie, who is known at Public School No. 59 as Frank J. McQuade Jr., is unlike all other champions, past, present and future, in that he has no pet weapon, tool or instrument necessary to his best performance.

"It doesn't make any difference to me," he says. "Why, last Saturday I shot all the time with a bullet I picked up on the street."

Needless to say, this insurance in the face of a great champion is doubly dangerous to his Philadelphia opponents, who are thus robbed of the slight advantage which might accrue through his leaving his pet shooter at home.

"I have never been in Philadelphia," he said, "but I'm glad I'm going. They say you have an awfully good time there," and he smiled a rare smile, displaying his unusually white teeth.

A Frankie's express companion, his parents will not accompany him to Philadelphia, due to his fear that their presence will affect his nerve. They will get early returns on the outcome of the contest, however, through the courtesy of the long-time judges.

Frankie is a knuckle shooter entirely, never bringing his thumb-nail into play under any circumstances.

"That's a no way to shoot," he said scornfully with reference to the latter method, but all efforts at a further elucidation of the underlying causes were futile.

However, having won a silver cup by sticking to his principles, it may be assumed that they are sound. Just how they will fare when pitted against the Philadelphia technique remains to be seen.

MAN HELD IN SHOOTING

Charged With Wounding of Watchman at 1429 South 51st Street

John Borsini, twenty-four years old, of Detroit, was held without bail for court by Magistrate Egan today, charged with having shot John Sloan, a watchman, of 1429 South 51st street, March 25. Sloan had not recovered sufficiently to appear at the hearing.

It was testified that Sloan had seen two men acting suspiciously about the Church of St. Francis de Sales, at Forty-seventh street and Springfield avenue, and gave chase. Shots were exchanged and Sloan was hit. Later Sergeant Murphy and Detective Hartman, of the Pennsylvania Railroad police, and a private detective, both on the railroad yard, followed them being brought down by Joseph Perrell, of 117 West Penn street, a social employee, who was himself shot. Sergeant Murphy and Perrell testified today.

CHILDREN TO GIVE TABLEAUX

A fashion show which will have a $10,000 gown made in Chicago as one of its features and tableaux by children will be part of the program tomorrow of the Maritime Museum Club's May festival at the Bellevue-Stratford.

Youngsters well known in the moving picture world will take part in a program which will precede the fashion show. Some of the children are: Clark, Betty Clark, Billie Compton, Mildred Ryan and Marie Black.

Dancing numbers by members of the Mask and Wig, and side show attractions without number also are promised. The festival will run from noon to midnight. The proceeds are for the Philadelphia Marine Club.

Window-Smashers Rob Store

The show window of the shirt store of David Podowsky, at 970 North Second street, was smashed early this morning and all the shirts on display were stolen.
